A. F. L. CALLED 'RACKET' BY WEIRTON MEN

'Conscience Fund' Urged on McNair

MRS. MASSIE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Today

Cato in a Rolls Royce.
Europe's Lost Cow.
Beauty in the Future.
Via the Electric Chair.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ONCE MORE consider that one million dollar home for an ambassador that the United States has decided to build in Moscow. Is the plan to convince Russians that they are right when they call us a capitalistic nation, squandering money that might be used wisely?

Does anybody imagine that common sense Russia will be "impressed" by a big million dollar American embassy, and a small American ambassador rattling around in it?

Wouldn't Uncle Sam inspire more respect if he had his ambassadors live simply, as though they came from a republic, not from the Ahkoond of Swat?

WHEN VISITORS found the distinguished Roman busy with his plow they respected him more than they would have done had they found him reclining on the rear seat of a Rolls Royce (excuse the anachronism).

YOU REMEMBER the sad poem about a poor Scotch family, which laments "Our cow was stolen awa'." Cow gone, no more milk.

Friends in Europe know how the cowless family felt as they read news from America that nations that have turned welchers on American war debts will not be allowed to borrow in this country, either from the government or any private individual, while they remain in default.

Europe feels that her financial cow is "stolen awa'" with a vengeance.

AN ARTIST specializing in beautiful women, asked what beautiful women of the future will be like, says:

"No woman ever will see herself as she actually is."

Also, they all "want to look like somebody else." This probably accounts for the queer things they do, from one generation to another.

THE BEAUTIFUL woman of the future will be like the beautiful woman in the days of Phidias. You may see her standing alone in the large room reserved for her in the Louvre. She is a magnificent woman, of great dignity, fine forehead, strong, round neck, substantial from head to foot. She is well adapted to producing fine children, and improving the human race, which is woman's important job, with the task of keeping some unimportant husband in order as a side issue.

EARLY ON Wednesday morning three young Negroes were killed in the electric chair in Tennessee's state penitentiary. One confessed his crime. The others, accused of a similar crime, plus robbing and shooting a young woman's escort, denied their guilt to the last.

What impression did the three young black men create at their next stopping place after leaving the electric chair? Were they questioned by spirits, meeting them on their arrival?

Did they give details about shaving the hair from the head, baring the calf of the leg to receive the wet electrodes, permitting the current to enter the brain and leave through the leg?

Did the reception committee, if there was one, wonder what sort of beings live on the earth? Did the three men really go to infernal regions, to endure throughout all eternity tortures more horrible than any the electric chair could inflict?

IMPORTANT TO our industries and export trade is news that Russia and Japan are monopolizing markets in Uruguay, and spreading out, with goods at low prices, in South America generally.

To carry out our new era ideas, we shall have to make ourselves independent of the outside world and its markets. We can't compete with Japan or Russia on any basis of seven hours a day, five days a week, plus laws to discourage labor-saving devices.

Japan, for instance, will sell in Uruguay electric light blubs at one-third the price charged in this country, or less.

IN MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay's city of 600,000 inhabitants, Russia has established an agency selling Russian oil, lumber, industrial products, and buying from Uruguay hides and wool.

Japan has a Montevideo chamber of commerce, "with a secretary speaking perfect Spanish." That chamber is booming Japanese exports and imports.

Uruguayans use Russian gasoline in automobiles, Russian lumber in buildings, while Russians wear shoes made of hides, clothing made of wool from Uruguay. Our trade has dwindled away in that market where until four years ago the United States dominated everything.

SEVENTEEN STATES now permit "nudist camps," in which ladies and gentlemen may sit around naked, and feel proud, forgetting that their alleged monkey ancestors did the same 10,000,000 years ago, but had the decency to wear fur.

Nudist nonsense reminds you of Sancho Panza's remark:

"Everyone is as God made him, and sometimes worse."

SPAIN ABOLISHED the death penalty after the revolution, but now restores it, a step back toward barbarism. It decides to use the guillotine, which cuts off heads neatly, almost painlessly, instead of the garrotte, a dreadful machine that crushes the vertebrae of the criminal's neck. That, presumably, is a step toward civilization.

HITLER ROLE FOR GREEN FEARED BY MILL UNION

Attack on Federation Startles Senators at Labor Bill Hearing

By JOHN P. COWAN
Sun-Telegraph Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Declaring that the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is a racket, and that the National Labor Board abetted the American Federation of Labor in coercing workers to join the union, J. F. Madden, employe representative of the Weirton Steel Company today presented startling testimony at the Senate Labor Committee hearing on the Wagner labor bill.

Senator David I. Walsh (Dem.), of Massachusetts, announced that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, would testify before the committee on Monday.

In his statement, which caused Senators to listen aghast, Madden gave a circumstantial account of the organization of the strike at Weirton last September, and charged Labor Board officials and A. F. L. representatives with breaking down the morale of more than 9,000 contented workers.

Madden told of his appearance before the Labor Board December 7, 1933, saying:

"Anyone who appears before that board who is not a member of the A. F. L. is 90 per cent licked before he goes there.

"Senator Wagner and President Green, of the A. F. L., had the whole thing cut and dried for us. Are you gentlemen in Congress going to sit back and be satisfied to have Senator Wagner set Mr. Green up as another Hitler?

"All we ask is to be allowed to work out our own plans, and we will be able to settle all of our arguments in a peaceful way without the grief and suffering resulting from strikes."

'RACKET' CHARGE

Madden declared:

"The Amalgamated Association is a racket, the American Federation of Labor is a racket, the United Mine Workers is a racket, in fact they are all racketeers playing on the poor laboring man as a sucker for their living.

"They go further—they play the Congress that they may

BOMB HITS CAR OF MARTY RYAN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 6.—A bomb was thrown at the automobile of Martin Ryan, union leader, at 1:25 a. m., today.

The bomb damaged the car, parked near the home of C. L. Ruse, in Redstone Township, near Brownsville, with whom Ryan was staying overnight.

Ryan was awakened from sleep by the explosion and, with Ruse, rushed to the street in time to see another car drive away.

Windows in the Ruse home were shattered.

State police are investigating.

Meanwhile, 50 miners employed by the H. C. Frick Coke Company at Colonial No. 4 mine, Grindstone, Ryan's home town, have gone on strike.

One hundred miners at Colonial No. 1, at Smock, are also out and pickets at both mines are attempting to bring the entire forces of approximately 1,000 men into the strike.

William Hynes, president of District No. 4 United Mine Workers of America, declared today that the Frick Company has rejected the application of some miners for reinstatement at Grindstone.

Seeking Divorce

JANE ZACHARIAS BAIR

GIRL BROKER ASKS DIVORCE

Versatile Jane Zacharias, of the Schenley Apartments, today appeared in a new role—that of an attractive young woman who wants a divorce.

In Divorce Court she testified that her husband, John C. Bair, Jr., drank to excess, threw things around the kitchen and:

"When we had guests he refused to stay in the living room with them. He would stay in the kitchen . . . He told me to get out and stay out."

They were married March 24, 1932, after a romance which flourished while they were promoting intercollegiate dances. In fact, once Robert C. Gordon tried—and failed—to restrain them from conducting the annual Christmas ball, contending he had been ignored as a partner.

Mrs. Bair as Miss Zacharias is a director of the Brackenridge Brewing Company. A few months ago she almost became the only woman member of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange. But she withdrew her application when the question of admitting a woman became an issue.

Her Fast Ignored, Woman Eats Again

CHEYENNE, Mont., April 6.—(AP.)—Anna Barr, 44, who got no attention from authorities when she started a hunger strike in jail, has decided to eat again. She is held for investigation in a Mann act case.

Chief of Police T. Joe Cahill followed a-leave-it-alone policy when the strike was called a week ago Monday, and county officers agreed with him.

Machine Guns Face Minnesota Jobless

MINNEAPOLIS, April 6.—(AP.)—Machine guns were mounted near the entrance of the city hall and courthouse today as authorities strove to restore order among 3,000 unemployed.

Four police and a woman were injured, none seriously.

Myron C. Taylors Sail for Europe

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, sailed for Europe today.

GOV. PINCHOT GIVES M'NAIR PAY 'HINT'

Tells Mayor to Use 'Conscience Fund' For Rebates

Gov. Pinchot today suggested that Mayor McNair pay part of his $15,000 salary into a "conscience fund" if unable to have his pay check cut legally.

The Governor's letter to the Mayor was in reply to a suggestion by the latter that all candidates for Governor agree to accept a cut before election, to avoid legal barriers to accepting a reduction after taking office. He also urged slashing pay of other state officials.

Pinchot's reply follows:

"Dear Mayor McNair:

"Thank you very much for your courteous letter about the salaries of state officials.

"Your failure in your earnest effort to have your own salary cut meets with my deepest sympathy.

"Personally I have had no trouble in cutting my own salary in spite of legal limitations.

"Perhaps you could induce your City Treasurer to establish a conscience fund and you could make regular contributions out of your salary.

"With all good wishes,
"Sincerely yours,
"GIFFORD PINCHOT."

McNair commented:

"Pinchot is like Council. He thinks it is a great thing to refund part of his salary. It's like a bandit who takes $10,000 away from you and gives $1,000 back.

"The state takes money off poor widows by the inheritance tax and pays it to that bunch of loafers at Harrisburg. The top salary of state officials should be $10,000 from the Governor down."

KOUSSEVITZKY HALTS PANIC

International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 6. — Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, was receiving a hero's plaudits today.

The famous conductor halted an incipient panic last night when smoke suddenly filled the auditorium of Carnegie Hall, where more than 2,000 persons had gathered for the final evening concert of the season.

The smoke came from an incinerator chute on the south side of the building which had become choked with smoldering refuse.

The smoke drifted into the auditorium in swirling eddies during the intermission and several women uttered shrieks while numerous other persons began to leave their seats.

Koussevitzky, observing the tenseness of the audience, strode to the center of the stage and then shouted roughly:

"Sit down, everything is all right."

A moment later he swung briskly around and signalled the musicians to start playing.

The audience immediately relaxed and sat calmly throughout the remainder of the concert.

SCHWARTZ, MRS. GARAVINI IN ACCIDENT

Crash Bares Reunion Of Hacker's Widow And Iggy

The boys who were betting 10 to 7 that Iggy, the gambler, and the red-haired woman would kiss and make up can drop around to the cigar store today and collect.

The dapper Mister Iggy Schwartz and the eye-filling Widow Garavini are not only seeing each other these days, but they were in an auto accident together last night. This is making up with a vengeance.

CRASH ON BOULEVARD

The red-haired woman became the Widow Garavini when Iggy the gambler bumped off her mate, Andy Garavini, the hacker, outside the Hotel William Penn some months ago. A jury in Criminal Court just a month ago said that Iggy, the gambler, had acted in self defense and had a perfect right to give the hacker the works.

There had been bad feeling between the gambler and the hacker ever since this same red-haired woman had divorced Iggy and married Garavini.

But of course he who laughs last laughs best and all that stuff.

Iggy and the hair-haired woman were not laughing at 11:15 last night.

They were driving along the Boulevard of the Allies when out of a side street another car cracked into them. And it was the widow's car, with Iggy at the wheel.

FILE CHARGES

Fortunately, the Widow Garavini's fair features were not marred, although her mournful thoughts may have been disturbed, nor was Iggy the gambler hurt.

The police finally caught the other driver, who was listed as T. C. Allison, Negro, of Washington, Pa., and in Traffic Court today he was fined $10 after the widow and the gambler had testified against him.

Side by side the widow and the gambler left the courtroom and filed information charging assault and battery against Allison before Squire Harvey Lowry.

The widow is quite up in such things these days because information was filed against her just a few weeks ago. She was charged with perjury in her testimony at Iggy's trial. She was a very unsatisfactory witness for the prosecution, it seemed.

Hurt in Ship Plunge

MRS. THALIA MASSIE . . . . ESCAPED DEATH IN HER PLUNGE

Mrs. Massie, recently divorced at Reno from her naval husband, today reported by the S. S. Roma's officers to have attempted suicide by slashing her wrist and throwing herself from the liner's top deck while at sea. She crashed to a lower desk, but wasn't killed.

HURLS SELF OFF SHIP'S TOP DECK

Broods Over Divorce From Naval Officer; Slashes Wrists

GENOA, Italy, April 6.—(AP.)—Ship's officers of the S. S. Roma said today that Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, principal figure in the startling Honolulu assault case of 1932, attempted suicide by slashing both wrists and throwing herself from the liner's top deck on the voyage from New York.

Prof. Darrio Borelli, director of the Nervous Ailments Clinic in Genoa where Mrs. Massie has been taken since the ship's arrival yesterday, confirmed the officers' report.

The director said that Mrs. Massie told him she attempted suicide when the steamer was three days out from Genoa because:

"I wanted to die. I regretted having got a divorce from my husband."

Mrs. Massie and Lieut. Thomas Hedges Massie, U. S. N., were divorced at Reno, February 23.

Dr. Borelli told the Associated Press she would have to remain in the clinic from 30 to 40 days before she could recover completely.

Ship's officers said Mrs. Massie threw herself from the top deck, but that they did not know whether she intended throwing herself into the sea or only on a lower deck.

Despite her fall of nearly 20 feet, Dr. Borelli said that Mrs. Massie's physical injuries were not serious. He said her general physical condition was, in fact, good, but that she was extremely nervous and greatly depressed.

Ship's officers said Mrs. Massie was in a state of intense mental depression throughout the voyage from New York.

A. T. & T. PROBE PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—What were termed abuses in the operation of holding companies, together with payment of large salaries to officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, were reported today to the House Interstate Commerce Committee by Dr. W. M. W. Splawn, following a three-year study ordered by Congress.

Splawn, now a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, recommended enactment of the Rayburn bill creating a federal communications commission. Hearings open Tuesday before the House Committee.

The report recommended that the first step in regulation be a thorough investigation into the Bell Telephone companies.

The first assignment, the report said, should be into their accounts, records, methods of handling depreciation, contracts, and "to what extent communications companies contribute to campaign expenses or otherwise participate in political activities."

This one system in the field of communication has assets to about one-fifth of all the railroads and the average per capita contribution to its telephone service in 1932 was $7.93, the report added. It said:

"The American people are entitled to know if they are being overcharged for this service though they may be satisfied with the quality of the service."

TYPIST SHOT, EX-MATE HELD

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 6.—Mrs. Helen Britton, 23, attractive stenographer, was shot twice today in the garage office where she is employed.

A constable arrested her estranged husband, Foster Britton, 27. There were no eye-witnesses to the shooting.

At the Spencer hospital, attendants said Mrs. Britton's condition was not critical.

The Brittons, married three years ago, had been estranged for three weeks, police learned. The wife is a graduate of Meadville Commercial College.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, Kent, England, April 6.—(AP.)—Sir Robert Peel, husband of the actress Beatrice Lillie, died today on the eve of his 36th birthday. Death came to him in a nursing home after an appendicitis operation.

Sir Robert was a great-grandson of the famous Prime Minister, Sir Robert Peel.

Court Learns How to Loot Coin Box

Phone Coins 'Stolen' Before Eyes Enough Proof for Counsel

Attorney Albert Martin told a jury in Criminal Court today that if a device, which his client was charged with using to rob telephone pay stations, could be demonstrated effective, he would enter a plea of guilty for the accused man, George Appel, 30, of Philadelphia.

Assistant District Attorney Jacob Kalson took the jury of 10 women and two men to the office of District Attorney Andrew T. Park. Several long distance calls were placed, one to the District Attorney of Philadelphia.

In each case, after the money was deposited in payment for the calls, a thin strip of celluloid was inserted in the pay box. Quarters, dimes and nickels came tumbling out. Te device was that alleged to have been used by the defendants.

Attorney Martin was satisfied He was ready to enter a plea. But his client, Appel, refused. Martin, disgusted, quit the case. The jury, given the case, returned a verdict of guilty of larceny against Appel after a few minutes' deliberation.

Judge H. H. Rowand gave Appel a year and a half to three years in Western Penitentiary. Telephone company witnesses said a guard had been perfected to prevent the use of such devices.

War Declared by U. S. 17 Years Ago Today

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—It's Army Day today, and the tread of marching feet, of soldiers parading up Pennsylvania avenue, revives a memory.

Seventeen years ago at 1:18 o'clock this afternoon, a signal from a White House window shot around the world the message:

"America is at war."

Woodrow Wilson walked the streets of Washington that 17-year-old day—Mrs. Wilson beside him; both deep in thought—before turning back to the White House, taking up a pen and signing his name across the war resolution.

As he traced the last stroke, the word flashed instantaneously to the furthest military and naval outpost orders to go into action.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, young Assistant Secretary of the Navy, was one of the first to receive it. His was a task of seeing that the nation's naval cordon offered no loopholes to German sea raiders.

Today is army day again, and he wired from his yacht in southern waters that the celebration "indicates in part the gratitude of our nation to our army which so valiantly served this country in its every emergency."

SMALL EXCHANGES EXEMPTED BY STOCK BILL REVISION

INQUIRY FAILS TO ACT ON MARGINS

High Pressure Sales Methods Laid to Cities Service

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—An amendment to the stock market control bill to permit the Federal Trade Commission to exclude small exchanges from regulation was adopted today by the Senate Banking Committee in its first important action on the measure.

The committee adjourned until Monday without acting on the troublesome marginal provision of the bill, but there were strong indications it would adopt the recommendation of the New York Stock Exchange and Samuel Untermyer, market critic, to leave this question entirely to the jurisdiction of the Federal Reserve Board.

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, indicated that authors of the legislation were willing to yield on this vital point.

IRKED AT DELAY

Pecora explained that he referred not only to the recommendation to vest the reserve board with complete jurisdiction over margins, but Untermyer's proposal to add three members to the Federal Reserve Board and create a special division of that agency to handle the stock market affairs.

The amendment to permit the trade commission to exempt small exchanges was adopted unanimously.

Pecora said Chairman Fletcher had expressed impatience to the committee at delays in consideration of the bill and was assured by several of the members that they would be able to give continuous attention to the measure beginning Monday.

This virtually made certain the bill would be acted upon by the committee early next week and reported to the Senate.

ACT TOMORROW

Meanwhile, the House Interstate Commerce Committee referred to a sub-committee the Fletcher-Rayburn bill and it will meet tomorrow to begin the final draft.

Evidence that Cities Service Company obtained more than a billion dollars from American investors during the boom days and used most of it to maintain the price of its stock was before the Senate Banking Committee today.

The committee made public testtimony given it in private by Robert E. Healy, chief counsel of the Federal Trade Commission.

Healy said the utility company drew $1,146,518,000 from investors from 1927 to 1930 and used $965,000,000 of it to keep up the price of the stock.

HIGH PRESSURE SALES

He told a vivid story of a high pressure sales campaign conducted by the company while it maintained the market price by market operations. The market regulation bill would end such practices, he said.

The Trade Commission Healy declared, has uncovered write-ups of assets of industrial corporations totaling more than $1,150,000,000. The bill, he further argued, would disclose such operations.

ICKES CHARGES JOB BLACKMAIL

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP.)—With an answer at hand from one of the two, the Chicago Bar Association awaited today to sift charges made by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes that two Chicago attorneys attempted to "blackmail" him for government jobs.

Attorney C. W. Larsen, who the cabinet member alleges demanded a job as Assistant United States Attorney, had not yet filed an answer to Secretary Ickes' charges, said John L. Fogle, the bar association's attorney.

The other attorney, Lucius J. M. Malmin, once federal judge in the Virgin Islands, had.

Malmin, in a formally stated reply, said the Secretary's charges were "flimsy."

Plane Survivor Relates Battle Against Jungle

(Editor's Note—After traveling all night by horseback over rough mountain trails in the Andes an International News Service correspondent today obtained the first account from Newton C. Marshall, American mining engineer, of his experiences from the time his airplane crashed on March 10 until he was found by Indians. The graphic story is presented herewith.)

By NEWTON C. MARSHALL
HARRY C. GROSCH
International News Service.

CALI, Colombia, April 6.—I would not give up and was sure I would pull through.

Approximately at 11 a. m. the plane crashed. Coming through a cloud it struck the side of a hill.

One passenger was instantly killed. The other passenger received a fractured leg and arm. The pilot, Walter Geck, and the mechanic, Erupt Janke, received minor injuries. I was temporarily stunned. I received cuts about my face and other injuries.

The pilot and the mechanic picked up the surviving passenger and myself and carried us to the plane.

Then they left on Sunday morning in an attempt to obtain help.

I was unable to move from my chair in the plane and set there for two weeks. After four or five days the other passenger died. I was then alone with two dead bodies.

For two weeks I had nothing to eat and obtained water only by holding a tin outside the plane in the rain.

After two weeks I made a supreme effort and succeeded in leaving the plane on March 25.

On March 27 I encountered a group of natives who conducted me down the river. En route we encountered the body of the pilot, Keck.

I must have looked like a ghost to the startled natives. The Indians apparently thought I was a ghost, or some other fearsome creature for they aimed their weapons at me.

I signaled them for mercy and they halted.

Early Cards to McNair Favor Daylight Saving

Mayor Scorns 'Votes' From Out-of-Town Participants

First results of Mayor McNair's postcard poll on daylight saving were announced today.

The Mayor received 174 cards favoring daylight saving and 17 against it.

The Mayor thought this was pretty good for a poll which he announced only Wednesday afternoon. He objected, however, to profanity on some of the cards, and to cards from out of town which, he pointed out, should have no influence in the local situation.

There's nothing official about the poll, the Mayor merely having issued an invitation to citizens to let him know how they feel before he signs the daylight saving proclamation.

Representatives of sandlot baseball organizations called on Mayor McNair yesterday to urge daylight saving and expressed themselves as satisfied with the referendum plan. They were headed by Steve Cox and Ralph Waner, brother of the Pirate baseball stars.

Suspend P. O. Aide For Air Firm Loan

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—Testimony that he borrowed $10,000 from Paul Henderson, vice president of the United Aircraft and Transport Corporation, has resulted in suspension of Chase C. Gove as assistant superintendent of the Postoffice Department's Railway Mail Service.

Boy Killed by Blow From Baseball Bat

PHOENIXVILLE, April 6.—(AP.)—Fifteen-year-old Robert Rutter, of Port Providence, near Phoenixville died early today, after being struck on the head by a baseball bat during practice with the Phoenixville High School squad.

AIR MAIL TERMS BAN OLD LINES

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—Specifications for the four additional air mail routes announced by the Postoffice Department on Wednesday were made public today by Harllee Branch, Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Proposals to fly the mail over these routes must be at the Postoffice Department by April 26 for opening on April 27.

The four routes cover approximately 3,675 miles and run from Detroit to Milwaukee; Newark, N. J. to Chicago by way of Buffalo; Fargo, N. D., to Seattle; and Fort Worth, Tex., to Los Angeles.

As with the 21 other air mail routes for which the Postoffice Department is seeking bids, the specifications stipulate that no aviation company whose contract was conceled or which had a representative at the so-called spoils conference of 1930 is eligible to bid.

Maximum pay rates are 45 cents per airplane mile on three of the routes and 44 cents per airplane mile on the other—from Newark to Chicago.

Passenger facilities are required on all four routes but no minimum amount of equipment is prescribed.

ARMY MAN DIES IN PLANE LEAP

ALTOONA, Pa., April 6.—(AP.)—The body of Second Lieut. John Leland McAlister, 25, who leaped from his falling Army plane, was moved to the Duncansville Airport today pending word from federal authorities.

Farmers who saw the crash near Altoona late yesterday, said the pursuit ship was losing altitude as it sped through this mountainous region and at a height of about 200 feet the pilot stood up and jumped.

The farmers found the body of McAlister, a resident of McCormick, S. C., in tangled underbrush about 80 feet from the wreckage of the plane.

Local fliers could give no reason for the crash. They said visibility was "fairly good."

The officer was on his way from Langley Field, Va., to Cleveland. He had been flying the mail from Cleveland to Chicago for the last month.

Mail Flier Safe In Forced Landing

WARREN, O., April 6.—(AP.)—An Army mail plane piloted by Lieut. T. Anderson was slightly damaged yesterday when it was forced down by poor visibility at the Department of Commerce emergency field five miles north of here. It was en route from Newark, N. J., to Cleveland.

Ready to Give 'Details,' Educator Replies In Summons

GARY, Ind., April 6.—(AP.)—Dr. William A. Wirt today announced he would be present next Tuesday to tell a House of Representatives committee at Washington details of his charges that certain members of the administration "Brain Trust" were plotting to overthrow the government.

Dr. Wirt dispatched to Representative A. L. Bulwinkle (Dem.), of North Carolina, a telegram announcing he would appear. Bulwinkle, chairman of the select committee of the House, named to investigate the charges, summoned the Gary educator yesterday by wire.

EDUCATOR SILENT

A spokesman for Wirt announced the doctor would have no public comment to make before appearing at the committee hearing.

Word from Washington was to the effect that Dr. Wirt faced a contempt charge if he refused to accept the telegraphed subpena.

Bulwinkle indicated he did not believe the Gary educator should be allowed the 10 days he requested in which to prepare his case. Bulwinkle said:

"He isn't a defendant on trial. All he has to do is tell us who gave him that revolution information."

Bulwinkle was obviously dubious about Dr. Wirt's ability to name anyone.

CHARGE 'WHITEWASH'

Republican members of the committee continued to protest the 3-to-2 vote yesterday by which it was decided that Wirt's first testimony should be confined to naming the "brain trust" members with whom he said he talked and relating the reported conversations in detail.

Representative McGugin, of Kansas, a Republican on the Wirt committee, charged that the whole Wirt investigation was taking on the appearances of a "whitewash."

Wirt Pamphlet Renews 'Brain Trust' Charges

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—The "brain trust," says Dr. William A. Wirt, in the fifth instalment of his copyrighted pamphlet attacking regimentation as a means of economic recovery, depends upon propaganda as the means of overthrowing the present social order.

Issued by the self-designated Committee for the Nation, the latest instalment of the Wirt dissertation is largely a repetition of the Gary educator's first charges of radicalism against the "brain trust" as read before a House committee in Washington by James H. Rand, Jr.—and which precipitated a congressional investigation.

Wirt reiterates his story of discussing their program with some members of the "brain trust" in Washington last summer. He does not, however, name them.

Suit Won, Seven Lost By Aluminum Firm

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(AP.)—One of eight patent infringement charges brought by the Aluminum Company of America against the United Engine and Machine Works, of San Leandro was upheld by Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan, who dismissed the others, here yesterday.

The patents involved concern processes of manufacturing aluminum pistons for engines. E. J. Trabucco, special master, was directed to fix the amount of damage due the Aluminum Company.

INHERITANCE TAX BOOST AGREED ON

New Rate Would Add 95 Millions to U. S. Coffers

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(INS.)—A conservative coalition of Democrats and Republicans today defeated the amendment by Senator Murphy (Dem.), of Iowa, to increase the income tax rates on capital gains. The vote was 42 to 36.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Progressive drive for higher federal taxes on the rich won a partial victory in the Senate today as administration leaders accepted the La Follette schedule for increased estate taxes.

The La Follette rates would yield 95 million dollars more than existing law through taxes on inheritances. The total revenue, from these taxes, according to Treasury estimates, would be close to 180 million dollars a year.

BALK WAR-TIME RATE

The Progressives lost when they sought to restore virtual war-time income taxes, especially in the higher brackets. They forced a seven million dollar increase in surtaxes, but also lost when they tried to force an increase of the normal income tax rate from 4 to 6 per cent on all incomes.

The new estate taxes, as proposed by Senator La Follette (Rep.), of Wisconsin, would allow an exemption of $40,000, but would impose rates thereafter, ranging from 1 per cent on the first $35,000 net inheritance to 60 per cent of inheritances in excess of 10 million dollars. Administration leaders agreed this was a method for forcing a redistribution of wealth, while providing revenue for the Treasury from a source best able to pay it.

GIFT TAX TO JUMP

A similar increase in gift taxes was believed unavoidable. Senator Harrison (Dem.), of Mississippi, in charge of the bill, said he favored a "revision" of gift taxes, once the higher estate taxes are approved, in order to prevent evasion of the inheritance tax.

The income taxes, already approved by the Senate, will bring about 580 million dollars into the Treasury. The normal rate will be 4 per cent, while the surtaxes, starting at $4,000, will range from 5 per cent up to a maximum of 59 per cent, which applies to all income in excess of a million dollars a year.

BLACK TOM QUIZ REOPENED

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Following presentation of new evidence by American agents purporting to indicate German responsibility for the famous "Black Tom" explosion in New Jersey in 1916, the German-American Mixed Claims Commission has decided to reopen the case.

Harold H. Martin, assistant to the American agent on the Mixed Claims Commission, in disclosing that Justice Owen J. Roberts, commission umpire, had granted the petition for a reopening, said:

"Our petition was based on allegations that certain witnesses had furnished fraudulent information and that we have new proof to show that previous evidence was erroneous.

"In granting our petition, Justice Roberts said he considered it contained serious allegations, and that, if they could be proven, we would probably get a favorable decision."

Martin said the Commission now was waiting to hear whether the German agent intended to present any evidence to discount the American claims.

He said that some of the new evidence was based on an affidavit presented by James Larkin, noted Irish radical. This affidavit alleged a man high in the government of Chancellor Adolf Hitler possessed important knowledge of the explosion.

BARR'S BROTHER IN FIGHT

T. Ralph Barr, member of the County Board for Assessment and Revision of Taxes and brother of County Commissioner C. M. Barr, was pictured today as a bit of a pugilist.

A couple dozen clerks, taxpeyers and mere citizens are willing to swear that Barr (he of the assessment board) took a healthy punch at William Windhorst, of the County Claims and Investigation Department.

The encounter took place in Barr's office and was blamed on an argument about overlapping work in the tax division.

Costs 'Too High'

MARY LOGAN VANDERBILT

SOCIETY WOMAN SAVES DOGS

BRYN MAWR, Pa., April 6.—(AP.)—Mrs. Mary Weir Logan Vanderbilt's Scottish terriers have been saved from death, but counsel for the former wife of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., is perturbed because court costs totaled $11.25.

Assessed against the young society matron, the costs are "exorbitant," says Attorney H. Joseph Harrison. He says he will seek to have them reduced.

As for the dogs, a promise to pen up the three black Scotties saved them from extermination. Miss Louise Wright, 18, neighbor of Mrs. Vanderbilt, charged that two of the dogs had bitten her three times.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was "elated" at saving Timmie, Angus and Winnie, her lawyer said afterward. He explained:

"My client pleaded guilty to avoid any further humiliating notoriety and to save the lives of the dogs."

MINER JAILED IN AUTO DEATH

PETERSBURG, W. Va., April 6.—(AP.)—Convicted of involuntary manslaughter for fatally injuring John Brodix with his automobile last December, Fritz Anthony, Jr., 26-year-old miner, was sentenced yesterday to one year in the Grant County Jail here.

The jury, which deliberated only a short time after receiving the case, also assessed Anthony for the costs of prosecution.

Brodix, who lived at Jobstown, N. J., was killed as he stood on the highway near Gormania, W. Vo., on the night of December 23, talking with Cornelius Vanderbile, Jr., the former publisher and author. Although driving their own cars, the two had been traveling together.

Vanderbilt was the principal witness for the prosecution.

Rumors of Mendieta Resignation Denied

HAVANA, April 6.—(AP.)—Rumors that President Carlos Mendieta planned to resign as a result of the suicide of a cabinet member brought emphatic denials today.

Emeterio Santo Venia, secretary of the presidency, said that President Mendieta had been greatly affected by the death of Col. Roberto Mendez Penate, secretary of justice, but added that his condition was improving.

Reed Likens Process Tax to Tea Tyranny

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—(AP.)—United States Senator David A. Reed, charging that Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is the "George III of today," said in a speech here last night:

"Processing taxes are taxation without representation, just as the stamp tax of King George. You may not know it, but you are paying taxes today on every paper napkin, every paper towel and every bag which you buy. This tax was imposed by the Secretary of Agriculture as a processing tax.

"You will recall from the history books the famous tea party in Boston. It strikes me we should all take our napkins, towels and bags and dump them into the Delaware River."

Senator Reed, who is campaigning for renomination to the Senate on the Republican ticket, addressed the Big Four Fathers' Association.

Calling the tax a "wicked thing," the Senator added:

"On the one hand millions are being spent for declamation of land so that it can be used for agriculture, while on the other millions are being paid to farmers for not using what land they have.

"Consider if it is worth while to sacrifice our liberties and mortgage our future in order to bring about a return of prosperity."

He emphasized that he was not opposed to expenditures for human relief where necessary.

Attorney General William A. Schnader, seeking the Republican nomination for Governor made his first campaign speech last night, asking support on the basis of his 11 years' experience in state government.

LEHMAN QUITS UTILITY PROBE AS 'FAKE'

Governor Demands True Inquiry on Heels Of Senate Setback

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—(AP.) Attorney General John J. Bennett today had refused to act as counsel for the Senate Judiciary Committee in its investigation of Senator Warren T. Thayer.

Bennett acted last night upon the advice of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, who charged that the investigation as now outlined "would be worse than nothing."

This development followed close on the heels of the Senate's rejection, by a close vote, of the Governor's bill to permit cities to go into the electric light and gas business.

The Senate passed eight of Mr. Lehman's bills for tighter restrictions on utility companies, but rejected another of his principal bills to charge utilities part of the cost of rate investigations.

'FIGHT JUST BEGUN'

The Governor, declaring "the fight has just begun," immediately made new plans to force enactment of utilities reform laws.

He attacked the Senate's present plans for investigating Senator Thayer, Franklin County Republican, as "a gesture for the purpose of misleading the public."

He laid before the Legislature a new demand for "the broadest kind of an investigation of the whole utility situation."

He said he wanted an investigation of "the alleged acts of Senator Thayer," to be part of this investigation.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which plans to begin the Thayer inquiry Monday, had proposed to limit its investigation to the authenticity of the letters read to the Federal Trade Commission purporting to have been written by Senator Thayer to the Associated Gas and Electric Company in 1927 and 1928 when he was chairman of the Senate Public Service Committee.

One of these letters inquired if his services as chairman of the committee, which killed a number of utility bills, had been "satisfactory to your company."

Dozen New Letters Link Power Ring, Legislators

By PHILIP PEARL
Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—More than a dozen new letters linking additional members of the New York Legislature with the "power ring" will be placed in evidence before the Federal Trade Commission next Wednesday.

Investigators for the commission guarded the nature of the forthcoming evidence with the utmost secrecy. The official announcement merely stated "additional correspondence" of the Associated Gas and Electric Company and the J. G. White Management Corporation would be put in the record.

However, it was learned the federal investigators consider these new documents even more startling than the purported letters of New York State Senator Warren T. Thayer to executives of the same two companies.

According to these reports, the correspondence will provide emphatic proof of specific instances of power ring influence being exerted over members of the Legislature.

An article disclosing how power interests have blocked federal loans for municipally operated plants appears on Page 15.

UNITE TO FIGHT UTILITY RATES

Assistant City Solicitor John J. Kennedy has invited County Solicitor J. P. Fife and officials of the League of Boroughs and Townships for Allegheny County, to a conference seeking unified plan of attack on present utility rates.

Third class cities, including Clairton, Duquesne and McKeesport, have also been invited to send representatives.

The campaign is in line with the Public Service Commission's action to reduce from seven to six per cent, the net profit allowable for utilities.

Kenedy said the parley may be held early next week.

700 BOGUS CHECKS LAID TO SUSPECT TRAPPED IN CARRICK

ARREST ENDS FIVE-YEAR SEARCH

Thanksgiving Turkey Purchase Leads To Capture

A five-year search for Albert F. Miller, alleged forger, was at an end today.

It ended yesterday when Constables N. Siskind and Fred Boehmer, of Alderman David A. Smith's office, 2022 Brownsville road, arrested him as he was leaving his wife's home in Linnview avenue, Carrick. Unable to raise $5,000 bond, he was committed to the county jail pending a hearing Tuesday night before Alderman Smith.

The informations against Miller, who, county detectives said, specialized in passing faked payroll checks of big corporations totaling unestimated thousands of dollars, was filed by Miss Ruth Butts, of the Pittsburgh Credit Bureau. He was charged with forgery and false pretense.

FAKED CHECKS

Miller had made thousands of dollars on 700 faked checks passing through the Peoples-Pittsburgh Trust Company, according to Clair W. Ridenour, investigator for the trust company. Miller was said to have also used bank checks on other Pittsburgh banks.

The constables reported seizing two check writers, a check dater and a handful of alleged bogus checks issued against the payrolls of the Bell Telephone Company and the Pittsburgh Coal Company. Twenty lodge cards, bearing different names and out-dated railroad passes, said to have been used in identification, also were found.

TURKEY CHECK BOUNCES

Questioned by the detectives and constables, Miller was said to have admitted passing the checks investigated by Ridenour. The investigator was endeavoring to learn the names of the rubber stamp concerns that made stamps to Miller's specifications for placing the names of corporations on the checks. Even the rubber stamp firms were duped, it was said. The stamps were charged to corporations Miller said he represented.

The first clue to the man's identity came when he visited his wife last Thanksgiving. He bought a turkey from a neighborhood store and tendered a bad check in payment, it was reported. A checkup with another merchant on whom Miller was alleged to have passed another check six years before established his identity.

Miller, a former telephone company repairman, always operated alone, and selected merchants who were not very familiar with payroll checks, it was said.

JUDGE RESENTS DILLINGER RAP

CROWN POINT, Ind., April 6.—(AP.)—Judge William J. Murray, of the Criminal Court, today started action toward prosecution of the county grand jury which criticized him in connection with the escape of John Dillinger from the county jail.

The judge ordered James Purdy, of Hobart, Ind., foreman, and the five other members of the grand jury, to appear before him next Monday to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt of court. He issued subpenas for them. His reason:

"Untoward criticism toward myself and the dignity of the courts of Indiana."

The jury, in addition to criticizing Murray and others, indicted jail attaches Ernest Blunk and Sam Cahoon for aiding and abetting Dillinger's famous escape with a wooden gun.

Judge Murray cited fully half of the grand jury's report, which filled three columns of newspaper space, in announcing the action.

DYING THEODORA ALOSIO, 4 . . OFFERED FOR EXPERIMENTS

DOOMED CHILD GIFT TO SCIENCE

International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Prayer and faith sustained the family of 4-year-old Theodora Alosio, today, as the father of the doomed little leukemia victim awaited an answer to his offer of the child for scientific experimentation. It was reported that several prominent New York specialists may become interested in the case.

The father, Edward, merged a desperate hope for the intervention of providence with a determination that if his daughter is to die she shall not die in vain.

Theodora, the sparkle gone from her big blue eyes, her body wasted and wan, has been in the children's ward at Christ Hospital, Jersey City, since January 7.

At Grasslands Hospital, pretty little Roma Garrett, 4, lies stricken with the same disease. In Memphis, Tenn., another four-year-old girl, Winnie Mae Miller, is destined to the same inevitable end—which physicians say is death.

BANDITS, GIRL SLAY OFFICER

MIAMI, Okla., April 6.—(AP.)—Constable Cal Campbell was slain and Chief of Police Percy Boyd, of Commerce, near here, was kidnaped today by two outlaws and their blonde woman companion.

Boyd and Campbell had tried to investigate a bullet hole in the windshield of a car in which the two men and the woman had become stuck in a mudhole.

Witnesses said that before the two reached the machine the occupants opened fire and Campbell fell, dying almost instantly.

The police chief was taken in the car and it sped toward Chetopa, Kan., about 10 miles from Commerce. It was believed Boyd was wounded.

Officers were investigating to determine if Bonnie Parker, the cigar-puffing girl friend of Clyde Barrow, desperado, is a blonde and if perhaps the men were Barrow and Raymond Hamilton, who escaped, aided supposedly by Barrow, from a Texas prison farm some time ago.

Sheriff Dee Watters said he was convinced the killers were Barrow and his companions.

Hot in Winter, Cold in Summer, Man's Dilemma

BENTLEYVILLE, Pa., April 6.—The strange case of George Gosney, perhaps rivalling that of the Wilkes-Barre boy who is turning to stone, was revealed today.

Gosney experiences inverse reactions to heat and cold.

When the weather's hot, he suffers from coldness. His legs become numb.

But when the thermometer is around zero, he feels fine. He wants to go without an overcoat.

Also, he has lost some of his sense of feeling and his sense of smell is exaggerated.

Gosney, 44, is the victim of a sunstroke. His physician said today that he had never heard of a similar case. He said Gosney is slowly responding to treatment.

Gosney was working along the Charleroi highway last July when he collapsed with a sunstroke. For weeks he lay in a coma.

His left leg, between hip and knee, has lost its sense of feeling.

And when the sun is shining Gosney dare not venture out of the house, for the rays cause almost complete blindness.

Physicians are chiefly concerned with the bursting of capillary blood vessels. This takes place only when the weather is warm.

Gosney's case is featured today in Ripley's "Believe It or Not" sketches in the Sun-Telegraph.

BROWN DENIES JILTING GIRL FOR SALLY

Miss Eilers on Stand As Balm Suit Nears Jury

BULLETIN.

International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—The sudden death of the wife of a juror today halted the trial of the $100,000 breach of promise suit brought by Marjorie Whiteis, actress, against Harry Joe Brown, producer-husband of Sally Eilers, film star.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(AP.)—Counsel in the $100,000 breach of promise suit brought by Marjorie Whiteis against Harry Joe Brown, rounded up the last parcels of evidence today, preparatory to handing the case over to a Superior Court jury.

Lawyers for the motion picture director said they would put "a lot of witnesses" on the stand in support of Brown's contention that he did not jilt Miss Whiteis, known on the screen as Marjorie Gay, to wed Sally Eilers film star, last September.

The prosecution completed its case yesterday.

Contradicting intimations of Miss Whiteis that Brown suddenly ended their four-year-old romance after his return from Europe last summer, Miss Eilers said that for two months after the director returned to Hollywood he was in her company constantly.

The first witness for Brown, a brother director, Ralph Murphy, testified Miss Whiteis jumped, and was not pushed from Brown's automobile near Laguna Beach in 1932, as she previously had testified.

2ND 'STONE BOY' IN SQUALID HUT

International News Service.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 6.—Pennsylvania's second "stone boy" victim, for whom doctors several years ago gave up hope, was found by International News Service today, in a squalid shack on a farm in the outskirts of Luzerne County.

He is Francis Wydallis, now a boy of 6.

Too young to comprehen the things that doctors told his mother and that made her cry so much, he walked around much like a puppet on strings, his back and arms hardened into stone.

His mother, Mrs. Priscilla Wydallis, a widow with eight children, three of whom now lie ill in the tumbledown shack they call home, sobbed out the pitiful story of Francis' plight. She said:

"They told me at the hospitals that he couldn't live. They said there was no cure for him.

"If he must died, I thought, I'll bring him home here with me, so that I can watch over him and love him until death takes him away."

Teachers With New Jokes Called Ideal

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 6.—(AP.)—A good, healthy teacher who can tell several new jokes each week and put his classroom in competition with the theater is the classroom ideal of Eugene Lies, representative of the National Recreation Association.

Lies, attending the sessions of the American Physical Education Association, today commanded full attention when he stressed the need of a full program to meet the competition of the movies, so-called humorous magazines and recreation found in the streets.

KING IGNORING SIGVARD, BRIDE

CANNES, April 6.—(AP.)—King Gustave of Sweden today let it be known that there was no forgiveness in the royal heart for his grandson, the former Prince Sigvard, who strayed from the path of royalty by marrying a commoner.

He was quoted by the Countess de Bonde, wife of the court chamberlain, as saying:

"I will never forgive Sigvard."

The bride who caused all the trouble, the former Flaulein Erika Patzek, German motion picture actress, watched her husband play golf dejectedly near Cannes.

Between tees Sigvard confided to the Associated Press that there had been no reconciliation with his grandfather. He uttered a flat "no" when asked if he and the king were reconciled, then added:

"I will talk about the weather or anything else, but I refuse to discuss my private affairs further."

Otherwise, affairs had developed into somewheat of a game of hide-and-seek between King Gustave and Sigvard who arrived with his bride from Berlin on a vacation yesterday. The king and his grandson have not yet met.

Attorney's Son Killed in Blast

NEW YORK, April 6.—(INS.)—Joseph Townsend England, Jr., son of a prominent Baltimore attorney, died today from burns he suffered when a five-gallon can of alcohol exploded in his hands as he was trying to seal the can witn wax and a lighted match.

Mrs. Mary Rhette Miller, 60, his grandmother, also was burned in the blast and a collie dog was killed.

Sled-Ride Hero Victim of Lockjaw

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 6.—Thirteen-year-old Joseph F. Connolly died a hero today.

A month ago Joseph was sled riding with his brother, Edward, 6, and George Senitta, 7. Joseph was seated last.

They were riding down a hill directly into the path of an approaching auto.

Joseph pushed the two other boys off the speeding sled. He and the auto collided.

Lockjaw developed. Today, in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital, he died.

THREAT SENT OHIO MAYOR

CLEVELAND, April 6.—(AP.)—A death threat against Mayor Harry L. Davis, accompanying a demand for $15,000, was disclosed by police today as a carload of detectives hunted unsuccessfully for the extortionist.

Mayor Davis regarded the threat as the work of a crank, but police recalled that in 1919 he was the victim of a terrorist.

On that occasion, a bomb was exploded in the kitchen of Davis' home. The Mayor's infant son, lying in a cradle, was covered with debris, but no one was injured.

The newest threat, a letter, was received by the Mayor yesterday, and said:

"If you value your life, follow these instructions.

"At 9 o'clock Friday morning, drop $15,000 in a brown package out of a yellow taxi at 1396 E. 60th st. If you don't come clean look out."

SON 'SWEET,' SAYS JEAN NASH

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—Jean Nash Dubonnet sailed homeward on the liner Berengaria today, making a mystery of the whereabouts of her recently acquitted son, Andrew Donaldson Kirwan.

Mme. Dubonnet, often called "the best dressed woman in Europe," smilingly refused to say whether Kirwan was aboard the ship or whether he had been left behind to live with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Emma Donaldson.

Kirwan, 23, afflicted with a nervous disease which causes spasmodic failure of muscular control, was acquitted by a federal jury last Monday of charges of murder on the high seas during a gin-influenced religious argument last February 10.

Mme. Dubonnet told reporters just before her boat sailed:

"The boy has announced his intention of never again touching alcohol. He is a very sweet boy and has a wonderful sense of humor."

GIRL DISCOVERS MOTHER SUICIDE

When Mary Jane Scalzo, 12, of 914 Soles street, McKeesport, returned home from school at noon today, she found the table set, but couldn't find her mother.

In a second-story bedroom, the mother, Mrs. Josephine Scalzo, 36, lay dead on the floor, a bullet through her head. She apparently had fired twice while standing in front of a dresser mirror, according to Deputy Coroner James Carroll. The first shot missed, the bullet striking a wall. The second took her life.

She was the mother of five children, and had been in ill health, the deputy learned. The husband had gone to Washington, Pa., to work early today.

Grace Bradley, New Film Luminary, Ill

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—(INS.)—Grace Bradley, one of the new film actresses, was reported gravely ill today with influenza.

Miss Bradley's condition was ascribed indirectly to her having several teeth extracted three weeks ago. Her lowered physical resistance induced the influenza attack, physicians said.

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—America—A nation of kidnapers, gun-toting bandits, bootleggers, jazz-made idlers, immoral divorces, and bloodthirsty lynchers.

America—Where the cost of crime annually is in excess of $12,000,000,000.

America—Where half of the 200,000 prisoners in federal penitentiaries and jails are younger than 25.

This was the startling picture presented here today by Judge Walter C. Lindley, of Danville, Ill., to a conference of some of the nation's most noted educators and social leaders drawn together to seek a solution to a national crisis in education—an emergency resulting from the failure of 2,000 rural schools in the nation to open last September and the fact that there are 3,000,000 young people out of school and out of work.

FIRST LADY JOINS

Among those participating in the conference, which was convened "to give voice to the educational situation from the point of view of laymen rather than educators," are Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin, Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana and United States Commissioner of Education George F. Zook.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has stated that she was coming to the conference because she "wanted to learn," was scheduled to address the gathering of educators this afternoon on "teachers and their proper perparation."

Senator Royal S. Copeland, (Dem.), of New York, today told the educational conference the entire national school and teacher-training system must be revamped if crime and other anti-social practices are to be curbed. The chairman of the Senate's crime committee said "a permanent cure for crime can be effected only by treating and removing its underlying causes."

He charged the schools have "done next to nothing" about the need for considering the individual differences of pupils in organizing their curricula and in conducting their instruction. He said they still grind pupils through prescriptive curricula, "more or less regardless of individual interests, aptitude or ability."

DEFENDS SCHOOLS

At the opening session of the conference last night, President Glenn Frank, of the University of Wisconsin, appealed for a movement to balance the nation's life, which he said, is "quite as important as balancing the nation's budget."

The depression, Frank said, has now arrived at the stage where "we may either wreck or renew our schools." He said:

"In a phase of crisis, there is always a flareup of superficial and sinister criticism of the schools by demagogues who are willing to play horse with anything they think can be capitalized to their personal or political advantage. If the nation listens to such voices now, we may wreck in a year the achievements of a quarter century."

SCHOOL STRIKE HELD MYSTERY

NEWLINSBURG, Pa., April 6.—The school strike epidemic spread to this Westmoreland County town today.

Strikers claimed that half of the 300 Franklin Township High School students walked out this morning, but Principal W. C. Simpson placed the number at only 50.

The principal said he did not know what it was about. Students claim their walkout was a protest against failure of the school board to renew the contract of Harry Ludwick, history instructor.

Philippine Chief's Aide Dies of Fever

MANILA, April 7.—(Saturday)—(AP.)—Joseph E. Mills, who came here from Detroit to become adviser to Gov. Gen. Frank Murphy, died at 12:12 a. m. today of typhoid.

Life Story of Dead Girl In Pictures Lost Here

Lost: The picture-story of a little girl.

Behind that sentence lies a world of heartbreak and effort—a story of a grief-stricken mother and father who struggled for months to gain a picture-record of a dead child's brief life, only to lose it on Pittsburgh's streets.

The mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burns, of 201 Republic street, Mt. Washington. The little girl was 9-year-old Nancy Burns, who died last June.

Representing a large amount of effort and expense, the pictures were gathered from friends and relatives throughout this country and Ireland by Mr. and Mrs. Burns, following the child's death. The complete collection held the story of Nancy's life from the age of 19 months.

Recently Mr. Burns took the collection, composed of prints and negatives, downtown to have enlargements made, but during the day the yellow leather folder with its precious contents slipped from his automobile. Extensive search along Wood street, where Mr. Burns' office is located, was without result. The pictures could not be found.

Most cherished in the collection, Mr. Burns said, was a snapshot taken when Nancy was 5 years old. Another showed Nancy with her sister, Patsy, 8, and two brothers.

'It's No Fun,' Say 4 Boys in Quarantine With Co-eds

International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—"It's no fun for us. Our work goes on just the same. The girls must eat. So must we!

"And not only that but I had a date for Saturday night with a Sigma Kappa—and will she be burned up!"

Which, through John Wells, summed up today the situation of four young college men, including Wells, who are quarantined for a week with 26 co-eds in the lodge of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Wells and three of his Phi Delta Theta Fraternity brothers, Paul Evans, Donald McLean and Malcolm Jayred, were carrying dishes from the dining room and washing them yesterday when a health officer walked up and tacked a "quarantine" sign on the front door.

Helen Fischer, blonde co-ed, secretary of the sophomore class, had developed a mild attack of scarlet fever.

The four men are working their way through college via the dining room and kitchen of the sorority house.

The girls, over the telephone, said:

"It's swell. We play bridge, read, listen to the radio and study."

They sighed:

"Our dates for the week-end? Ah, well."

The co-eds played in their own backyard today. They organized softball teams—and the Scarlets beat the Fevers, 26 to 4.

A.F.L. 'RACKET,' WEIRTON MEN DECLARE

feather their nest for their own earthly lust.

"There are about 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 men under organized labor at a dollar per head, or $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 per month, or from $36,000,000 to $48,000,000 per year. What does organized labor do with this money? Can they show that a dollar was ever contributed for relief purposes?

"After the NRA act was passed organizers from every kind of union in the country started out to bleed the poor man of his wages. They promised everything under the sun—more wages and less work.

"At Weirton, William J. Long got the fever. A small group of men elected him president of their union, and he claims from 70 to 80 per cent of the employes took out pledge cards."

INITIATION FEES

The witness asserted that few of these were taken out in good faith and that Long testified before the Labor Board that only 950 paid the initial initiation fee of $3. He said:

"The Weir-Cove local of the Amalgamated Association claims to have 8,012 members, of whom 950 actually paid $3,50 for their pledge cards. The other 7,062 men have paid amounts for their cards ranging from 10 cents up to $2, and have not paid the balance yet."

C. W. Conn, another Weirton employe witness, said that Mel Moore, an Amalgamated official, received total wages of $43,000 during the last nine years, including the depression period. Conn objected to the employes' representatives being known as a "company union."

LAUDS WEIRTON PAY RATE

Conn, answering a question by Senator James J. Davis (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, said that his wages as a steel mill helper at the Weirton plant were the greatest he has ever received after working in mills in various parts of the country.

Beginning in 1927, he said, his wages was $5,600 a year.

He declared that employes in all departments received higher wages than those in other mills in the country.

Conn invited the Senate Committee to come to Weirton "to see for yourselves." He was asked:

"Will your employes' representatives pay our expenses? You know we must practice economy."

The entire Weirton delegation shouted:

"Yes, sir, come right along. We will pay all expenses."

COMPANY PAYS DUES

Senator Davis asked if the employes paid dues into their organization. Conn answered:

"No, sir. The company pays 50 cents a month per man. It was all paid in a lump sum."

"What do you do with the money?"

"We paid for this junket down here and such things. We have not much left."

Senator Walsh, referring to testimony given by Long, the Amalgamated official, at a previous hearing, asked if it were true that 90 per cent of the men joined the Amalgamated union. Conn answered:

"Yes, there were a good many."

On persistent examination by Senator Walsh the witness said he did not know the number. He admitted that a vast majority joined the strike last year.

OTHER DELEGATIONS

Beside the Weirton group delegations of employes from steel and shipbuilding plants stretching from New England to the Middle West appeared before the Senate committee today to urge defeat of the Wagner bill.

William G. McDermott, head of the company union in the Fall River (Mass.) plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, opposed "intervention of outside interests" in adjusting labor difficulties.

Elwood H. Smith, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation Employes' Association, declared the company union plan in his plant had been in effect 15 years with satisfactory results. He said:

"Our objection to the bill is that it would prevent and eliminate the company from participation in our plan and also prevent the company from reimbursing our representatives for time spent in meetings or for other representative duties."

Smith asserted that participation of outside parties would be a "disastrous blunder."

Other company union spokesmen appeared for the American Rolling Mill Company, at Middletown, O., United States Steel Corporation, New York: Wisconsin Steel Corporation, and the Republic Iron and Steel Company, of Cleveland.

'HOTBED OF RADICALS'

Yesterday E. T. Weir's testimony was followed by that of Jack Larkin, chairman of the Weirton Union, who charged that the Labor Board was a "hotbed of radical agitators."

Larkin testified that Senator Wagner had threatened to send him to jail when Larkin objected to activities of the board's agent at the Weirton plants.

MAKES $100 A MONTH

Senator Walsh asked Larkin:

"If you do not mind telling us, how much do you make?"

Larkin replied:

"Not a bit. I make $200 a month and I work 40 hours a week."

Alabama Coal Men Sue Over Wage Pact

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6.—(AP.)—Alabama coal operators today filed a petition in the United States District Court for an injunction restraining federal authorities from enforcing provisions of the new coal wage order.

Movie Union Man Freed at Hearing

John P. Dunn, 34, of 21 Shingiss street, a member of the Motion Picture Operators Local No. 171, arrested last night on complaint that he had torn down a homemad National Recovery Administration sign at the Brighton Theater, 1739 Brighton road, was discharged in North Side Police Court today by Magistrate Charles Papale.

MOTOR STRIKE SETTLED

DETROIT, April 6.—(AP.)—The Automobile Labor Board, flushed with the success of its first test, headed back for this heart of the motor industry today to tackle more labor troubles.

Last night it settled in Racine, Wis., a strike involving 4,600 automobile workers idle six weeks. The board, created by President Roosevelt and headed by Dr. Leo Wolman, announced these terms of settlement:

Officials of the Nash Motor Company and the Seaman Body Corporation, an affiliate, whose workers walked out six weeks ago, agree to bargain collectively with their employes.

They agree to return all strikers to work as quickly as production schedules permit and to increase the wage scale 10 per cent.

The agreement is subject to the approval of three unions in the Nash plants at Racine and Kenosha and the Seaman Body plant.

RUSH TROOPERS IN MINE FIGHT

International News Service.

LOGAN, W. Va., April 6.—Fifteen additional state troopers were rushed into the Logan coal fields today following an outbreak of violence in the strike of 7,000 miners.

John Ford, superintendent of an Island Creek mine, was severely beaten and slugged by a group of strikers.

A survey showed that 30 mines in the area are picketed and nearly all mines in the county, the principal coal mine area of the state, were standing idle.

Pleas of mine operators and United Mine Workers officials to bring an end to the strike were spurned by the workers.

The strike was called as the result of a dispute over an hour and wage agreement.

250 STRIKERS AT HEARING

Two hundred and fifty strikers crowded a Federal Courtroom as a hearing on the William Penn Hotel strike got under way today.

Judge R. M. Gibson was on the bench. Frank R. Sack and his wife, Mrs. Bessie Sack, both attorneys, represented the strikers, and W. S. Moorhead, the hotel receivers. The hearing resulted from a petition of the receivers for instructions or orders from the court.

The hotel, Sack contended, is being operated at great loss to the creditors because of the failure of the hotel to re-employ the strikers as ordered by the Pittsburgh Regional Labor Board.

Judge Gibson, however, indicated the board was serving in merely an advisory capacity.

W. VA. COAL MEN PLAN TO FIGHT WAGE PACT

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—Northern West Virginia coal operators today were preparing for a new fight for restoration of their 24-cent wage differential at the resumption of the NRA hearings Monday on revision of the soft coal code.

Fred A. Krafft, chairman of the operators' committee, was in Washington conferring with recovery administration officials and leaders of the United Mine Workers. He declined to disclose the reason for his visit in advance of the hearing, but said the battle would be reopened when the sessions begin next week.

The Fairmont district's differential, which it has enjoyed for years over Western Pennsylvania, was eliminated from the new agreement between Appalachian operators and the United Mine Workers.

The Northern West Virginia operators then withdrew from the conference and returned to Fairmont, where they carried on negotiations with West Virginia union officials.

National officials of the United Mine Workers today said they would oppose any move for restoration of the differential because they had signed the contract which eliminated it and regarded their action as binding. The union did not originally fight the differential, its elimination being due principally to the insistence of Western Pennsylvania operators.

The Northern West Virginia operators have asked for the submission of their case to a fact-finding commission.

Smokeless coal operators of Southern West Virginia are expected to strive for a revision of price rates for their area at the hearing. They contend the price rates are too high in relation to basic day rates.

GAS ROUTS 400 MINE STRIKERS

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 6.—(AP.)—A crowd of 400 pickets, gathered at the Consolidation Coal Company's mine at Jordan, were driven back with tear gas today after clashing with workers.

Several men were bruised in scuffles and fist fights before Sheriff's officers routed the pickets and sent them fleeing with the tear gas barrage. Three arrests were made.

The miners have been on strike several days, walking out along with more than 12,000 others who are demanding a higher rate of pay.

30-HOUR WEEK BILL DELAYED

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Democratic House leaders today decided to put the question of enactment of a 30-hour week bill up to President Roosevelt upon his return from Florida.

Although repeated statements have been made by House leaders that the Connery measure, reported by the House Labor Committee, would be passed, the new course of procedure was decided upon.

Fearful of the possible effect of House action on a measure of such far-reaching importance without the approval of the President was said to be the motive.

EMPLOYMENT TOTALS AND WAGE RATES HIGHEST SINCE 1931

Purchasing Power Grows as Price Increases Lag

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—American workmen in manufacturing industries were reported today by the Department of Commerce to be more numerous and higher paid than at any time since early 1931.

Meanwhile, as prices failed to continue their rapid rise of the first six weeks of the year, their purchasing power as a whole was shown to have increased—since wages advanced further than prices.

The average weekly wage was $19.81 in February, the highest since 1931. The hourly rate of 55.8 cents per hour was within 4.1 cents of February, 1929.

Employment increased at a near record rate and payrolls jumped 12 per cent to make February show the greatest one-month improvement in 15 years.

Detailed figures for March were not available, but the department said preliminary data indicated further progress. Government officials said continuation in April also seemed likely because of further industrial gains, wage rises and hour deductions already announced in major industries.

At the same time, it was indicated at NRA that no quick general action in industry to raise wages and cut hours was expected, and that pressure to bring such results might be exerted.

As the spring peak nears, however, it was said in expert quarters that seasonal declines might be expected after April, except as they might be prevented by expansion resulting from the projected program for stimulation of the capital goods industries and home modernization.

Employment in non-manufacturing industry decreased slightly in February, but officials said indication were that March employment increased.

Business activity as a whole gained in both February and March, the index for industrial production moving to within four points of February, 1931, and 19 points above February last year.

Statistics indicated sales to the ultimate consumer made slight increases. Cash going to farmers gained 5 per cent.

The employment improvement was general throughout manufacturing industries. Seventy-seven of the 89 manufacturing industries reported increased employment in February, and 79 reported higher total wages.

LONG AND FOE STRIKE TRUCE IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—At the request of both Senators Clark and Long, who, yesterday, engaged in bitter and at times highly personal debate on the floor of the Senate, all the comment of both men, which violated rules of the Senate, was ordered expunged from the Congressional Record.

The order, however, did not apply to the exchange between Long and Senator Harrison (Dem.), of Mississippi. Whether either of them would request removal of their remarks remained to be decided, with neither giving any indication he would be first to make the request.

CLARK ACTS FIRST

Clark, rising shortly after the Senate convened, made the motion first. He said:

"Upon reflection, I realize I made remarks which were infractions of the rules of the Senate. I ask unanimous consent, having these facts in mind, that my remarks and those of the Senator from Louisiana be stricken from the record."

Long, who listened to Clark with a puzzled look as the Missourian began his remarks, told the Senate:

"I wasn't prepared for the statement my friend, the Senator from Mussouri, just made.

"I just want to say, that I'll go more than half way to meet him.

"There are certain things I may have said in violation of rule 19. If so, I join with the Senator in requesting that they be stricken from the record."

RAPS ATTACK

Clark had been expected to renew the quarrel which yesterday virtually halted Senate consideration of revenue legislation. The Missourian set this idea at rest, however, in his opening words, by saying:

"Upon reflection, I have concluded that it is both unjustifiable and unnecessary in this time of great distress to waste the time of the Senate in discussion of personalities."

Clark did add, however, that he "felt a sense of outrage at the unjustifiable and indefensible attack upon the Senator from Mississippi (Harrison.)"

STIRS HEARING

Yesterday's prolonged quarrel, in which Long attacked several of Harrison's political moves, originated in charges made by Long the day before that the Democratic leadership had aided the Hoover administration in "sending the country to hell."

The truce in the Senate followed a comparatively drab session of the Senate Finance Committee's hearing on the confirmation of D. D. Moore as Internal Revenue Collector in New Orleans.

Long is opposing Moore's confirmation on the ground he is dominated by Col. John P. Sullivan, New Orleans sportsman.

Long's assertion that the New Orleans police force recently had made a drive on bookmakers in the interest of Sullivan was the high spot of the testimony.

FROWN ON DAVIS AT ARMS MEET

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Any efforts to entangle the United States in the present political aspects of European disarmament by having Norman H. Davis, America's roving ambassador of peace, attend the steering committee meeting of the Disarmament Conference at Geneva next Tuesday will be received coolly here, it was indicated in official circles today.

Progress of the European disarmament talks is not considered sufficient to warrant Davis' presence at Geneva barring new developments.

Officials doubt any important discussions will take place at the meeting. Hugh R. Wilson, American minister to Switzerland, will attend and report on developments.

LONDON, April 6.—(AP.)—Norman Davis, American ambassador-at-large, outlined today Washington's views on disarmament in a conference with Sir John Simon, British Foreign Minister.

Davis made plain, it was understood, that the United States refused to commit itself to punitive action in any disarmament pact, but would not interfere with the carrying out, even through military or economic measures, of a program to enforce disarmament.

Milk Price Boost Brings Big Boycott

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(AP.)—The Hershey Chocolate Company, at Hershey, plans to stop buying milk from 4,000 Pennsylvania farmers, and the Reading Milk Dealers' Association is raising retail prices, both organizations holding the state's minimum price regulations responsible.

William F. R. Murrie, president of the Hershey concern, said the plan was adopted because new prices established by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Board give competitors in other states a considerable advantage.

Hosiery Workers To Go on Strike

INDIANAPOLIS, April 6.—(AP.)—A strike which union officials estimated would affect 3,000 employes in three Indianapolis mills was voted early today by members of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers.

Officials of the Real Silk Hosiery Mills, Inc., expressed belief not more than 500 of their 3,000 employes were union members.

Hull and Wallace In Soft Shoe Dance Over Tariff

Peek Has Office, But Export Job Dwindles

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The outstanding political dance team of the spring season is that of Messrs. Hill, Dickson, Wallace and Sayre.

Their soft shoe work on the tariff bill is nothing short of colossal. They have been tiptoeing mysteriously around the Congressional stage for weeks, afraid their shoes will squeak. They have been so gracefully receptive that they have become known to their intimates as "the perfect tariff ballet."

What makes their feat more difficult is the fact that they are being pursued by a crowd of inartistic Republicans. These Republicans keep demanding to know what this is all about, what tariffs are going to be bargained away, what industries and farmers here are going to be affected.

TECHNIQUE

The only slip so far was made by Agriculture Secretary Wallace. He admitted once that perhaps sugar was one thing that tariff bargainers might consider. The Republicans leaped all over him and nearly ruined the act.

State Secretary Hull and his assistant Sayre have pleaded confidential immunity for diplomatic business. Assistant Commerce Secretary Dickinson is being artfully evasive.

Democratic Senators and representatives are keeping in step with the ballet leaders and are not letting the Republicans know what is in their minds.

This footwork is, of course, all political by-play. The truth could be told. But it is such a little truth no one wants to let it out until the tariff bill is safely passed.

FACTS

No one should tell the Republicans, but up to date the administration has received only three tariff bargaining offers from abroad. Two of these came from Latin American countries, one from Europe.

Others are expected when the tariff bill passes. In fact, the real inside reason why Germany offered that token payment on her debt is that even she expects to get some of that RFC money to finance some buying here. She will be disappointed.

What the tariff bargainers intend to specialize on is the importation of products which do not compete directly with American industrial or agricultural products. This narrows their field down to such things as fine laces, highest grade woolens, special liquors and wines, coffee, etc. They plan more bargaining with Latin American countries than with any one else.

They have no wholesale bartering arrangement in mind and cannot get any until world conditions improve considerably.

THE BANKS

A peek inside the Peek Export Corporation will give you a slant on the vastness of operations so far.

Mr. Peek's corporation is a few rooms and desks. They are thronged with people daily, but not exporters and importers. The visitors are nearly all looking for jobs.

His three banks are three letter files, one for Cuba, one for Russia and one for the rest of the world.

PEEK

Only the insiders apparently realize yet that Peek is virtually a man without a job.

His intimates suspect that only an extraordinary enthusiasm for his task keeps him at it. He seems to hope that some day it will work out all right.

So far, the other government departments have been co-operating by secretly throwing lassoes over his neck. Any trade agreement he makes must be a treaty, yet he has no power to make treaties. The State Department must do that. Also, he must get his money from the RFC.

LICENSING

Extension of the licensing power of the NRA is expected to be slipped into a general bill in the closing moments of Congress.

Certain authorities in the administration (not including Gen. Johnson) are making arrangements for that. Johnson is not opposed to it. All he has said is that he will not recommend such a course because he is afraid of opening the subject to congressional debate. That would be a direct retreat.

Every one is willing that Johnson's statement stand undisputed until the current agitation against the Brain Trusters dies down.

NOTES

The Senator Wagner-Gen. Johnson rift exists and may become important later. It came largely because Johnson first asked to appear for the Wagner labor board bill and then did not show up. Later, Wagner invited Johnson and still he did not show up. Wagner's friends have suspected the reason is that Johnson has been talking about organizing separate boards of labor mediation for each industry under the code. That program might supersede the Wagner bill . . . One committeeman for the nation is a national dairy man who has been fighting Wallace, Tugwell and Frank on the milk policy . . . Despite announcements to the contrary, not a thing has been done about Russian trade because the Johnson bill (restricting negotiations with debtors) has held things up . . . The neatest silver plot of all was the sending of the Dies silver bill to the Senate agriculture committee. It should have gone to the finance or banking committees but they are strongly anti-silver. The silver boys sidetracked it so that Senator Wheeler could get his clutches on it. Wheeler is on agriculture but not on banking or finance.

EX SENATOR VISITS CAPITAL
FORMER SENATOR JAMES E. WATSON, OF INDIANA, HAS BEEN BUZZING AROUND WASHINGTON IN A BIG, BLACK, BROAD BRIMMED HAT ALMOST IN THE SHADOW OF THE DISCUSSIONS REGARDING A NEW CHAIRMAN FOR THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE. BUT FOR THE POLITICAL ASPECT OF "JIM'S" HAT, AND THE CIGAR, HIS VISIT MIGHT BE ATTRIBUTED TO THE SIMPLE FACT THAT IT IS SPRINGTIME IN WASHINGTON.

PLOT TO OUST CAROL CHARGED

International News Service.

VIENNA, April 6.—Claiming that they have uncovered a plot to overthrow King Carol and place the young Crown Prince Michael on the throne, Premier Tatarescu and Foreign Minister Titulescu are demanding dictatorial powers in Rumania to crush the opposition, according to reliable reports reaching here today.

The conspirators, the dispatch said, plan to bring about the return of Princess Helen, Carol's divorced wife, as her son Michael ascends the throne.

The Tatarescu cabinet has been placed in a precarious position by the verdict of a military court yesterday which convicted only three members of the Fascist "Iron Guard" of participation in the assassination of Premier Ion Duca last December and acquitted 48 others, including Cornelia Codreanu, leader of the Iron Guard.

The belief is spreading that powerful elements within the army are plotting against King Carol largely because of his romantic attachment to Mme. Magda Lupescu, titain-haired Jewess.

Second-Term Mayor Of Tiniest City Dies

BUTLER, Pa., April 6.—Fred C. Feight, 65, second-term Mayor of Parker City, died today in Butler Hospital. His city, its population 900, is reputed to be the smallest in the country owning a city charter, although 50 years ago, in the early oil days, the population was 9,000.

Girl Not Yet 18 To Wed Third Time

FLINT, Mich., April 6.—(INS.)—Because Mary Rummell will not be 18 until April 20, she had to have her mother's consent yesterday in order to get a license for her third marriage.

She will wed Harry Troupe, 25, next week. And she promises:

"This one is going to last."

Her first husband, whom she married when she was 13, is a prisoner in Ionia State Reformatory. Her second, Joseph Gallant, whom she married at 15, is the father of her two-year-old daughter. A divorce ended both marriages.

LEWIS ASSAILS FOREIGN LOBBY

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Activities of "high-powered lobbyists" allegedly seeking to influence the administration to relax the Asiatic immigration exclusion law and reduce European war debts were denounced by Senator James Hamilton Lewis (Dem.), of Illinois, in a statement published today.

Lewis declared he would take the Senate floor and name the individuals unless their lobbying efforts are immediately stopped.

The Senate Democratic whip, after consultations with cabinet officers, declared the administration was not considering any recommendations for revising the exclusion act. There had been reports Japan was endeavoring to reopen the question. It would take congressional action.

ADMIRAL BACKS BATTLESHIPS

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—

"As far as America is concerned, the battleship is still the backbone of the fleet."

Thus did Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, reply to foreign criticism of the Navy's stand against temporary withdrawal of the battleships California and Tennessee from the fleet for modernization work.

A bill to modernize the ships was tabled Wednesday by the House Naval Affairs Committee on Standley's suggestion.

The admiral declared it would be unwise economy to remove the Tennessee and California from service, and spend approximately $20,000,000 remodelling them.

The whole picture regarding battleships may be changed, he said, at naval conferences next year preparatory to the expiration of the London naval treaty in 1935.

Foster Spurs Reds Against Roosevelt

CLEVELAND, April 6.—(AP.)—Five hundred delegates to the national convention of the Communist party cheered "revolutionary greetings" from William Z. Foster, the party chairman, sent by telegram.

The telegram yesterday urged the delegates to mobilize the party to "lead the Americans against Roosevelt's hunger deal developing Fascism and war."

Family Has Twins, 3d Time in 7 Years

MEDFORD, Ore.—(INS.)—The third set of twins to arrive in the same family within seven years was born here at the Sacred Heart Hospital, a pair of husky boys, weighing 7½ and 7¼ pounds, born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, of Gold Hill. The other twins are a boy and a girl aged seven, and a boy and a girl of five. The latest arrivals bring the Thomas family total to 13 children.

BANK PAYOFF URGED ON ALL IN HOUSE

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Every member of the House was sent a letter today urging suports of the McLeod bill, releasing the 1,815 million dollars of deposits in closed Federal Reserve System banks.

Representative Wideman (Dem.), of Michigan, initiating this latest development in the drive to pass the McLead measure.

Meanwhile it was learned the Prall subcommittee of the Banking and Currency Committee plans to meet Monday to formulate its reports of the bill for the full committee.

BACK MEASURE

Today it appeared certain the subcommittee would recommend that the full committee report the bill to the House.

The full committee, headed by representative Steagall (Dem.), of Alabama, has been tied up all week with the home owners' loan bill, which passed the House yesterday.

Two members of the subcommittee who have indicated their positive backing of the bill are Disney, of Oklahoma, and Church, of California, both Democrats.

The chairman of the subcommittee is Representative Prall (Dem.), of New York. It appears certain that any objections he might have to the bill will be overridden by the other members.

URGES PASSAGE

Representative Connery (Dem.), of Massachusetts, chairman of the House Labor Committee, and an influential member, in an statement strongly urging passage of the measure, said:

"This is a step that should have been taken long ago. No greater benefit could be offered the country than this measure releasing millions of dollars of wealth to their rightful owners.

"It will create purchasing power. It will make new business. It will restore the confidence of millions of people whose faith in the banks have been undermined.

"The retention of this huge sum of money in inoperative banks is a wasteful process. The sooner this bill becomes law, the sooner we will be in sight of sure recovery."

McLeod Bill Would Free Hundred Million Tied Up In Closed Banks Here

More than $100,000,000 in frozen bank deposits would be put back into circulation in Pittsburgh through passage of the McLeod Bill, a study of deposits tied up in closed banks reveals.

At the end of 1929, 74 member banks of the Federal Reserve System were operating in the city. By the end of 1933 this number had been reduced to 37. This indicates that 37 banks discontinued business. This did not represent a complete loss to depositors in all cases.

Some of these 37 banks were merged. Some have been reorganized. Some have made partial payments to their depositors. Even after taking these payments into account, however, more than $100,000,000 is tied up in closed banks.

The McLeod Bill proposes to pay all depositors in closed banks which were members of the Federal Reserve System in full. To do this the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would purchase all assets of closed member banks. It would pay enough for these to permit the payment of all deposits in full.

It would then liquidate these assets over a period of ten years. It is thought by sponsors of the bill that increase in value of the assets would make it possible for the government to wind up the bank affairs without any loss.

BLAME IN LOAN DELAY DENIED

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP.)—Officials of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation deny there has been any delay on their part in approving loans for closed banks in Pennsylvania.

The corporation has voted close to $50,000,000 for this purpose, officials said yesterday, asserting any delay in disbursing the funds has been due to lack of speed by the receivers for the various institutions in depositing the necessary collateral. One official said:

"Of course, there are many different kinds of collateral and it may take longer to liquidate than we think it should."

It was explained the duty of depositing the collateral for RFC loans falls on the individual receivers for the bank applying for the loan, and that William D. Gordon, state Secretary of Banking, should not be charged with full responsibility for the delays.

Newsboy Burned In Street Blast

AUTO MISHAPS HURT CHILDREN

Walter Besterman, 11, of 326 Ella street, was in West Penn Hospital today with injuries suffered when he roller skated from a driveway near his home against an automobile driven, police said, by Alfred Lewis, 24, of 415 Ella street. He was one of two children auto mishap victims yesterday.

Struck by an automobile near her home, Mary Tauro, 2, of 206 Stratford avenue, was taken to West Penn Hospital. She suffered brain concussion and a probable skull fracture.

Police today sought the driver of an auto who fled after his car struck David Berkovitz, 48, of 130 Morewood avenue, as he was walking at Baum boulevard and Liberty avenue last night. Berkovitz was taken to West Penn Hospital with scalp lacerations.

Said to have stepped in front of an automobile while crossing Saw Mill Run boulevard at Library road last night, Walter Prass, 32, of 230 Provost road, Fair Haven, was treated by a nearby physician for body injuries.

Gypsy Fiddlers Fail To Win State 'Treat'

Echoes of a distant day when gypsy fiddlers played in booze emporiums and were rewarded for their efforts were heard yesterday in the state liquor store at 849 Braddock avenue, Braddock, but not with the result of the olden days.

The leader of the band of roving musicians pleaded for drinks for his comrades, but was informed by Frank M. Hunter, store manager, that it was against the law.

Man Takes Poison 'To Frighten Wife'

Alleged to have drunk poison to "scare his wife," after an argument in their apartment last night, Francis Connors, 25, of 13 Soho street, was taken to Montefiore Hospital in a serious condition, according to police.

Police said he ran from their third-floor dwelling to Brady and Forbes street after words with his wife, and swallowed the poison. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

RELIEF WAGES DELAYED

Paying off of the 10,000 workers just employed under the new Relief Works program of government work for the jobless will be delayed at least a week and possibly longer, Philip H. Lantz, deputy administrator, said today.

The delay was "unavoidable," Lantz said the local office was informed in a telegram from Erich H. Biddle, state director. The telegram stated:

> "Please notify each worker that there will be no more delay than is absolutely necessary."

Lantz said 1,000 copies of the telegram were being distributed to timekeepers and foremen today. The delay ties up a payroll of more than $100,000.

The fund campaign is expected to be completed by the end of May.

WIFE AIDS MATE FIGHT ALIMONY

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—Mrs. Zetta Robart Wells, wife of Carveth Wells, the explorer, told a referee in Supreme Court yesterday that her husband had never supported her and that she made his alimony payments to his first wife for three months in 1932.

She testified in a hearing on the motion of Wells' first wife, Mrs. Louard Wells, to have the explorer punished for contempt for failing to pay $1,500 alimony arrears. At the same time, Wells sought a reduction in the $50 weekly payments he is supposed to make. Decision on both motions was reserved.

Both the former and the present wife took the stand before Referee Edward J. Gavegan.

Mrs. Zetta Wells, 30, a manager of actors, artists, musicians and lecturers, said her own income always exceeded that of her husband, dading:

"I should say I've lent him 10 times the amount he's given me."

PICTURES CLUE IN KILLING OF 6

SEATTLE, April 6.—(AP.)—Undeveloped snapshot, found in a house behind the Bremerton Police Station, sent investigators on a new trail today in their efforts to solve the mass murder of six persons there last week.

Luke S. May, Seattle chief of detectives, said the developed prints shed light on the identity of at least one of the recent associates of Eugene Chenevert, one of the victims, in whose home the roll of film was found.

Two photographs of a swarthy man, stripped to the waist, displaying his powerful muscles and chest, were said by May to have been identified by four persons as pictures of Harry Kimble, a roadhouse operator in Western Washington. May said Kimble had been in Bremerton in recent months and was in the company of Mrs. Frank Flieder, another victim, less than two weeks ago.

The disclosure added interest, May said, to questioning of a man arrested at Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, under the name of Harry Kimble.

LIFE INSURANCE UPTURN NOTED

Homer L. Andrews, executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters' Association, has announced that reports from life insurance companies throughout the Pittsburgh district, following the observance of Financial Independence Week, indicate increased optimism and confidence.

Policies contracted for during the week of March 19, he said, numbered more than 3,500, and the amount of business placed totaled more than $13,696,171.

Statistics compiled in Pittsburgh, Mr. Andrews declared, point to a general trend toward a return to normalcy in the life insurance business throughout the United States. The figures, he asserted, are a barometer of the public pocketbook.

ADMITS KILLING 14 YEARS AGO

LANCASTER, Pa., April 6.—(AP)—Policeman Louis Matt and Arthur Rineer announced today that a wanderer who was given shelter in a police station has confessed to a slaying 14 years ago.

The officers said Joseph Brosevitch, 47, giving his address as Mingo Junction, near Steubenville, told him his "conscience hurt" him.

The officers said Brosevitch told them he shot George Koschick at Mingo Junction, in 1920 and the deed has been troubling him ever since.

Children See Man Kill Wife, Himself

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 6.—(INS.)—Authorities today said jealousy prompted Honey Holcomb, 62, to shoot his 25-year-old wife, Della, to death, and then commit suicide in the home of Clarence Boolman, 21, a friend, of Jonesville, near here.

Holcomb and his wife, married at Franklin last fall, had been separated for six weeks and met at his home to effect a reconciliation, Boolman said. Luella, 4, and George, 2, children of Mrs. Holcomb by a former marriage, witnessed the tragedy.

ARTIST DEPICTS HOSPITAL WORK

Oil paintings and water color sketches of hospital scenes will be exibited at the William Penn Hotel during the three-day convention of the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania that opens Tuesday.

The canvases are work of Miss Kay Bishop, 23-year-old artist of Sayre, Pa., who spent several months with brush and easel in the Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia, gathering material for her collection.

Explaining her motive in concentrating her painting on hospital life, Miss Bishop said:

"It seems to me that the methods of this age ought to be preserved for the future, just as the methods of an older day have been passed down to us."

The pictures will be on public display, along with scores of hospital exibits showing the progress that has been made in the technical side of medicine.

RANKIN LAUDS POWER TRUST INQUIRY

By JOHN RANKIN,

United States Representative from Mississippi, Written especially for the Hearst Papers.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The revelations now being made by the Federal Power Commission relative to the pernicious activities of certain power interests throughout the country are shocking beyond expression.

It shows that the power trusts will halt at nothing to carry their perfidious scheme of tying up the cities, towns and municipalities of the United States for the purpose of exacting their exorbitant tributes in the way of excessive light and power rates.

The people of this country are indebted to the Hearst newspapers for helping to bring these things to light.

I hope the Federal Power Commission continues its investigation until it exposes these corrupt practices in every locality; I hope the commission exposes every power trust Governor in the United States. In my opinion, there are many of them controlled by the power interests.

I hope the commission exposes every member of a state Legislature and every member of Congress and of the United States Senate who represents the power interests or who is a member of a firm of lawyers representing a power company. They have no right to collect fees or retainers from public utilities and then sit in a body charged with the responsibility of making laws to regulate those utilities.

No man can serve two masters, I don't care whether he is a governor of a state or a member of a state Legislature, the National House of Representatives or the United States Senate.

I should like to see every person who assumes the responsibilities of one of these positions required to file on oath a statement showing just what private interests, if any, he, or the firm with which he is connected, represents.

Utilities Block Loans for New Plants

Taxpayers Suits Hold Up Recovery to Uphold Rates

By W. W. CHAPLIN

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—In pursuit of their special interests, electric light and power companies have effectively blocked one phase of the administration recovery program in which President Roosevelt is particularly interested, the construction of municipal electric plants with federal loans or grants.

Before any money has been allotted for such purpose by the PWA, it has been determined through the legal and engineering departments that existing rates in the locality seeking relief are exorbitant.

Yet the citizens of those cities, rich and poor alike, are still paying those exorbitant rates because the electric interests have defied the President's plan for easing the burden of the common man so that he may survive until recovery is an actuality.

So far five PWA loans or grants have been made for municipal electric plants, but suits, injunctions, appeals, every possible form of legal harrassment, have tied them up so that this money dedicated to recovery lies idle.

RECOVERY LIES IDLE

Funds which should be helping to solve the living problems of thousands, including the hungry, the cold and the insufficiently clothed, lies useless in bank vaults because electric interests have placed their own special privileges above human need.

Taxpayers' suits are the weapon universally used in the fight against municipal plants which could furnish electric current at a fraction of what the private companies charge. These actions are brought in the name of the local company or by individuals or business firms which might conceivably profit by continued high electric costs.

The legal department has made no charges that some central power is directing these separate identical actions in various parts of the country. It has noted, however, that there are marked similarities in two briefs, which relate to suits in cities far apart. One brief bears the name of the New York law firm to which a Washington representative of the Edison Electric Institute used to belong. His uncle is still a member.

This lawyer was counsel for the old National Electric Light Association, which changed its name and dropped some of its activities after the scandal concerning payment of money by the electric ring to professors and authors.

The cities to which loans or grants for municipal electric plants have been made by the PWA, the amount in each instance, and the status of the cases, follow:

Allegan, Mich., $410,000. A lower court denied the right of private power interests to interfere, but the case was carried to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Middlesboro, Ky., $328,000. The Kentucky Utilities Company sued as a taxpayer, lost in one court, and is now pressing its claims in the Court of Appeals.

Burlington, Kan., $145,000. Injunction was petitioned for and hearing will be held shortly.

Burlington, Va., $70,000. First case was thrown out of court but was apepaled.

Concordia, Mo., $47,000. Injunction was sought here on the ground the NIRA was unconstitutional. The case is now pending in the United States District Court at Kansas City.

MORROW POEM ECHOES LINDY KIDNAPING

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, the mother of Anne Morrow Lindbergh, writes in the current issue of Atlantic Monthly a poem of St. Anthony of Padua, the patron of those upon whom some great loss has been visited.

The gentle verse appears to have direct bearing upon the tragic kidnaping of her grandson three years ago. The poem, entitled "Saint of the Lost," reads:

Walking elysian fields, the saints forget
The salt of human tears. What went before
Grows faint and far; the most importunate
Cry of the heart falls cold; they heed no more.
Only Anthony can never rest,
Searching the depths for what has slipped or gone.

So long as men pray he must be oppressed,
So long as men lose, he must labor on,
His face forever turned from Paradise,
Lest he should miss that single sparrow's fall,
He finds the strayed sheep with his faithful eyes;
He holds in sight the lonely prodigal;
Saint of the Lost, who cannot sleep nor stand,
While one child wanders from his mother's hand.

In another verse, "Hostage," also appearing in the magazine, she writes: "He who has given a hostage knows all ways of dying . . ."

St. Anthony, "Saint of the Lost," is especially invoked for the recovery of things lost and many miracles have been attributed to him. He was a Franciscan monk of Lisbon during the early eleventh century.

The last previous published work of Mrs. Morrow was a fairytale book, dedicated to her daughter, Constance.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy whenever we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

Volstead Mum On Return Of Rum

GRANITE FALLS, Minn., April 6.—(INS.)—Andrew Volstead is through telling the public what he thinks about prohibition, its repeal and other kindred matters.

At least that was what the father of the prohibition law said today, the first anniversary of the return of legal beer. The former Congressman declared:

"There's no use cross-examining me. I have nothing to say."

To a question as to whether he thought repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment had aided business, the ardent dry declared he was "not doing any thinking."

Bullet May Clear Suicide in Slaying

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 6.—(INS.)—A single bullet yesterday became Exhibit A in an investigation which may erase "murder" from the name of Harold Hall, former prohibition agent, who took his own life after—to all appearances—fatally wounding 19-year-old Charlotte Hudson.

Police advanced the theory that when Hall sent the bullet crashing through his own brain, the missile pierced his skull and, on emerging, fatally struck his estranged sweetheart.

W.C.T.U. WIDENS LIQUOR DRIVE

By CORRINNE HARDESTY
Universal Service.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Hard sense to combat hard liquor. That's the theme song of the W. C. T. U., announced by Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, president, as the first anniversary of the legalization of beer approaches.

Since the return of beer and repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, the sentimental strains of "Wind the Ribbon 'Round the Nation" have not been forgotten in the organization's birthplace, Evanston, where the sale of liquor is prohibited. But Mrs. Smith pointed out the organization is launching an aducational plan in every state to bring "scientific facts on alcohol" to the young.

Mrs. Smith announced that high school courses in "Social Hazards Run by the Drinker and kindred subjects had been greatly oversubscribed in high schools throughout the country.

Twenty thousand grade and high school students in Missouri are taking the courses worked out by the W. C. T. U.

Durant's Daughter Home From Africa

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—Commander Fitzhugh Green and Mrs. Green, the former Marjorie Durant, daughter of W. C. Durant, automobile manufacturer, returned yesterday on the liner Europa from a visit of three months in Africa.

They flew from Cairo to Luxor and thence to Mombrasa. Commander Green said he had made an aerial survey of the Riff Valley in the hope that the valley might eventually disclose the source of wealth which flowed into Jerusalem at the time of King Solomon.

DEMOCRATIC GAIN GROWS IN 11 WARDS

The first 11 wards of Pittsburgh, with 10 districts missing, indicate the tremendous growth of Democratic registrations, the Registration Commission's tabulations showed today.

Counting the registrations of the first sitting of the registrars, the total of 127 districts shows 6,100 Republicans enrolled and 5,295 Democrats.

The table so far tabulated shows:

Ward.	Republican.	Democrat.	Districts missing.
First	148	220	1
Second	342	144	..
Third	519	562	..
Fourth	712	778	..
Fifth	853	591	2
Sixth	402	468	1
Seventh	704	376	..
Eighth	738	597	..
Ninth	587	534	..
Tenth	525	663	1
Eleventh	570	362	6

COMPLAINTS RECEIVED

Complaints reached the registration commissioners today that naturalized citizens, who must procure certification of naturalization papers were forced to pay $13 to federal officials.

Under the new permanent registration act, every naturalized citizen must present his papers, and many have mislaid or lost them.

Edward C. Boyle, solicitor for the commission, explained that those who register on their parents or husbands' papers need not get certified copies, but must make affidavit to when, where, and in what court such papers were secured. And this must be done at the commission's office in the County Office Building.

NO RECEIPT NEEDED

As registration continued in the downtown office, the commissioners explained that citizens may register to vote in the primaries in any party, but are limited to voting for the candidates of the party in which they are enrolled.

Anyone registering "no party" cannot vote in the primaries, since these are purely party nominations, but are eligible to vote in the general election.

Voters desiring to change their party affiliation can do so at the Registration Commission offices in the New County Building, beginning Monday, and such changes can be made until 10 days before the primary election.

No tax receipt is necessary.

Additional registration days are April 21 and May 2—in the district polling places. But one may register any day from 9 to 4 o'clock in the downtown office up to May 5, excepting Saturdays, when the hours are 9 to 12 noon.

Registration will begin again downtown five days after each primary and election day.

OTHER REGULATIONS

A citizen may change his party enrollment up to 15 days before a primary or election at the downtown office. For this primary the deadline is April 30.

It is not necessary to re-register because of a change of address, but the one changing residences must appear at the office and make out a removal notice. Such changes are permissible to qualify for an election up to two months before an election. If one moves out of the district during the 60-day period, he is disenfranchised for that election. He can move, however, within the same district without losing a chance to vote.

Those unable to write must appear at the office with two electors of his district who also must swear to the general information given. Less information is required under this than the old act.

SMITH REHIRES OUSTED CLERK

Fired by Public Safety Director Ralph E. Smith, Walter Scott was hired back today by Smith as assistant clerk under Mrs. J. Wood Clark. Mrs. Clark, prominent Democrat, had been placed in Scott's former position as chief clerk of the division of accounts and permits.

To make room for the rehiring of Scott, who has been in the city service 29 years, Smith dismissed Ralph S. Bigley. Mrs. Clark was a former registration commissioner.

Spring Bids for Votes Violate Poster Laws

TREES . . . ONE STRUGGLING TO LIVE IN FLAUGHERTY'S RUN

Civic Club Warns 1,000 Not to Mar Poles and Trees

And another sign of spring, or anyway of the spring primary, is the tendency of candidates' placards to find an illegal perch on trees and telephone poles.

An act of Legislature names this practice a public nuisance, the guilty parties being liable to a fine of not less than $5 or more than $20.

Attorney S. V. Albo expressed surprise yesterday when informed that notices to the effect that he was a candidate for Legislature from the Twelfth District were illegally displayed in Moon and Findlay townships. He said:

"I told the man to be careful not to put them anywhere they shouldn't be. I'll tell him to see they're removed."

Miss Marie Dermitt, secretary of the Civic Club of Allegheny County, said that in requesting information for a booklet on the various candidates, a copy of the law prohibiting illegal posting had been sent to about 1,000 aspirants to public office.

Where cases of violation are reported, she said she would write the offending persons and try to enforce compliance. Difficulty in obtaining fines, she said, lay in the fact it was hard to trace the actual poster.

PA. DEMOCRATS OPEN DRIVE

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(AP.)—The Democratic primary campaign is getting into full swing with George H. Earle, choice of the state committee for Governor, back in Pennsylvania.

Earle, who resigned as minister to Austria to wage the fight for the nomination, returned to Philadelphia yesterday and last night was one of the speakers at a dinner of the Jacksonian Democratic Association of Bethlehem. Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, his running mate for the senatorial nomination, was another speaker.

Meanwhile Thomas McDermott, of Philadelphia, manager for the rival Morris-Copeland faction, told a meeting of Lancaster Democrats that Earle would be "governor in name only," if elected. He asserted that Earle would be subject to the dictation of Guffey, who is Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania.

Earle did not commit himself on political issues either in Philadelphia or Bethlehem, announcing his intention to "reach all of my judgments on issues after intelligent study."

MARSH IN LINE FOR REED POST

Earl F. Reed's resignation having been accepted, there was deep interest today in who would prosecute the remaining election fraud cases in Federal Court.

Reed resigned yesterday as special prosecutor because the cases interfered with his duties as counsel for E. T. Weir, of the Weirton Steel Company.

Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, accepting the resignation, praised the Pittsburgher.

United States Assistant Attorney James I. Marsh, who was held over when the Roosevelt administration took office, has worked with Reed in the previous prosecutions. And there is a chance he may handle the remaining cases.

Still to be tried, at the May term of court, are State Senator James J. Coyne and John Verona, Hill political leader.

WOMAN PAYS IN VOTE FRAUD

Mrs. Alice Daschbach, the first woman convicted in the election fraud trials in Federal Court, yesterday paid at the office of the clerk of court the $1,000 fine imposed upon her by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker March 6, when she and two other members of the election board of the Eighth District, Fourth Ward, were sentenced.

Earlier in the day Judge Schoonmaker denied motions for new trials filed by 29 men and two women, with few exceptions members of election boards, who were convicted of vote frauds at the special session of court in February. The motion of John Stabile, Republican leader in the Eighth District, Third Ward, for a new trial, is still under consideration.

Mrs. Daschbach, wife of John J. Daschbach, former city detective, was an inspector on her board. She had been allowed until yesterday to pay the fine. The sentence also carried a one-day jail term.

Among those refused new trials were Mrs. Mary Burns and Mrs. Mary Wagner, who served as inspectors on election boards in the Fifteenth and Fourth wards, respectively. Another refused a new trial was Joseph W. Muldowney, brother of Congressman M. J. Muldowney.

4 Boys Flee County School, 2 Returned

Four boys escaped from the county's Industrial and Training School (Thornhill), near Warrendale last night, but today two had been returned. One was picked up by the police in Bellevue, another was brought back by his father, Supt. Dan L. Rees said

NEW POLITICAL LEADERS URGED

Attorney Alexander P. Lindsay said today he has decided he can be of greater service to the cause of good government in the county by not becoming a candidate for office.

Instead, Lindsay, unsuccessful candidate for Common Pleas judge in the fall, said he would work for a new leadership among those dissatisfied with old political systems.

Refusing, he said, requests of friends to run for the State Senate in the Forty-fourth District, Lindsay added:

"In the coming months I shall devote my energies to bringing together under new leadership those who have made possible the recent changes in city and county government.

"New leadership is demanded. The next few weeks will definitely determine whether the Republican, the Democratic or the Independent groups have the ability and sincerity to furnish it."

Lindsay said he was certain the voters who brought about recent political changes would not long be denied the fulfillment of principles for which they fought.

Alderman Seeking Records of Office

Albert J. Henning, former alderman of the Twenty-ninth Ward, today faced an order requiring him to show cause on April 20 why he has failed to yield the records of his former office to David A. Smith, his successor.

Alderman Smith appeared before Judge John P. Egan yesterday and charged that he had made numerous requests of Henning for the records. He sought a writ of mandamus to force the former alderman to yield the records.

Assembly Candidate Seeks City Manager

Proposing a city manager and five councilmen to replace the present form of Pittsburgh government, John F. O'Neil, of 134½ South Twenty-first street, is a candidate for the Legislature. O'Neil opposes party raiding and favors laws to benefit the "forgotten men."

RECORD CITED BY SCHNADER

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—(AP.)—Attorney General William A. Schnader, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, in his first campaign speech last night, asked support on the basis of his 11 years experience in state government.

Schnader served as deputy, and later as Attorney General under Governors Pinchot and John S. Fisher.

Schnader asserted he was not a candidate "of any person, group or faction," and added that his campaign "is dedicated to a full discussion of the problems of the commonwealth."

Labor Leader Runs For Assembly Seat

James A. Sipe, prominent in labor activities, has announced his candidacy for the Legislature in the Third District. Pledging a long series of social reforms, Sipe advocates the drawing up of a new state Constitution to embody them, and the passing of legislation necessary to enforce President Roosevelt's new deal.

Business Man Seeks Legislative Office

With a platform of varied social legislation, Stephen J. Walko, Jr., assistant credit manager of the George K. Stevenson Company, is a candidate for the Legislature from the Thirteenth District. Stating he has no political obligations, Walko pledges support of unemployment insurance, taxation of public utilities, old age pensions and abolition of coal and iron police.

GEN. CRONKHITE BACKS FOE OF ELLENBOGEN

Denying his indorsement of Congressman Henry Ellenbogen for re-election, Gen. Albert Cronkhite in a signed statement today pledged his support to Jacob Shulgold.

Ellenbogen and Shulgold are both running for Congress in the Thirty-third District, the former on the Democratic and Republican, the latter on the Republican ticket.

QUITS TICKETS

Ellenbogen last week gave out a statement from the general indorsing his candidacy.

But in the statement Shulgold presented today, Cronkhite states his personal influence will go for Shulgold as an old war comrade. He, however, expresses appreciation of Ellenbogen's support of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and of the veteran.

Al Tronzo, candidate for Legislature in the First District, has withdrawn from the Republican and Independent, but not the Democratic ticket, it was learned from Harrisburg today.

MRS. FELIX TO TALK

G. Malcolm MacDonald, Democratic attorney, and Mrs. F. Orr Johnson, candidate for Democratic county vice chairman, will speak on clean elections at a meeting of the Jefferson Club in the Schenley Hotel April 14. Mrs. Anne E. Felix will speak in support of her candidacy for Congress on the Democratic ticket in the Thirty-second district.

The Sun-Telegraph wishes to correct a previous misspelling of the name of Roy E. Noel, candidate for Legislature in the Seventh District. Noel, who lives at 1509 Arch street, favors unemployment insurance and progressive labor organization.

KITCHEN DEATH MYSTERY

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Convinced that Mrs. Margaret La Grasse, 27, was murdered, Delaware County authorities threw every resource at their command into solving the strange death of the woman whose body was found early today in the kitchen of her suburban home at Upper Darby.

The woman's husband, Arthur, who said he found the body when he returned home from a bowling match, was taken into custody and held for questioning.

Mrs. La Grasse's body lay on the kitchen floor near a gas range, the burners of which were open. This led police to believe she had committed suicide, until an examination by hospital doctors revealed death had been caused by a bullet fired through her heart.

Search of the La Grasse home revealed, detectives said, a small caliber revolver in an upstairs bedroom. The weapon was found on the bedroom floor near a pool of blood.

Poll Candidates On Realty Taxation

Candidates for public office in Allegheny County are to be asked by the Allegheny County Real Estate Owners and Taxpayers League how they stand on real estate taxation. I. Leonard Aronson, president of the league, said today that questionnaires will be sent to each candidate.

Smith Withholds Indorsement in Governor Race

Evidence that the Pinchot forces in Allegheny County, which rally around Judge Ralph H. Smith, are holding off approval of a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, was disclosed by the Judge last night in a speech before the North Side Chamber of Commerce. After outlining his views on politics, he said:

"No man should, and I shall not, be committed to any candidacy until we know what the candidate's plans are for our government."

So far none of the gubernatorial candidates has presented a platform. Judge Smith's speech was a contradiction of reports that the Pinchot following was lined up with Attorney General William A. Schnader.

G. Malcolm McDonald, urged by anti-organization Democrats to run against David L. Lawrence, incumbent, for county chairman, today eliminated himself as a candidate. He declared he wished to be free to support Judge Charles D. Copeland, of Westmoreland County, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, and could not do so while accepting support from other candidates if seeking the chairmanship.

Western Pennsylvania headquarters for Judge E. C. Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, will be opened tomorrow at 411 Grant street. Louis V. Barach, executive secretary of the Bonniwell committee in this section, will have charge.

Charles J. Margiotti, Republican gubernatorial candidate, in a telegram yesterday to the McKean County Sportsmen's Club, pledged efforts to take the State Fish and Game Commission out of politics if elected.

ACTRESS SUES LUMBER HEIR

International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Alice Merle La Mont, 23, beautiful film actress with brown curly hair and dazzling dark eyes, filed a $75,000 breach of promise suit today against Frederick F. Stimson, 30, heir to a lumber fortune.

Mrs. La Mont a divorcee, stated they were engaged four years, they obtained a marriage license last March 16—and she never saw her prospective husband again. She said:

"I don't know what happened. Freddy and I love each other, but outside influences have frustrated our marriage several times."

Cardinal Daugherty Fights Tax Lien

READING, Pa., April 6.—(AP.)—Dennis Cardinal Dougherty archbishop of Philadelphia, seeks to prevent Burgess Earl Neidig, of West Reading, from filing liens for taxes against a property in the borough.

Cardinal Dougherty, who took legal steps yesterday to block the Burgess' action, contends the property is tax exempt because it is used as a home for teachers of the Sacred Heart Parochial School.

Gangland 'Grave' Yields Third Body

SCRANTON, Pa., April 6.—(AP.)—A 250-foto pit, apparently a gangland grave, has yielded a third body and brought to a close a two-months search for Lester Levenson.

Levenson's body was found in the ice and debris at the bottom of an abandoned mine shaft in Old Forge yesterday. It was from the same shaft that the remains of Gene George Mitchell and Joseph Morano were taken on March 25.

Raid Grant Street Place as Speakeasy

In a raid on a building at 101 Grant street, police reported seizing five gallons of moonshine and arresting seven men, late yesterday. Andrew Avedis and Sam Bell were charged with violating the liquor laws and the others with visiting a disorderly house, according to police. They will be arraigned in Central Police Court today.

GLOBE TROTTING

Hello, Ladies and Gentlemen:

For the benefit of those veterans who were unable to listen to Lieut. Griffith yesterday on the radio, let me repeat the salient points in the talk he made.

He said that there were more than 300,000 bonus applications already and that they didn't constitute all of the veterans or dependents. Some have not made application yet.

The applications are being handled at the rate of 4,000 a day and that by July all applications will have been taken care of and the money sent out.

The reason that there is some delay now is the necessity of checking and rechecking applications so that no mistake will be made in the sending out of checks. In many cases this necessitates extensive correspondence between Harrisburg and Washington.

The checks are being sent out as nearly as possible in the numerical order of the applications, but there should be no cause for alarm in case those who have larger numbers have received theirs while those with smaller figures may still be waiting.

Springtime Invades Studios

By AIRCASTER

Day-dreaming announcers, this spring weather, are beginning to vie with the radio comedians, but most amusing of the boners is the one that Nat Shilkret made last Sunday, unwittingly adding a naive touch to his auto symphony concert.

The motor magnates who pay beaucoup dollars for the presentation proposed a bit of Easter music, and Shilkret hastily perused the shelves and selected a sacred opus, "Joy to the World."

Which seemed appropriate enough, only it is a Christmas carol.

* * *

Equally amusing, but more serious in its consequences, was the local announcement in the Ted Fiorito Wednesday show, which is put on in behalf of a cigaret manufacturer.

The spring-fevered announcer suffered a lapse and calmly told listeners that they were about to present a program sponsored by—(and here he absently named a rival brand of cigarets).

P. S. He lost the job!

* * *

The sudden change by a gasoline company presentation at WABC, from the sound-effects of a train supposed to take the show from town to town, to the effects of an automobile was effected when the patron of the show woke up to the fact that automobiles use gasoline, and trains don't

Defeat of Herron May Cost Pinchot His Help

By MARK SHIELDS

Mr. Shields

Refusal by the majority of the Board of County Commissioners, led by Chairman Charles C. McGovern, to approve the appointment of former Mayor John S. Herron as a member of the Allegheny County Authority is apt to have political repercussions in the pending senatorial primary, so far as the Republican party is concerned.

The Authority, made up now of J. C. Trees, William McK. Reed and Press Dowler, will spend an undetermined and unsecured fund, estimated at between twenty-five and thirty million dollars, for self-liquidating public works to be constructed in Allegheny County. The members of the Authority were selected by McGovern and Commissioner C. M. Barr, Commissioner William D. Mansfield yielding weakly when his original nominee, Herron, was rejected.

There are two prongs to the political consideration.

First was the fact that Herron, a regular Republican throughout his political life, is not overly friendly to Senator David A. Reed, who is opposed for the senatorial nomination to Gov. Gifford Pinchot, Progressive, whom McGovern has followed for years. It is assumed that McGovern will continue to follow him in this campaign, despite the fact he is miffed at the preferment in the dealing of patronage recently extended to Common Pleas Court Judge Ralph H. Smith.

* * *

Reed's Failure to Aid Herron Recalled

In the last municipal campaign, when Herron's public life was at stake, Senator Reed gave him no assistance. On the night the Senator was billed to speak at the biggest Republican rally of the campaign, he had an engagement to address the burghers of Northumberland County, none of whom vote for Mayor of Pittsburgh.

The result, the refusal of the senior Senator to do anything for the Republican organization in its hour of trial, was not designed to enthuse Mr. Herron for the Senator in his current predicament. It is known that he has expressed himself recently as not being obligated to go out on a limb for a man who never did anything for him, though the Senator always has expected as a vested right the support of the regular organization.

Under the circumstances, Mr. Herron might have been drawn into the Pinchot campaign, which needs all the steam it can procure. That fact might have been accomplished had Mr. McGovern seconded his nomination to the Authority when it was proposed by Mr. Mansfield. Because he did not, the Herron proposal fell by the wayside, and Mr. Mansfield had no alternative.

Neither did the McKeesport member of the Board of Commissioners have anything of protest, appearing to feel that his pledge had been fulfilled by the simple offering of the Herron name.

* * *

McGovern Backing for Ex-Mayor Reported

The failure of Mr. McGovern to second Mr. Herron was all the more remarkable in view of the fact that he has been quoted as stating in a rather large and representtive group that he would do so, though he would not advance the nomination, and that nothing had been advanced questioning Mr. Herron's qualifications for the position.

The second political angle is that Mr. McGovern may have feared future political repercussions. There has been talk that out of the Authority work might grow a county campaign in 1935 with Mr. Mansfield and Mr. Herron teamed as candidates for the Republican nominations for County Commissioners, lined up against Mr. McGovern and Mr. Barr in the event these two gentlemen determine to run again.

There are reports that Mr McGovern was actuated by word from Washington that the Authority must be kept free of politics. That may be, but there are few men qualified to fill the positions who have not at some time had an inter-relation with politics.

The whole thing is an interesting study in the effect upon the current campaign, particularly as Mr. Mansfield's determination to name Mr. Herron has been known for many months, and additionally because of the fact that had not Mr. Herron used his influence to clear away blockades, the Authority bill never could have passed the last session of the Legislature.

It was no good break for Mr. Pinchot.

Siam's King Unmoved By Revolt at Home

PARIS, April 6.—(AP.)—The King and Queen of Siam went to lunch with President Albert Lebrun today, unworried by an abortive revolt back home.

It was reported from Bangkok yesterday that a plot to overthrow the government of Premier Phya Bahol had been broken up with the arrest of leaders.

Barrymores Plan Yacht Trip North

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—(AP.)—John Barrymore and his wife, the former Dolores Costello of the screen, will sail Sunday with their two children on their yacht, Infanta, for a month's vacation cruise to British Columbia. Barrymore said he plans to fish and hunt.

PWA TEST CASE PLANNED TO AID COUNTY

McGovern Lauds Suit As Indication Loan Will Be Granted

A test case to determine the constitutionality of the legislative act setting up the Allegheny County Authority will be filed in the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, the Associated Press reported from Washington today.

The agreement to file the test suit, made by the legal division of the Public Works Administration and county representatives, was interpreted here as an indication that the government was ready to grant the money as soon as constitutionality is assured.

M'GOVERN PLEASED

County Commissioner C. C. McGovern said:

"I believe this shows the government is favorably impressed with our projects because it was from it that the test case suggestion came."

McGovern, however, said that the county was convinced of the authority's constitutionality after intensive study of that question. The court action, it is expected, would take the form of a taxpayer's suit to be filed within 10 days.

In Washington today for the county were County Solicitor J. P. Fife, Assistant Solicitor Ralph Frank, and E. L. Schmidt, County Planning Commission chairman.

Meanwhile a party of prominent public and business officials of the county was being planned to go to Washington to confer with Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, possibly on April 12.

AUTHORITY MEMBERS

The three members appointed to the authority, J. C. Trees, W. McK. Reed and Press C. Dowler, will be in the group, with Walter Rosenbaum, A. H. Burchfield, County Controller Robert G. Woodside and others.

In a letter to Washington seeking to arrange the appointment, McGovern stated he would like time to present a brief showing why Allegheny County merits a $30,000,000 loan to construct public improvements.

EIGHT DETOURS IN STATE ROADS

The Pittsburgh Motor Club today announced that eight new detours will be established in Western Pennsylvania next Week. Among them are the following: Route 8 from Bakerstown to Butler; alternate U. S. Route 22 from Cresson to Ebensburg; U. S. Route 22 from Ebensburg to Mundys Corner.

According to the announcement, appropriations for road work by federal and state governments are larger than usual this year and will result in relocation and improvement of many miles of highway.

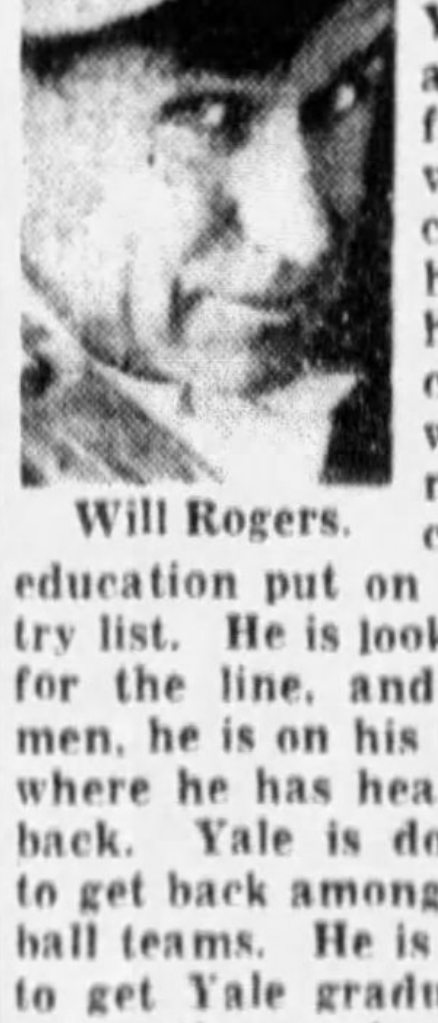
GIRL IN VALLEE CASE HERE

Alice Faye, blonde screen actress and mentioned in the marital tangles of Mrs. Fay Webb Vallee and her radio band leader, Rudy Vallee, paused in Pittsburgh last night on an airplane trip from the Pacific Coast long enough to say she was en route to New York to buy new dresses for her forthcoming picture.

She said she might see Vallee while in New York, but refused to talk about the pending divorce action. Lyle Talbot, mentioned as her frequent Hollywood escort, was described as "just a good friend."

WILL ROGERS SAYS

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 5.
To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:



Will Rogers.

Out to the studio here where we are working night and day on a picture come Dr. Professor Angle of Yale. I had always thought that a fellow from Santa Barbara named Harkness was the Angle of Yale. This was an awful nice fellow, and a very pleasant charming wife, he wanted me to help him on a couple of things, wants to get Yale made a CCC camp, and have education put on the basic industry list. He is looking for five men for the line, and three backfield men, he is on his way to Honolulu where he has heard of a quarterback. Yale is doing all she can to get back among the 400 of football teams. He is doing all he can to get Yale graduates to take up some other work than "braintrusting," he thinks its a business that wont last.

Yours,
WILL.

100TH BIRTHDAY MARKED BY ELIZABETH

Borough to Climax Celebration With Pageant

Elizabeth citizens opened the celebration of the one hundredth birthday of their borough last night with a meeting in Elizabeth High School.

Development of the community from a settlement of 35 persons in 1768 on a strip of land obtained by the Penn colony from the Iroquois Indians to the present thriving borough was told by R. T. Wiley, historian and former editor of the Elizabeth Herald.

The community was named after Elizabeth, wife of Col. Stephen Bayard, an early settler. It was incorporated as a borough 100 years ago yesterday with the signing of the incorporation act by Gov. George Wolf.

Former Congressman William H. Coleman sketched the development of Elizabeth in connection with the growth of the entire Western Pennsylvania district.

Samuel W. Graebing presided. Sherwin M. Wylie is chairman of the centennial executive committee.

The next feature of the observance, which will continue into July, will be presentation of "Follies of 1934" April 16 and 17 by volunteer firemen of Elrama in the Elizabeth High School auditorium. More than 100 persons will participate.

Varied programs will be held from time to time, with the climax set for July 2, 3 and 4, when a pageant, depicting the history of Elizabeth, will be held.

TELLER SPEAKS AT DEDICATION

Mr. Teller

Sidney Teller, director of Irene Kaufmann Settlement, will be one of the speakers at the dedication ceremonies to be held in the Fernando Street Community Center, 43 Fernando street, Sunday. The program will include a reception and tea, addresses and a concert by Civil Works Administration musicians.

Housed in a three-story building made available by the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary, the institution will provide recreational and educational opportunities for residents of the Hill district. An auditorium will be used for neighborhood entertainments and motion picture programs.

BURNED CHURCH TO BE REBUILT

Two committees were named by the board of trustees of the Springdale United Presbyterian Church, Springdale, to launch plans for replacing the 60-year-old structure destroyed by fire early yesterday.

The meeting was held last night in the home of the Rev. E. V. Condron, pastor of the church, who said the building was insured for $30,000. R. L. Harbison, R. I. Elder, T. W. Hall, Robert Knox Elder and Richard Harry Karns were named an adjustment committee to handle the insurance, while nominations for a building committee will be made by E. W. Seigfried, W. J. Miller and W. A. Clowes.

With 14 years' experience as assistant chief clerk of the Pennsylvania House and Senate, William A. Hillgrove has declared as a senatorial candidate from the Thirty-eighth District.

Hillgrove pledges abolishment of slums, sweatshops and privately paid deputy sheriffs, a popular referendum on remaining blue laws and support of numerous social legislation projects.

Brook Exhibit Offers Paintings of Merit

One-Man Show Well Up to Precedent At Institute

By PENELOPE REDD

Miss Redd

The special exhibition of paintings by Alexander Brook, now on view at the Carnegie Institute until May 17, is a worthy successor of the one-man shows of Bellows, Kent, and Speicher, held in past years at the Institute. Brook, as did his predecessors in the contemporary American school, early manifested talent of a high order in painting.

The 45 canvases in the collection represent every kind of painting that has engaged his attention. Of the still life subjects, "Broken Pitcher" may be cited as an idiomatic study in form. Of his landscapes, "Evening," a small one, is a moving memory of a sharply darkening twilight.

Brook's searching studies of children include "Belinda Standing," in a frock of glowing rose. A sleepy "Biddy and Sandy" are richly painted, without a trace of sentimentality.

Of the many figures of women, "Against the Sky," "Spangled Shawl," "Isis," "Navajo Blanket" and "Evening Wrap" make a choice difficult.

His pictures of his wife, Peggy Bacon, transcend the matter of conventional portraits to become singular treatises on an extraordinary personage. Miss Bacon is our foremost satirist in the graphic arts.

Alexander Brook, well under 40 years of age, easily leads any of his contemporaries. At the age of 17 he entered the Art Students' League and was chiefly under the tutelage of Kenneth Hayes Miller, who has trained more painters of this younger group than any other teacher.

Mr. Brook's first exhibition was auspiciously conducted in 1922 at the invitation of Joseph Brummer, who arranged a joint show of the works of Brook and his bride, Peggy Bacon. Alexander Brook deserves every official honor he has garnered and should inspire the respect of laymen who want to study the work as a whole of an able young American artist. Mr. Brook has a future seemingly without limitations.

There's Room for Huey to Dodge On Capital Steps

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Senator Long is rapidly turning dignity in the Senate into fun in a Turkish bath.

On Tuesday he refused a duel with bare knuckles at 20 paces. Honor can only be avenged at 10.

On Wednesday he challenged an attorney to come outside on the Capitol steps. That sounds like close work, until you realize there are several hundred Capitol steps. With plenty of columns to serve as ambush. And in case of a tie there is always an equestrian statue of an immortal hero to climb.

Looks like Huey won't be happy until they augment the daily roll call with a list of wounded and missing.

FOUR IN FIGHT, ONE SHOT

An argument among four Negroes, including a special patrolman, in front of an East Liberty restaurant last night, resulted in the shooting of one of the alleged participants and arrest of the quartet.

Ben Norris, 30, who gave his address as 5712 Baum boulevard, was taken to Homeopathic Hospital with a bullet in the left leg. He was alleged to have been shot by Special Patrolman Charles Walker, who said he was attacked by Norris and two brothers, Daniel and Edward Snyder, 6305 Joseph street, according to East Liberty police.

The shooting occurred in the 6300 block, Frankstown avenue.

5 PERSONS HELD AFTER HILL FIRE

Accusations flew thick and fast at the Center Avenue Police Station early today as two Negroes blamed each other for having started four fires in a house at 132 Wooster street, according to police.

The two men, David Sharpston, 42, and James Small, 43, were held for a hearing on charges of arson. Three other Negroes — Major Clark, 37; Alex Wolfson, 40, and his wife, Pearl, 29—were held as material witnesses.

Police responding to a number of calls from the house said they found three fires of paper and matches on the second floor and one on the first.

Shack Fire Lures Crowd to Watch

Flames that destroyed a jobless man's shack on the cliff below Bluff street, opposite Duquesne University, illuminated the hillside and attracted hundreds of motorists in the Boulevard of the Allies and the Liberty Bridge last night.

The shack, situated between the boulevard and Bluff street, was enveloped by flames when firemen arrived. They stretched lines from the bluff and the Boulevard and extinguished the smoldering embers.

EXPECT TO TAKE 5 MORE LINKED IN HOLDUPS

Gun Duel Leads to Sandusky Street Den Of Suspects

With three men and one woman under arrest, detectives today said they had rounded up the leaders of a gang suspected of perpetrating at least 15 holdups and one kidnaping in recent weeks.

Five other members of the accused gang have been implicated, the police said, and their arrests were expected shortly.

Those in custody are: William Isett, 22; Edward Farren, Clyde Butler, 24, and his wife, Beulah, 23, of 307 Sandusky street.

Isett was captured by Detectives Earl McDonald and Patrolman Charles McClelland on Plush way last night after a chase punctuated by running gunfire.

Isett's companion escaped, but later Farren was seized in his home, 330 Porter street, and held as Isett's partner.

Detective McDonald said they confessed holding up several Brass Rail restaurants, and the kidnaping of William Carter, a salesman, of 18 East Robinson street.

Carter, the police said, was seized at his home a month ago and held captive during a night of stickups and robberies. He was freed the next morning unharmed, the police explaining that he apparently had been taken along by the robbers as a "front" in case of trouble.

The police said they believe Butler's home was used as headquarters for the gang.

Captured by radio patrolmen after they had fired several shots in the air, Ignatius Krakosi, 26, Paulowna street, former Western Penitentiary convict, was under arrest in East End Police Station on a charge of attempted burglary.

He was alleged to have been surprised by the patrolmen as he was attempting to enter a Chislett street home.

Raymond Belmont Pneumonia Victim

LEESBURG, Va., April 6.—(AP.)—Raymond Belmont, 45, son of the late August Belmont, nationally famous financier, died of pneumonia at his home, "Belray," at Middleburg, near here yesterday.

Raymond Belmont was one of the best known gentleman riders in the country and owner of several famous horses. His gray gelding Oracle was twice winner of the Maryland Hunt Cup.

He had made his home at "Belray" since the World War, in which he served.

Emporium Woman On Cameron Board

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot today appointed Mrs. Perna Klees, of Emporium, to the board of trustees of the mothers assistance fund of Cameron County.

'Paddy' Nee Freed Again On Federal Parole

Patrick A. (Paddy) Nee, 66, of Beechview, known among the sporting fraternity of Pittsburgh as a "square shooter," late yesterday was released from the County Jail and for a second time paroled by the Federal Parole Board at Washington. He was to have been removed tomorrow from jail to the government penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., to complete a year and one day term he was serving when paroled November 30, 193'.

Mayor W. N. McNair, while mayor-elect, was indirectly responsible for the latter parole being revoked. Prior to his inauguration the mayor-elect visited a Market street "bookie" establishment to run down a rumor that a "fixer" had been named for the incoming city administration.

Nee, who, a short time before had been paroled from the penitentiary after serving eight and a half months of his sentence for violating the narcotic law, was in the "bookie" place. His meeting with the mayor-elect brought him into the limelight. When the Washington authorities heard of it, through an investigation conducted by Probation Officer George G. O'Brien, his parole was revoked because he visited the place. On February 16 he was arrested and lodged in jail pending removal to the penitentiary.

Since many friends interceded in his behalf under the new instructions Nee will be at liberty under parole until he completes his unfinished sentence, and must report to O'Brien at regular intervals. Ever since his re-arrest, Nee and also his friends have maintained he had nothing whatever to do with the bookie establishment, and had merely gone there to see a friend when he had his encounter with the mayor-elect.

VETERANS ASK FLAG DISPLAY AS TRIBUTE

In observance of Army Day today, officers of the Gen. Lloyd M. Brett Post, the Eightieth Division Veterans' Association, today appealed to Pittsburghers for a general display of the American flag throughout the city as a tribute to their soldiers.

Commander Frank T. Floyd and Adjt. C. R. Haley, of the General Brett Post, issued the appeal.

Maj. Gen. Adelbert Cronkhite, war-time commander of the 80th Division, under whom 13,000 Pittsburghers served during the World War, indorsed the Army Day observance. He said:

> "It is a patriotic duty of citizens in time of peace to honor and pay tribute to the Army, its guarantee of home and safety in time of war. I should like to see our flag unfurled from every home and building in Pittsburgh."

Col. E. G. Peyton, national commander of the 80th Division Veterans' Association, said Army Day emphasizes the need for an adequate national defense.

Col. Peyton, in the current issue of the Service Magazine, advocates that all civic and fraternal organizations should join in a co-operative movement in support of national defense.

ASTOR SUPPORT TRIAL BEGINS

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(AP.)—The suit of Mary Astor's parents seeking to compel the motion picture actress to support them goes to trial today with a bitter contest predicted by attorneys.

Counsel for the actress, L. B. Gallagher, said:

> "Miss Astor would prefer to settle this matter out of court, but there seems little probability of a settlement."

Mark F. Jones, counsel for the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Langhanke, formerly of Quincy, Ill., and Chicago, said:

> "No settlement overtures have been made. It appears necessary to go through with the trial."

The parents complained they are without funds, have little food and face the loss of their $200,000 estate against which there is a $14,000 mortgage.

Miss Astor, on the other hand, declared that for nine years, until she was 23 years old, while she earned from $1,000 to $3,000 weekly, all her earnings, with the exception of $5 weekly "spending money," went to her father.

CANNONHEIRESS ASKS DIVORCE

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 6.—(AP.)—While her husband prepared to file a $250,000 alienation of affections suit against her father, Mrs. Anne Cannon Smith brought suit here yesterday for a divorce from F. Brandon Smith, Jr., Charlotte, N. C., real estate man.

The former wife of the late Smith Reynolds, Jr., of the Winston-Salem tobacco family, and daughter of Joseph F. Cannon, millionaire Concord, N. C., textile manufacturer, sought the decree on grounds of general indignities.

Under the 90-day divorce law, a decree cannot be issued for 30 days. Mrs. Smith established residence here two months ago for the purpose of seeking a divorce.

ESCAPE FORCES GUN TESTS

Daily inspections of weapons of guards at the County Jail farm annex at Blawnox, were ordered by Warden John McNeil following the short-lived escape of a Negro prisoner.

The prisoner was pursued by a guard, who attempted to fire his gun, but found that the shells had been removed, apparently by a practical joker. The prisoner, serving a three-month term for a petty offense, was later captured in Crafton and will be tried for jail breaking.

The name of the gaurd was not divulged by McNeil, who immediately ordered the gun inspections.

Wired Mate Money In Vain, She's Free

After 33 years of marriage Mrs. Olive W. Brooks, of 900 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, was single again today because she telegraphed her husband $35.

She was granted a divorce from Harry E. Brooks by Judge Elder W. Marshall yesterday when she testified she sent her husband the money when he was in Louisiana, and he failed to return.

AFRICA'S RACE PROBLEM TOLD

South Africa now presents the most serious race problem of any country on earth, Max Yergan, Negro secretary of the Y. M. C. A. international committee, said here today.

For the past 15 years, Yergan has been working to found Y. M. C. A. centers and schools in South Africa. He speaks on "Pioneering Good Will in Africa" at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock tonight.

For his work in Africa, Yergan has been awarded the Spingarn medal for 1933 for the most distinguished service by a member of the Negro race.

He points out that Europeans, intent on developing Africa's mineral treasure, have transformed this part of the "dark continent" into a progressive nation in just 30 years. But natives, he says, have been compelled to adapt themselves too soon to a changed mode of life. Only a few have been able to get an education.

The white men use African labor, Yergan points out, but Negroes are restrained by the most rigid racial discriminations.

Two Girls Arrested In Stabbing of Third

Gladys Costley, 19, Negro, 18 Arcena street, was in Passavant Hospital today with a stab wound near the heart as a result of a fight in a house at rear 2 Shomin street, last night. Marmetta Hall, 22, and Elizabeth Eason, 19, both Negroes, of the latter address, were arrested in connection with the affair, police said.

The Eason girl was alleged by police to have held the victim as the Hall girl stabbed her after an argument over a man.

Court Blocks Suit Against Jack Oakie

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(AP.)—Marty Martyn's suit charging the motion picture comedian, Jack Oakie, called him a "chiseler" was held yesterday to lack a sufficient cause for court action.

Judge Thomas P. White sustained Oakie's demurer to the $125,000 slander action brought by the dance instructor. Martyn has 10 days in which to amend the complaint.

GANDHI TO AID IN VOTE DRIVE

PATNA, India, April 6.—(AP.)—Mahatma Gandhi has taken a step toward the abandonment of his policy of non co-operation with the government, joining forces with the Swarajists, who hope to capture the provincial legislatures in the coming elections.

The Swaraj party wants control of the assemblies in order to force complete scrapping of the White Paper on Indian constitutional reform, issued in London in March, 1933, and the substitution of an Indian constitution less objectionable to them.

For two days intensive conversation have been going on between the Mahatma and Swarajists. The latter urged that he join, and while indicating that he was unwilling at present to abandon entirely his program of non-co-operation, the Mahatma agreed to the proposals and welcomed a general revival of the Swahaj party. He offered aid in preparing an election campaign.

Factor Says Films Failed to Lure Him

CHICAGO, Ajjril 6.—(AP.)—John Factor, speculator (Jake the Barber), returned to Chicago from the West Coast yesterday and put an end to all rumors he was about to enter the movies. He said he was interested in making a picture, but had been offered "several contracts," all of which he turned down.

He made the trip West, he said, to visit his young son, who "is very ill."

JUDGE URGES MERGERS TO CUT TAXES

Abolition of fee offices and the consolidation of the city and county board of property assessors was urged by Common Pleas Court Judge Ralph H. Smith last night in an address before 200 members of the North Side Chamber of Commerce. Judge Smith proposed consolidation of all duplicating and overlapping governmental units in the interests of economy.

The jurist further suggested consolidation of all welfare and relief agencies into one central board. He said:

"It is foolish to have the city operate Mayview, Leech Farm and the Municipal Hospital, and the county operating Woodville and distributing outdoor relief. One administrative board would cut down the operating cost."

Judge Smith also urged abolition of tax exempt securities, a redistribution of wealth, equalization of the tax burden and uniform assessment.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

New issues, in addition to the consolidation of overlapping governmental bodies, named by Judge Smith, included unemployment insurance, old age pensions, child labor abolition, mothers' assistance and a minmum wage law.

The jurist also declared that the day when a Governor of Pennsylvania can be elected by bargaining and dickering has past, adding:

"The next man elected to the office will be the one that comes before the people and declares his stand on the 'new issues' of the day. For my part I shall never be committed to any candidate in this campaign until that candidate speaks out and lets me know where he stands.

"You and I have recently seen a number of attempts by futile and feeble members of an obsolete organization to get together and pick a candidate for Governor for us. They stupidly fail to realize that the day is gone forever when political bosses gather in a back room in the atmosphere of tobacco smoke and 'dealing' to pick a candidate and hand it to us.

"The next Governor of this commonwealth will be chosen by the people."

MAYOR CITES TAX REFORM NEED

San Franciscan Says U. S. Has Most Overlapping

Calling for governmental reform and citing the need of drastic reduction in the number of governmental units in the United States, Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, of San Francisco, has declared that the governments of the ancient Roman Empire were never as highly and expensively organized as the United States of today.

The chief executive of San Francisco stated that the United States today has more overlapping and duplicating governmental units than have existed anywhere else in the entire history of the world. Even today, the British Empire, with possessions scattered throughout the world, does not possess as many separate pieces of governmental machinery as does the United States.

RADIO ADDRESS

The Mayor of San Francisco made his attack on the present governmental structure of the United States in a recent nation-wide radio address. His speech, "Not Less Government, but Less Governments," is one of several being presented by the United States Conference of Mayors. The series of addresses is part of a program to present facts instead of guesses in government.

Mayor Rossi is one of the outstanding advocates for governmental economy. His city has enjoyed a unique position among American cities in that for several years its city and county governments have been consolidated into one unit known as the city and county of San Francisco.

Mayor Rossi pointed out that there are almost two hundred thousand different units of government in the United States which means, roughly, one distinct piece of governmental machinery for every 60 inhabitants of the nation.

SIMPLICITY NEED

He said:

"For our government, as a whole, every good American has the profoundest respect. But surely it is not too much to say that as far as sub-division of our government is concerned, we have more than enough.

"We should simplify this huge system of government machinery. By simplifying it we shall in no way interfere with its efficiency.

"We know that as a matter of fact, the simpler the setup of government, the more concerted the organization and the more efficient government becomes.

PROGRAM PRACTICAL

"And when we consider the matter of expense, there can be no argument at all. Government costs money. Money in this case means taxes and you and I are paying these costs.

"These costs can be reduced —if duplications of government are abolished and overlapping authorities are consolidated; in other words, if governmental units are reduced in number to the end that government may be simplified.

"Let us reduce the number of our factors of government. It can be done without sacrificing a single beneficial service. We can all get along admirably—We can get along more economically with a great many less governments than we have at present."

W. VA. SALES TAX DUE MAY 1

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 6.—(AP.)—Preparation of forms for making returns under the 2 per cent consumers' sales tax law was under way today by the office of Tax Commissioner Fox.

The first payments are due on May 1. Returns not received by May 15 will be declared delinquent. Fox is giving study to what penalties may be imposed for delinquency.

The only exception to the requirement of monthly returns is small businesses, where the tax collection is less than $10 in a month, then returns may be made quarterly.

The commissioner's new rulings included one that taxicab drivers must collect the tax with their fares and that the tax is applicable to dry cleaning and laundry.

State Chamber Urges Tax Increase Study

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(AP.)—The State Chamber of Commerce is urging all its members to study the wide difference between state and local government costs and taxes.

In letters calling attention to the United States Department of Commerce report on financial statistics of state and local governments, the chamber points out that, while local taxes increased 54 per cent between 1922 and 1932, state taxes and licenses rose 140 per cent.

United States tabulations show Pennsylvania's total local property taxes rose from $239,795,000 in 1922 to $370,671,775 in 1932.

State taxes and licenses are given at $70,467,966 in 1922 and $167,404,264 in 1932.

Revenue receipts of the commonwealth are given for 1932 as $626,563,214, out of which school districts drew 20.1 per cent; cities, boroughs and towns, 28.9 per cent; state government, 27.1, and counties, 10.1 per cent.

Government cost for the state was $681,925,600, of which the cities, boroughs and towns took 3.2 per cent; schools, 27.4; the state, 24.3, and counties, 11.8.

The net debt of the state government rose 51.8 per cent in the 10 years, while that of local governments increased 127.4 per cent.

Women Authors Of This State Outstanding

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 6.—Most of the outstanding women authors of the day are Pennsylvanians. Nearly all of these women writers have college degrees, Miss Cranmer said, only 23 of the 160 having received their education in private schools or from tutors.

In addition to novels and biography, the interests represented in the books of these Pennsylvanians range from the profundities of the law to juvenile fiction; they include poetry, music, art and statistics, archeaeology, and ethonology, 11 other sciences, travel, criticism, religion, school savings, floriculture and interior decoration. Only three of the 160 are professional librarians, Miss Cranmer said. Nine Entries In Drama Contest

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

Nine entries have been made in the Pittsburgh Drama League's annual amateur players' contest, which will be held in the Irene Kaufmann Settlement April 24, 25, 26 and 27. And in addition to the nine competing plays, the program will include "No Room at the Inn," a religious drama by Esther E. Olson, to be given by students from the Western Pennsylvania School for the Blind.

This presentation will be made during the time the audience is waiting for the award decisions. The players, all of whom are high school students, are not all blind, but their vision is impaired to such an extent that they can not attend public school.

They are directed in the play by Miss Anne Hutchings and Miss Virginia Hooff, and include Jean Kennedy, Grace Kildare, John McMichael, Francis Baginski, Josephine Kunetskie, Milton Campbell, Guy Pantano and Charles Renner. There will also be chorals by the girls' double quartet under the direction of Cora Hines.

Thousands Here Writing Simplified History in Mt. Rushmore Memorial Competition

Roosevelt Declared Panama Building Added to World Prestige of United States

Members of more than 400 organizations in Western Pennsylvania, besides thousands of Boy Scouts, today were numbered among groups actively participating in the Mount Rushmore National Memorial Inscription competition.

Added to this swelling number of adults are thousands of students in public and parish schools, colleges and universities in Eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania. Another prominent patriotic group today was preparing to name its committee chairman. Announcement of this participation will be made Sunday.

In the meantime, thousands of individuals unattached to women's civic and patriotic groups were bending their efforts to submit a 600-word history of the nation in the competition being conducted by the Sun-Telegraph and associted Hearst newspapers. Complete rules will be printed in the Sunday Sun-Telegraph. A handy folder is available at the Sun-Telegraph downtown office, Fifth avenue and Market street, free for the asking, giving all details.

(Editor's Note. This is the final of a series of articles by Mr. Woodhouse on the nine episodes in American history that are to be recounted in the Mt. Rushmore Memorial.)

By HENRY WOODHOUSE.

In a message to Congress dated January 4, 1904, President Theodore Roosevelt, referring to the plan to build the Panama Canal, stated:

"If ever a government could be said to have received a mandate from civilization to effect an object the accomplishment of which was demanded in the interest of mankind, the United States holds that position with regard to the inter-oceanic canal.

"Great Britain renounced important rights under the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, receiving in return nothing but our honorable pledge to build the canal and protect it as an open highway."

President Roosevelt then referred to a resolution adopted by the second Pan-American Conference, held at Mexico City, January 22, 1902, which commended the proposal to build the Panama Canal, as follows:

"The republics assembled at the International Conference of Mexico applaud the purpose of the United States Government to construct an inter-oceanic canal, and acknowledge that this work will not only be worthy of the greatness of the American people, but also in the highest sense a work of civilization.

VITAL TO DEFENSE

In addition to the benefits which would be derived by mankind generally from providing a gateway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, President Roosevelt pointed out that Panama Canal was indispensable to the United States for national defense, as follows:

"In all the range of our international relations, I do not hesitate to affirm that there is nothing of greater importance than the construction of an inter-oceanic canal.

"Long acknowledged to be essential to our commercial development, it has become, as the result of the recent extension of our territorial dominion, more than ever essential to our national self defense.

"Reasons of convenience have been superseded by reasons of vital necessity, which do not admit of indefinite delays."

Until the Panama Canal was built the world's ships had to sail around the South American continent, through the Strait of Magellan or around Cape Horn to go from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and vice versa.

BETTERED DEFENSE

From New York to Honolulu was a distance of 13,200 miles, as against 6,750 miles by way of Panama Canal!

From San Francisco to New York was 13,090 miles, to Boston was 14,124 miles. Panama Canal cut the distance to less than half!

Without Panama Canal the United States Navy required practically twice as many ships to protect the Atlantic and the Pacific, since the distance between the American seaboards to be protected was so enormous.

Overcoming the many difficulties, the United States, under the inspiring leadership of President Theodore Roosevelt, acquired the Panama Canal Zone and built the canal.

The act authorizing the purchase of the rights of the French company to Panama Canal or the construction of the Nicaragua Canal was signed by President Roosevelt, June 28, 1902.

GOETHALS GOVERNOR

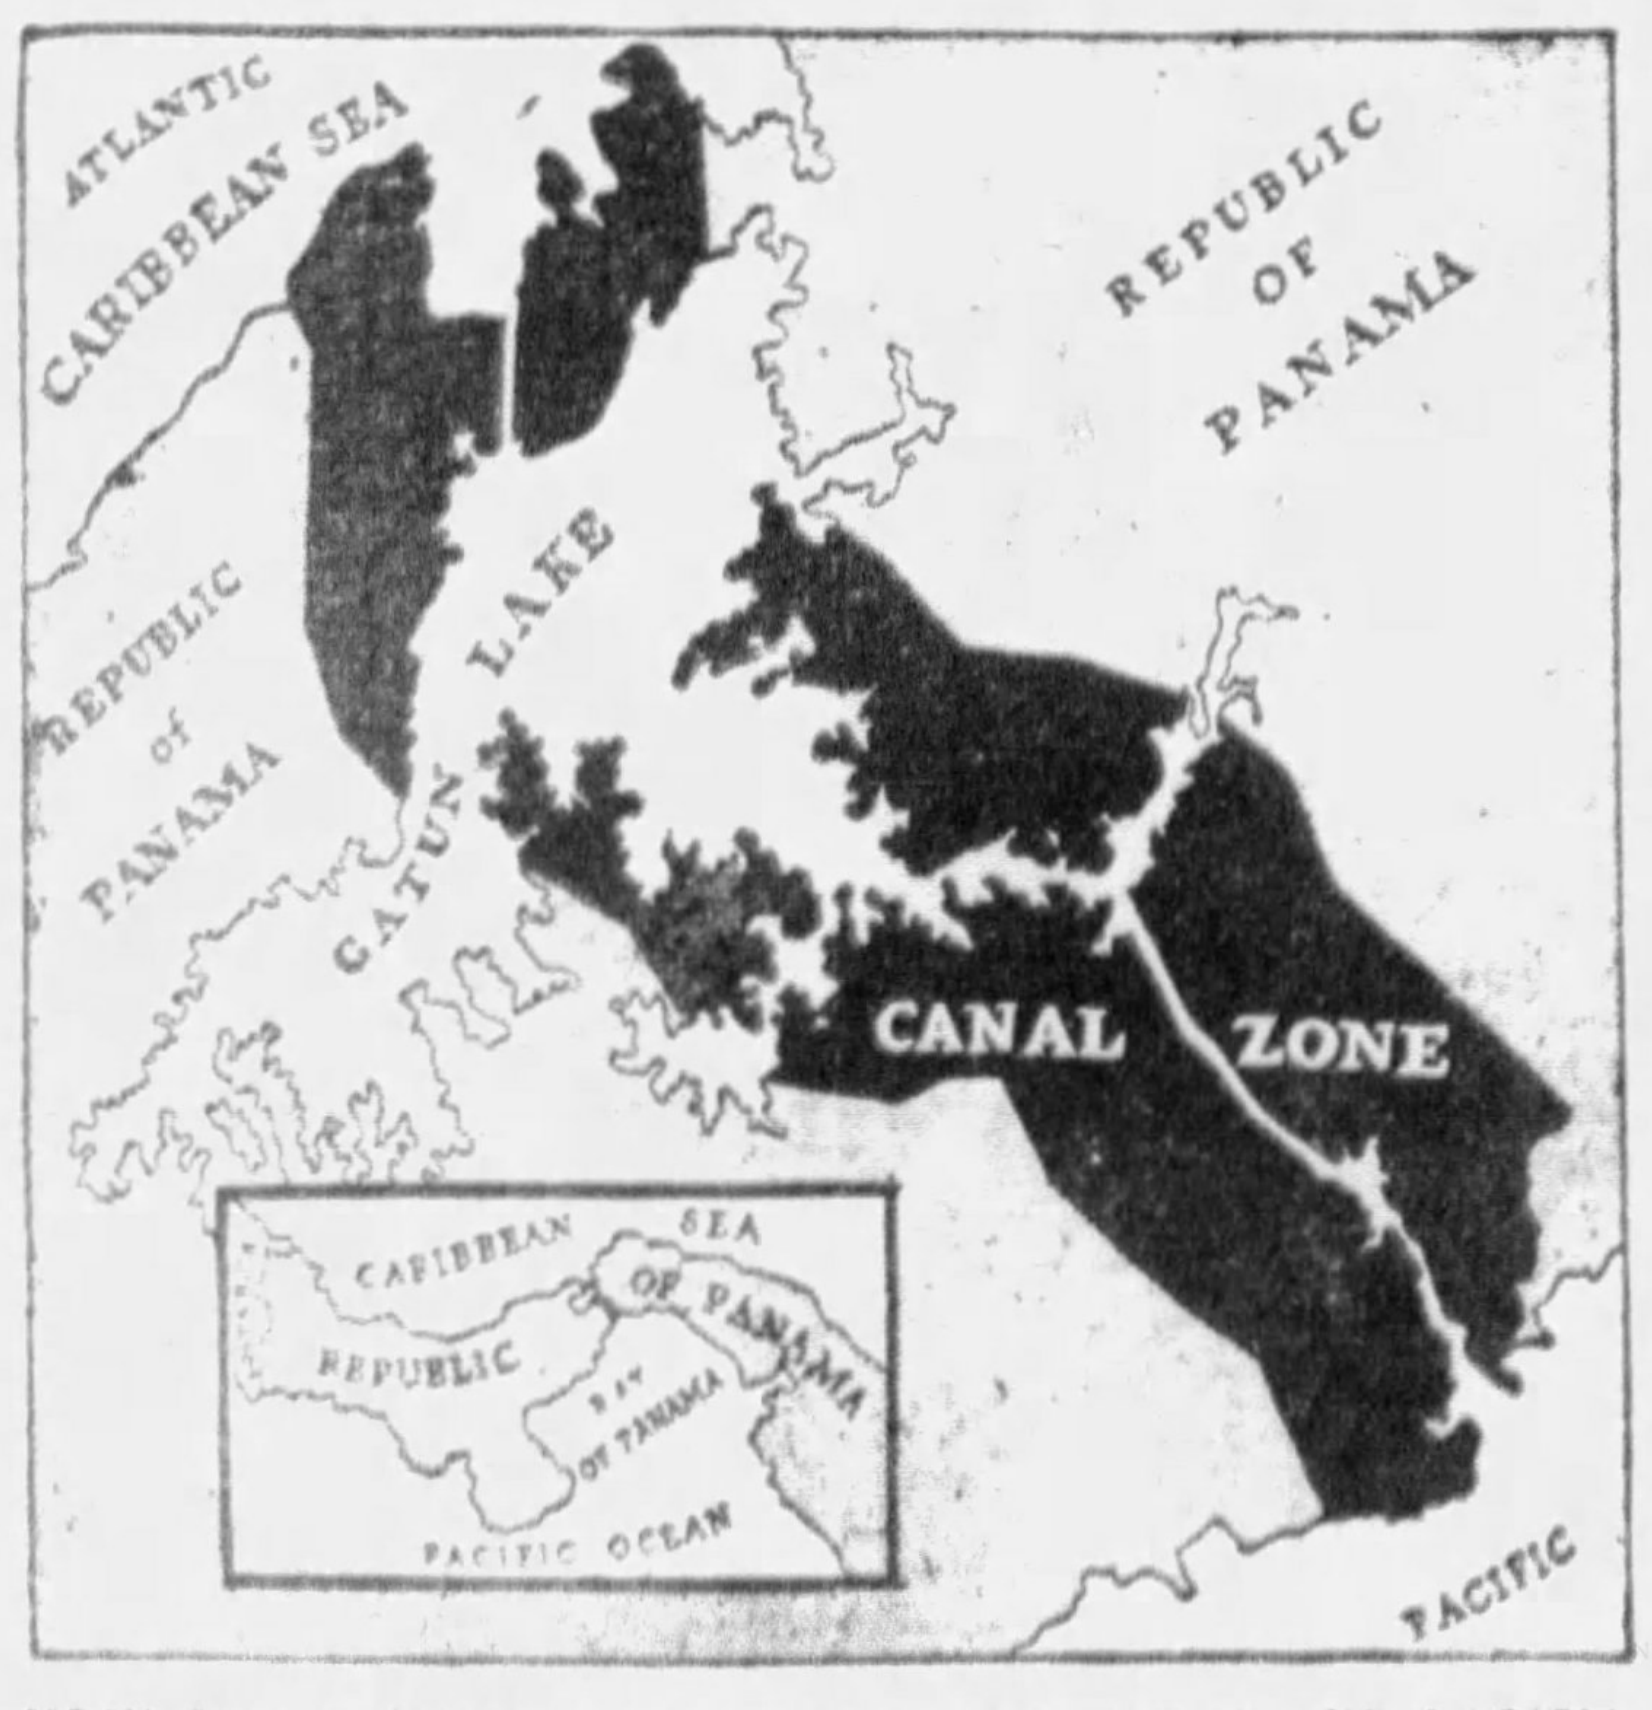
The treaty with Panama was signed February 26, 1924, and the purchase of the rights of the French company to Panama Canal for $40,000,000 was made in April, 1904.

The organization of the Panama Canal administration, with Gen. George W. Goethals as first governor, took place April 1, 1914, and the opening of Panama Canal to traffic took place August 15, 1914.

In 12 brief years the United States cut down the barrier that had separated the Atlantic from the Pacific, and created a geographic shortcut that has benefitted all mankind.

It can be readily seen that the Panama Canal was an indispensable factor in the future greatness of the United States, and is a fitting event to be immortalized in the 600-word inscription, to be carved on Mount Rushmore, as part of the national memorial.

AMERICA'S GREAT CANAL



HOW THE PANAMA CANAL JOINED ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC

The location of the Panama Canal and the Canal Zone, rented to the U. S. from year-to-year by the Republic of Panama. Before the canal was built (it took 12 years), the sailing distance from New York to Honolulu around South America was 13,200 miles. Now it's 6,750.

ACTRESS DENIED ALIMONY

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP)—Kathryn Ray, former show girl, was denied an application for $2,000 a month temporary alimony yesterday on the ground that she had "failed to show the existence of valid marriage."

Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook made the dicision. Miss Ray's application, which included $10,000 counsel fees, was sought pending trial of her separation suit from Martin De Algaga, wealthy Argentine.

The two were married last year in Orange N. J. Her husband opposed the application on the ground that her divorce from Harold K. Hass in Mexico in 1930 was invalid.

NO NEW SUIT COMPLETE WITHOUT ITS CHIC BLOUSES

By PRUNELLA WOOD

IT IS an old story that a blouse is half a costume, but timid women who see their heart's desire in shirtwaists price tagged rather high love to be reminded of this. It's a fact that a good coat and skirt can pay its way over and over again, but its versatility depends on the wealth of accessories provided for it.

* * *

SO WHY not give in to some confection made of hand-tucked linen, organza or georgette of sheerest charm? It will dress you up as twice the sum spent on a so-so dress will not, and there is no doubt that at this season, a good tailleur, titivated in this manner, is the very smartest afternoon costume for cafes and cards.

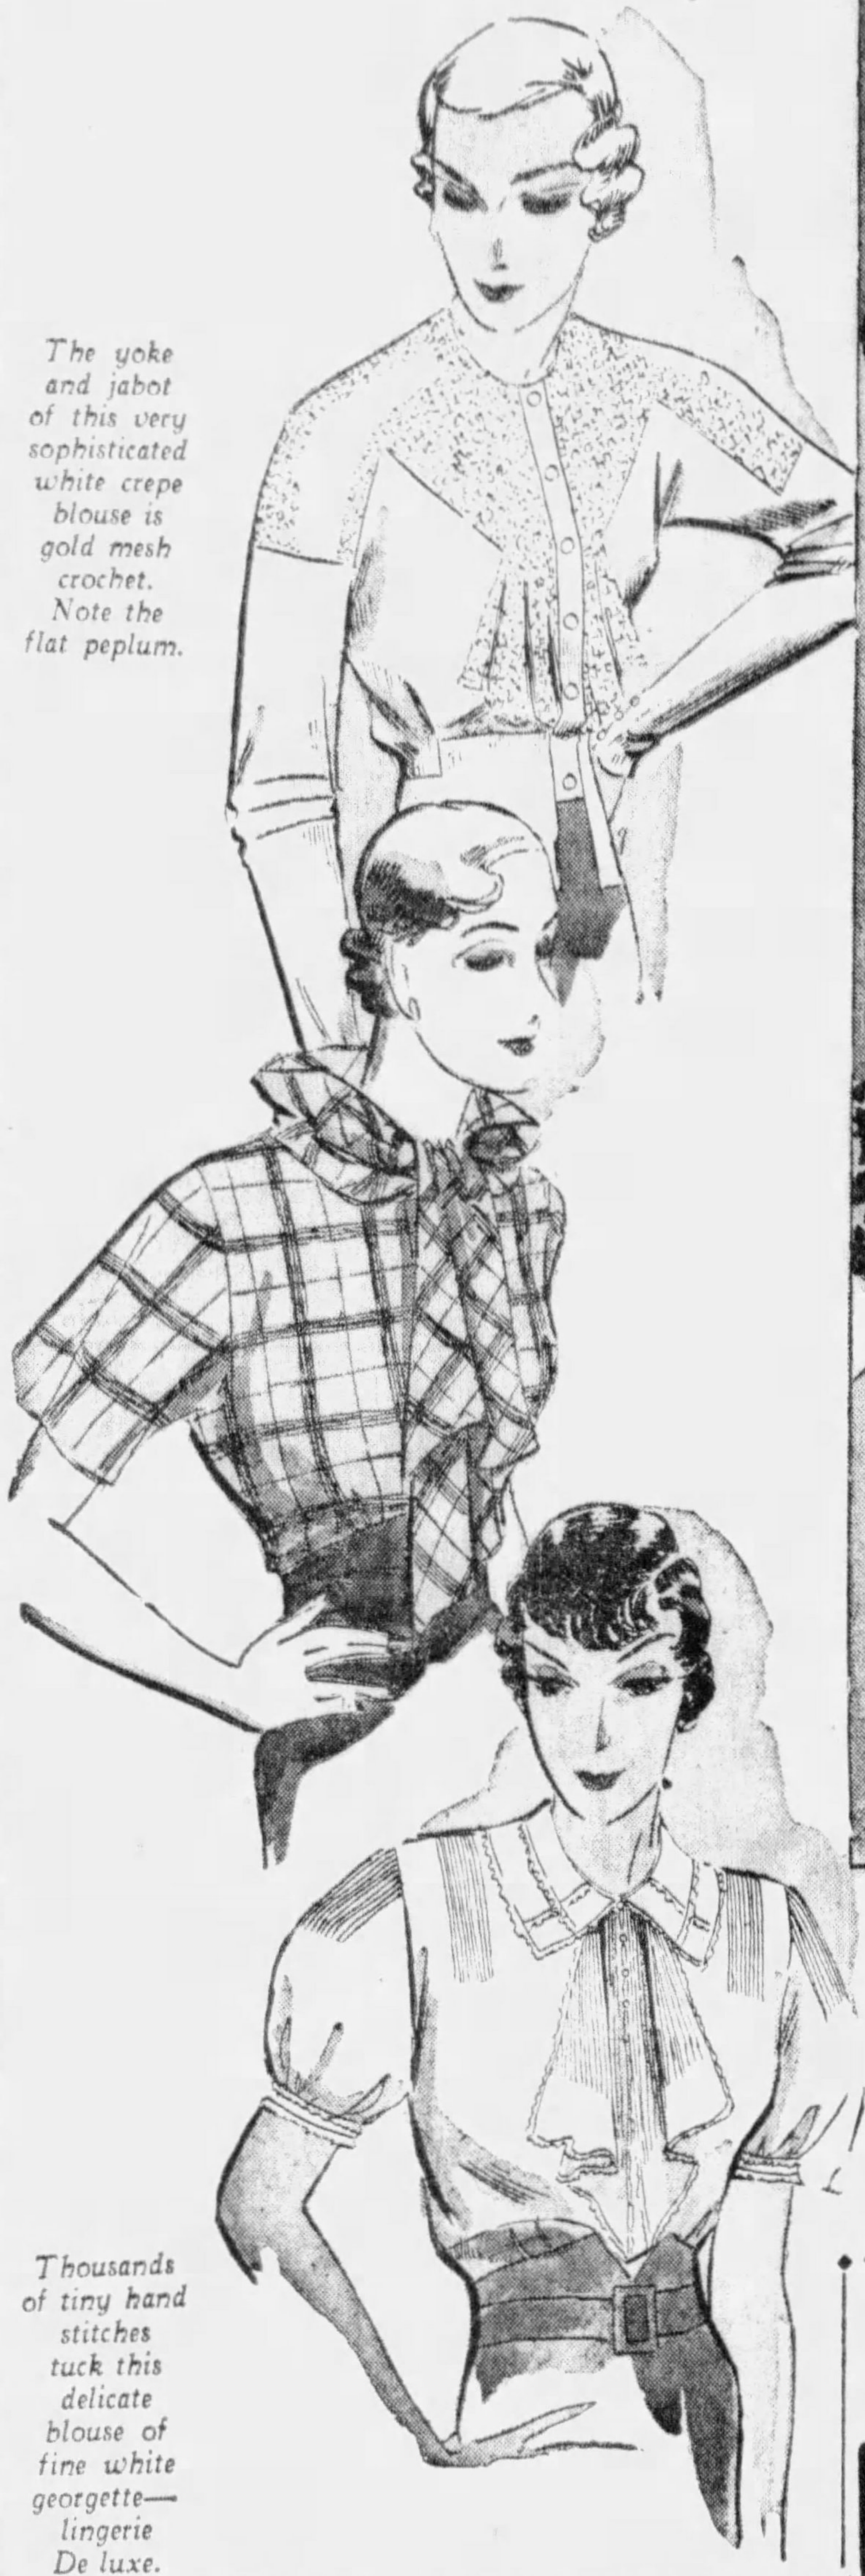
WHITE IS HIGH style—but it must be very lovely, fragile looking or richly heavy, to compete. Blush shades any and all blues, plaids and sheers touched lightly with metal threads, chartreuse if it's dusty enough, all exist for the glorification of the necessary spring suit.



The yoke and jabot of this very sophisticated white crepe blouse is gold mesh crochet. Note the flat peplum.

Thousands of tiny hand stitches tuck this delicate blouse of fine white georgette—lingerie De luxe.

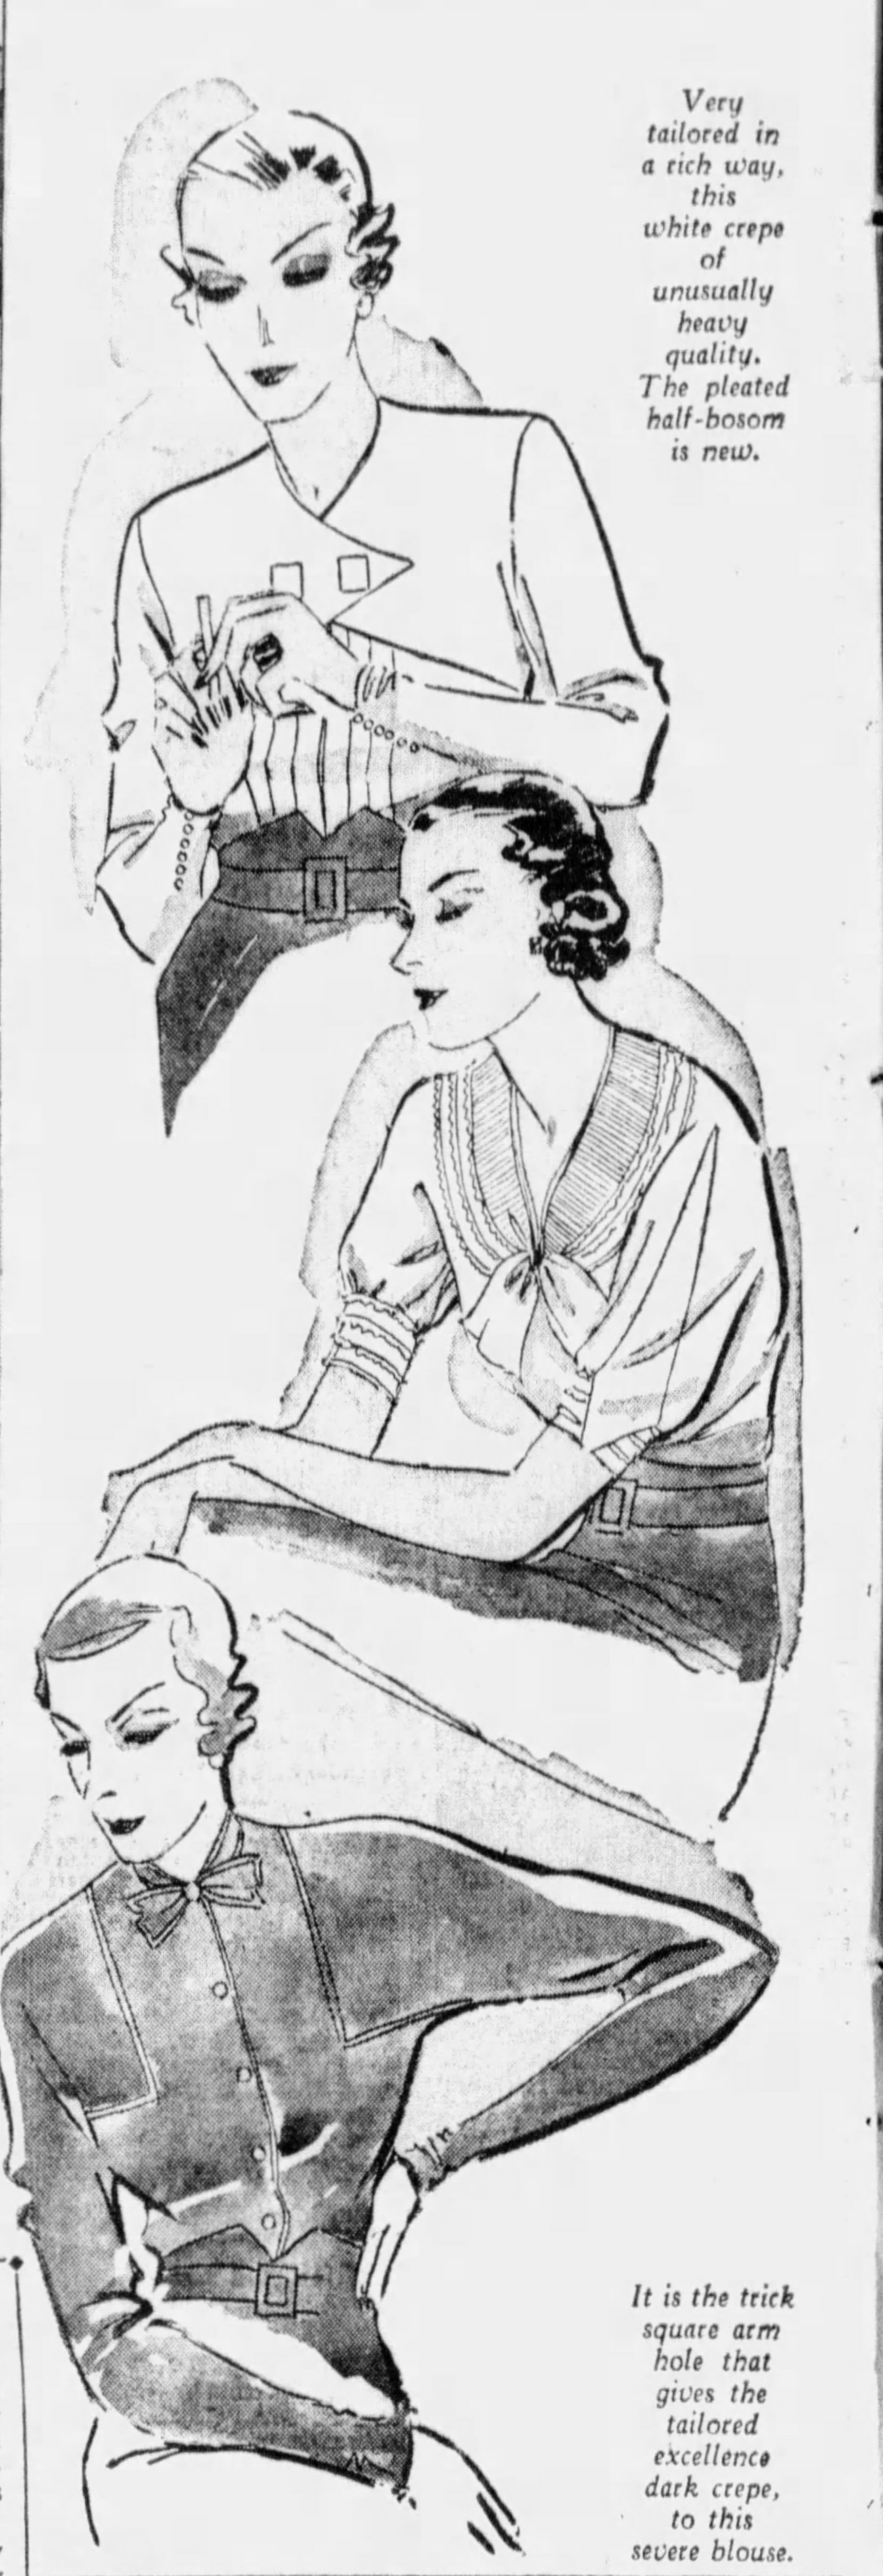
(Copyright, 1934, King Features Synd., Inc.)



Very tailored in a rich way, this white crepe of unusually heavy quality. The pleated half-bosom is new.

It is the trick square arm hole that gives the tailored excellence dark crepe, to this severe blouse.

JUNIOR PATROL

Now is a swell time to clean up yards, fellows!

The sap is just beginning to go up into the trees, called up by the warm sun. Soon these April showers will make many spring flowers bloom, and the grass will grow green and thick again.

This has been a hard winter for all growing things—much harder than usual. But now that spring is really here, the world will soon catch up, however, and the woods and fields will be as beautiful as ever.

But things look pretty dingy after being covered with snow and ice for so long. How does your lawn look? Is the grass growing up every place? If it isn't, maybe you could rake the bare spots up, sprinkle some good soil and fertilizer on them and plant some new grass seed.

The best time to plant grass seed in during the rainy season, right now, so that it will get plenty of moisture. Cover the seed lightly with soil, and pack it down firmly with a roller or stamp so that is doesn't easily wash away.

You should hurry, too, to trim your bushes and vines. Don't wait to trim them until they are in bloom. Many of them are in bud now, but you can trim most of them a little without hurting them. Rake all the leaves from around them so that the rain can water the root easily.

Maybe you could make your scrap book a sort of a diary, too. Try to write something in it every day. Describe something you have seen, or write down your ideas about something. But don't just copy other people's thoughts. Write what you think yourself.

WAR DATE SEES DRIVE SPURRED ON LEAGUE

Seventeen years ago today, the United States declared war against Germany and throughout the nation the great work f mobilizing the nation's defense got under way.

Today, on the anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the World War another mobilization campaign is being waged. With the memories of the battlefields of France still being in their minds, the nation's patriots are waging a war against war.

Throughout the country, the Hearst newspapers, with the support of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the auxiliaries of both organizations, and hundreds of other patriotic groups, are preparing the largest petition ever assembled. The petition is a protest against attempts to force the United States into the League of Nations and the World Court.

The petition will be the protest of loyal Americans against foreign entanglements which may draw this country into another war.

More than 19,000 men and women in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph have already signed the petition. Hundreds of others are circulating petitions in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

Many Pittsburghers will have an opportunity to sign the petition beginning tomorrow when signatures will be taken in the lobby of the Fulton Theater. Beginning tomorrow and throughout next week, attendants will be on hand to explain the petition and accept signatures.

Tomorrow will mark the return engagement at the Fulton of that war spectacle, "Forgotten Men," an official film from the archives of the world's 14 warring nations. The pictures, similar to those now being printed in the Sunday Sun-Telegraph, show the real horrors of war. Every division of the United States troops is shown in action in the photoplay, one more argument why the United States should remain free from foreign alliances.

APPROVAL GIVEN N. J. TUNNEL

International News Service.

HARRISBURG, April 6.—Verus T. Ritter, of Philadelphia, today had been granted a permit by the Public Service Commission to construct a proposed Delaware River tunnel connecting Pennsylvania and New Jersey under authority of an act passed at the last special session of the Legislature.

Under terms of the act the tunnel will be conveyed jointly to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey 40 years after completion or earlier, if and when tolls aggregate 115 per cent of the total cost which is estimated at 115 million dollars.

In issuing the permit the commission stipulated that the tunnel be constructed between Gloucester County, New Jersey, and Delaware County, Pennsylvania, at a point not less than 10 miles south of the Delaware River Bridge connecting Camden and Philadelphia nor more than 20 miles south of the same bridge.

PETITION AGAINST PARTICIPATION In the LEAGUE of NATIONS and World Court

If you want to save America from European entanglements and keep your country out of foreign wars, and foreign wars out of your country, sign this petition:

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED STATES SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

We protest AGAINST the United States participating in the League of Nations or in the World Court of the League of Nations, with or without "reservations."

We petition our Federal Government to keep our United States "free from foreign entanglements," as the Father of Our Country wisely enjoined.

We urge our Congress at Washington to keep our government from meddling in foreign affairs, and to keep foreign nations from meddling in our American affairs.

As loyal American citizens, we ask our loyal representatives to keep our country out of foreign conflicts and complications and to keep foreign conflicts and complications out of our country.

With This Safe, Sensible Treatment Approved by Reputable Physicians—She Did Not Diet

Mrs. Leon Clute of Solvay, N. Y., writes: "I've been using Kruschen Salts for about a year and wouldn't feel physically fit without them. Originally I started the treatment for reducing—I weighed 206 lbs. Today I'm 140. This reduction was made without dieting—merely taking a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast. I feel fine and shall continue to have Kruschen in the house at all times."

A jar of Kruschen lasts 4 weeks and costs but a few cents at leading druggists thruout the world—thousands of grateful people have reduced and enjoyed better health today because of this physician-approved, SAFE, HEALTHY treatment. Women are delighted because it leaves the flesh firm—no sagging skin.

NOTE: Get that superb Kruschen feeling of glorious physical healthfulness as millions thruout the world do by taking your little daily dose of Kruschen—only as much as will lie on a dime in your morning cup of coffee or tea (you can't taste it).

APRIL BRINGS STRAWBERRIES

One of the nicest things about April is the advent of strawberries. True, they are not always so plump and juicy as they wil be later in the season, but the old familiar flavor is there. Strawberries of almost any kind are welcome after you've waited all winter for them.

If the early berries seems a little tart, sprinkle with sugar and let stand for half an hour before serving. This sweetens the berries and extracts the juice. Or you can use them in strawberry shortcake, icebox pudding, or fresh strawberry bavarian.

STRAWBERRY ICEBOX PUDDING—1 pint strawberries, 1 cup powdered sugar, 15 crackers, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 10 marshmallows, cut small.

Wash and hull berries and reserve 6 or 8 for garnishing. Chop the remainder of the berries and add sugar. Let stand 10 minutes Crumble crackers fine. Beat cream stiff and add vanilla and cut

Housecleaning -Time Simplified Menu Suggested

On grand days like these we hate to spend all our week in house cleaning with not a single day for relaxation. If Prudence Penny had her way, mother would spend one day away from home and kitchen. Why not, she wants to know, plan a dinner for tomorrow night that will allow you to spend at least the afternoon in shopping, at a show, or even a walk in the park?

So that you may do this, Prudence Penny offers you a menu that will easily lend itself to such an occasion. Every dish in it may be prepared in the morning, needing only a little warming before dinner for serving.

Here's the menu; use it if you will:

Cream of Vegetable Soup
Escalloped Ham and Potatoes
Prune and Carrot Salad
—French Dressing
Chocolate Fruit Squares
Stewed Rhubarb
Coffee

In the meantime don't forget to continue sending your best recipes to Prudence Penny, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. She awards one $5 prize and a number of $1 prizes daily to the best recipes received. No recipes are returned.

World Fair Assured Successful Season

CHICAGO, April 6.—(AP.)—The second showing of A Century of Progress is assured of success well in advance of the opening date this year, the Chicago Association of Commerce had said today.

A survey disclosed, the association said, that at least 55 out of every 100 persons who visited the exposition last year, have promised to attend the 1934 show.

PIONEER TOWN BANS GAMBLING

LEADVILLE, Col., April 6.—(AP.)—The "lid" was ordered clamped down last night on gambling places in Leadville, rip-roaring mining camp of the 80's.

Mayor George O. Conklin said slot machines, faro, roulette and dice games were being run "wide open." Marshal Dennis J. O'Neill warned proprietors they must close down their games and dispose of their slot machines. He said:

"The lid's on and it's going to stay on."

Virtually since Leadville became a city an ordinance forbidding gambling has stood on the statutes. It never was enforced during the roaring "boom" days when wealth poured from the mines on the surrounding mountainsides.

MANY REASONS FOR QUITTING

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—(AP.)—If it is all right with the California Railroad Commission, J. P. Thomas informed that body, he would like to abandon the telephone exchange at Kenny, Humbolt County, because—

A fire in 1921 destroyed the only line leading to the exchange.

After the fire all the instruments, including the switchboard and a lot of line, were stolen.

Consequently the exchange has not operated since that time.

Almost nobody comes to Kenny anymore, nobody lives within 10 miles of the town and there are no immediate prospects of anyone moving in.

Outside of that, said Thomas, there is practically no reason why he shouldn't go right on "operating" the exchange.

SPEAK UP, SISTERS! :-: Glances Into the Realms of Domesticity and Romance :-: By MARION BRUNOT

Smile and Voice of Aloof Man Fascinate Girl

Only a slight smile as he danced by.

Yet she is fascinated with him.

His voice has a rare charm. Calm, smooth, low pitched.

He is tall, dark and handsome.

And Hopeful raves on about a man to whom she has not been introduced. She only has seen him at a dance. There in that crowd of young people, where emotional feet were lilting to even more emotional melody.

There, where arms encircled waists and two young people whirled off while the orchestra played. There, where the lights clustered over head and the floor was smooth, and the air slightly stuffy, so many young ones drinking up the purity of it.

That was where Hopeful spied him.

And her heart will never be satisfied until she meets him.

Dear Miss Brunot:

I look forward to reading your Speak Up, Sisters column every evening. Yet I never thought I would need your advice. But now I have a problem which I cannot solve. Three weeks ago I noticed a tall, dark and handsome man at a dance. He acted very quiet, and almost all the fellows came up and spoke to him; as if he were somebody important. And all the girls smiled and looked at him as they passed by.

He just stood against the mirror and watched the first three dances. Then he asked a very good dancer who is quite choosy about her partners, for a dance and she eagerly accepted.

I only danced about five times during the evening and always with the best dancers.

VOICE FASCINATES GIRL

The next week he was back at the same dance, and I happened to pass nearby while he was talking to a friend, and his voice alone fascinated me. It was so calm and smooth and low pitched. I asked my girl friend to introduce him. But she said she didn't know him well enough.

And again last week he was at the dance!

I asked a few of my best dancing partners to bring him over. But although they seem to know him yet they are a little timid about presenting him to anyone to whom he has not asked to be introduced.

They say he is funny that way.

He is sort of a mystery to everyone. No one knows much about him. And all this makes me even more anxious to know him.

I did happen to bring a slight smile from him as I danced by. But that's all.

I did hear, though, that he will be at the same dance place for the next few weeks. I'm a good dancer, not hard to look at, and popular with my friends. I am not the kind that runs after any man. Yet I am hoping you can give me an idea about how to meet this fellow. I'll be watching the Sun-Telegraph faithfully.

HOPEFUL.

You paint a very attractive picture of this tall, dark young man, with the calm, smooth low-pitched voice. I imagine there are other girls besides yourself who would like to know him better. Also a nice feature of the fellow is the evident respect given him by the other young men.

DIFFICULT TASK AHEAD

You have quite a feat ahead to manage the getting of him, Hopeful.

Yet your very name indicates you have enough self-esteem and enough initiative to put forth a real effort.

Maybe you have made it a trifle too evident among your friends at this weekly dance, that you want an introduction to this man. You must remember you are wanting to meet a popular man, and both the girls and the other men may not be so anxious to present him. That is only human nature.

If I were you, I would do my raving at home. Not publicly. And then when everyone has forgotten that you are anxious to meet him, slip into the crowded corner of the dance floor, where mutual friends of both yours and his, chance to be. And where he happens to be. And surely if you put forth your cleverest manner, you will succeed in getting the introduction.

Then "make hay while the sun shines" and see that he asks you to dance. For being a good looker and a good dancer, you should have no trouble in getting him to make this request.

Let me know how things turn out, Hopeful. Sometimes a fellow who looks "good," doesn't wear so well. It may be this way in the case of this man.

Love at first sight often turns out to have been defective vision.

Miss Brunot will be glad to answer letters submitted to her by readers.

Contract Bridge :-: HOW TO PLAY and HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

The Shut-Out Play

The word "hold-up" to those of us familiar with the literature of the West of a generation or so ago, or for that matter modern life in some of the great cities East or West today, suggests a bandit with a gun in his hand and the corollary, "Your money or your life." Bridge writers and players, notoriously careless and inexact in their terminology, use the word to describe a play which has nothing whatever in common with the methods of Jesse James or other bandits of more recent days.

In Bridge to hold up is merely to retain a stopper in an adverse suit until such time as the partner of the leader has no more of it, so that he will be unable to return it if the lead is surrendered to him. A more correct name than "hold-up" is "shut-out," but, after all, life in the world of Bridge is too short to change certain accepted misnomers.

The bidding:

3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—South's hand is, of course, too strong to respond with one notrump only.

West's opening lead was the diamond 5, upon which the 4 was played from Dummy, and East played the Queen. What card should South now play, and why? The first impulse, no doubt, is to play the King and then hope that a second trick may later be won in the suit with the Knave. Such reasoning, however, is basically fallacious. The establishment of the club suit is essential to the making of the contract, and if East holds the club King, he will be able to lead through the diamond Knave and establish the entire suit for his partner, thus defeating the contract.

South, therefore, should play the 3, not the King, and now, regardless of the location of the club King, the contract is safe. The line of communication between the two defending hands is cut by South's "intercepting" or "shut-out" play.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Post-Nuptial 'At Home'

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1—I am to be married in a few weeks . . . just with the immediate family at the ceremony. Since space in my home is limited, and I cannot have a reception, I would like to have an "at home" about two weeks after the wedding, and in this way invite all my friends and relatives. Would this be appropriate? If so, how should the invitations be worded?

2—I'm to wear flowers at my wedding. Should I also have them for my "at home"? S.

1—Yes, this is a thoroughly proper and a thoroughly charming thing for you to do. Indeed I often think that it is a more delightful kind of reception than the one following the ceremony! The party can then be in the form of a housewarming as well as a receiving of one's friends. You might send your invitations on your visiting card, or you may write notes of invitation.

2—Flowers will be a charming decorative feature of the background of your party, and if you wish to, you may wear a corsage.

Pre-Nuptial Affairs

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1—My husband's brother is to be married soon. Since his people do not live in the city, he is making his home with us until the wedding. Is it my duty to entertain the bride-to-be in any way? I would like her to meet the ladies I know—my neighbors and best friends.

2—Some of the boys want to have a stag party for him, but they want me to arrange for it at my home. Will that be the proper thing to do? H.

1—It would be a charming thing for you to plan to give a party so that your friends will have the pleasure of meeting your husband's brother's fiancee. It might be in the form of a luncheon or dinner or supper, or, to include many guests, I suggest that you have a buffet party. Or the party might be a tea, or a bridge party followed by tea or preceded by luncheon, either a sit-down luncheon or a buffet luncheon.

2—Yes, it is proper for you to do all of the arranging for this stag party—but you should disappear during the party.

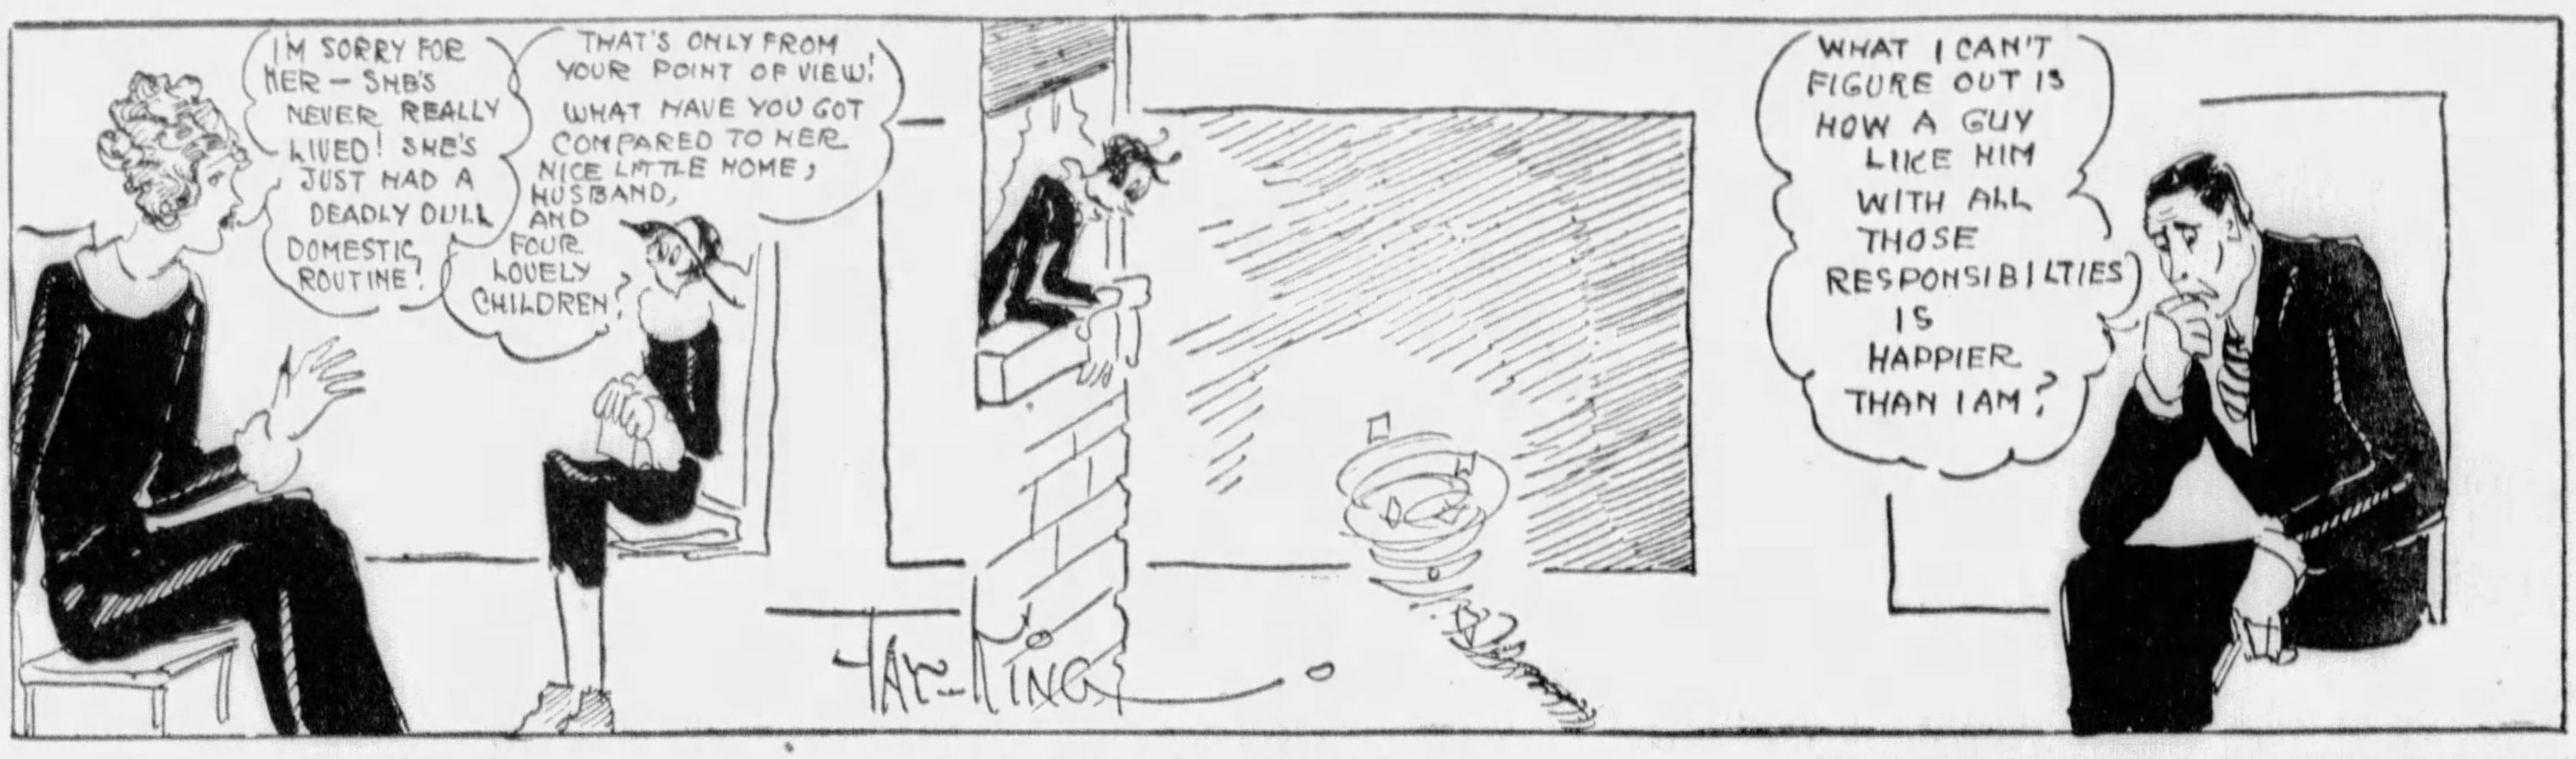
'Whirl-Winds', Useless and Insensible, Numerous, Says Fay King



I'M SORRY FOR HER—SHE'S NEVER REALLY LIVED! SHE'S JUST HAD A DEADLY DULL DOMESTIC ROUTINE!
THAT'S ONLY FROM YOUR POINT OF VIEW! WHAT HAVE YOU GOT COMPARED TO HER NICE LITTLE HOME; HUSBAND, AND FOUR LOVELY CHILDREN?
WHAT I CAN'T FIGURE OUT IS HOW A GUY LIKE HIM WITH ALL THOSE RESPONSIBILTIES IS HAPPIER THAN I AM?
FAY KING

By FAY KING

From my window I watched a little whirlwind in the street.

Around and around it scurried in the frntic fashion, tossing bits of paper in the air.

From time to time quiet, steady traffic passed unknowingly through its path. It then resumed its gyrations.

There are persons like that little whirlwind. Because they run around in lively circles they do not know they are in a useless rut.

"This is the life!" the human whirlwinds cry, and would have everyone do likewise.

They know nothing of the steady, quiet lives that accomplish much in this world.

A long and useful life is ever better than a short and merry one. But "whirlwinds" are too self centered ever to understand that.

Given in Marriage -:- A Sequel to Heart of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Failure of Husband and Edith to Return Worries Madge

Junior's shrill voice, asking for his father and commenting upon the fact that he had not seen him at the beach, had much the same effect upon our little group as a thunderbolt might have had. It effectively silenced the conversational hum which the return of the children had set in motion, and for a few seconds, that seemed an eternity, nobody spoke.

But I could feel that if the physical eyes in the room were considerably turned away from me, the mental orbs were not. Almost everyone in the room knew of Edith's hopeless infatuation for Dicky, and I knew that an involuntary query was forming in each mind as to what my reaction would be to my small son's question.

In the first years of my marriage that knowledge would have brought me to the verge of panic; but years and experience have disciplined me, so that I was able to reply with apparent nonchalance to Junior.

"Dad hasn't come home yet," I told him. "He'll probably be along in a few minutes. If he comes before you go to sleep, I'll have him come up to see you. Otherwise, you will have to wait until morning."

WANT TO STAY UP

"Aw, Mums," Junior said in the mechanical fashion common to all small boys trying to extract another drop of privilege from a source which they know to be dry. "Do we have to go to bed right away?"

I "fixed him with glittering eye" as I asked:

"Are you trying to make me sorry that I gave you the privilege of going to the beach with the grown-ups tonight, when it was long past your bedtime?"

Junior wriggled as he mumbled a perfunctory but contrite, "I'm sorry, Mums," then Roderick sounded another note familiar to all women in charge of small boys and girls.

"We're awfully hungry, Auntie Madge," he said, with a hopeful inflection in his voice. "We didn't get a chance to eat much supper. Why, I only had two pieces of cake! Is there any left?"

With an effort I kept my lips from twitching.

"Yes, there is plenty of cake left. You shall have some tomorrow. But tonight — you know the rules—no rich food at this late hour. If you're really hungry, you will enjoy some bread and butter and jam, or some bread and milk. Come along with me to the kitchen, and I'll prepare you something."

OFFERS TO GET FOOD

"Nothing doing!" Lillian interposed emphatically. "You're as near the exhaustion point as a woman can be and not pass out. You get into the house and lie down, or better still, get to bed. I'll see to the boys."

"What's the matter with the younger generation, darling?" Marion queried. "I'd love to fix 'em up a snack."

"You'd better go to bed hungry, kids," Bob advised pessimistically. "These modern girls may know enough to spread butter on bread, but I doubt it."

"That speech elects you to some work," Carolyn told him. "We'll see how mean a butter knife you can swing."

"What was I doing just now in the kitchen?" Bob demanded truculently.

"Working your jaws, whenever I was looking at you," Carolyn retorted with a grin. "Sometimes you were eating, sometimes talking, but those jawbones never stopped moving up and down—also sideways."

She looked up at him archly, then in the moonlight I saw her expression change to wariness, as Bob started toward her.

ꝏ Hints for the Household ꝏ

Nuts that have tough shells and are difficult to crack are made more brittle if they are put in a fairly cool oven for an hour or so. The flavor of the nuts is, if anything, improved by this treatment.

Cotton wool will often remove rain marks from satin. Press the wool into a hard ball, then rub the marks with a circular movement. This method is not practicable if a large area is to be treated.

When making cakes and pastry in cold weather and the butter and lard are hard and firm and difficult to rub into the flour, a quick method is to grate the fat into the flour on a suet grater.

Can't you imagine how lovely they will be—what a touch of color they will add to a room when carried out in the purple, blue and yellow of the pansies, with the touch of white in the lilies-of-the-valley and the green of the leaves setting off the colors? This picture makes a lvely companion piece to Basket of Flowers, pattern 641, and like it is 9½x12 inches.

OUR RHYMING OPTIMIST

Marriage

Not wedding music and gay, laughing maids,
Not misty veil above youth's shining braids,
Not vicar's solemn words or golden ring,
Not looks which start two blithe hearts fluttering,
Not all of 'hese have potency to make
A union so secure time cannot break
Its bonds with nimble twist of circumstance
Or dark design of adverse change or chance.

Age knows, and age alone, of the slow years
With common hopes and laughter, griefs and tears;
Of lives so close that one has often caught
The other's wish, while it was but a thought.
Age knows of fierce rebellion crushed at length,
Of love that gains in tenderness and strength
As decades pass, of problems shared and solved;
Age knows of these true marriage is evolved.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Yellow Fever Is Still a Menace

Dr. Copeland

Mankind is ever waging war against disease. Now comes welcome news. A vaccine has been perfected that, it is alleged, will give complete protection against the terrible disease, yellow fever. Scientists report that persons injected with this serum may travel in countries where yellow fever is prevalent and not contract the disease.

This is indeed a remarkable discovery, because yellow fever has always baffled medical science. At one time, it was the most dreaded scourge of the world. During the Middle Ages, it swept great cities, like Paris, Rome and London. It knew no class distinction. Kings, paupers, rich and poor alike, were victims of this greatly feared disease.

Within the past century, many of the world's leading scientists have succumbed to this disease. In their effort to isolate the germ and find a cure, they contracted the fatal disease. Such martyrs as Stokes, Noguchi, Young and Reed died so that millions might live.

Though the disease is mainly confined to Africa and other tropical countries, the menace of yellow fever cannot be overlooked no matter where one lives. It can be quickly carried to other countries and once it has entrenched itself, it spreads with fire-like rapidity.

Some authorities believe the airplane spreads the disease by carrying the mosquito harboring the germ of yellow fever. For this reason, it has been advised that airplanes traveling from distant countries undergo a process of fumigation immediately upon landing. This is a problem that will require further investigation.

Though the actual germ of yellow fever has never been visualized, it is known to be in the blood of a special species of mosquito. This particular variety is the "stegampia fasciata." When this mosquito bites a victim, the germ is passed along with the bite.

To see a sufferer from yellow fever is indeed a pathetic sight. I hope you may never have this experience. The victim has a high fever, is restless and nauseous.

The skin is pale and soon turns yellow. The eyes are swollen and blood shot. The victim groans constantly, complaining of severe pain and thirst.

Though modern methods of sanitation and destruction of the dreaded mosquito have lessened the number of cases of yellow fever, the menace of the disease is ever present. It is hoped that the new serum will furnish protection and promote the ultimate eradication of this ancient enemy of civilization.

Answers to Health Queries

Mrs. S. Q.—My husband, who is 42 years of age, has high blood pressure, probably brought on by nervous strain and worry. What precautions should he take and what foods should he avoid under the circumstances?

A—Fatigue and unrest should be avoided. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Fashion Flashes

By ALICE ALDEN

Still on top is the beret which, in the spring version, is very flat and very deep over one side, with a lift at the back. A new model has wide loops of black and white striped ribbon, as trimming. These radiate from the center of the black silk straw model.

You will be hiding again beneath a broad-brimmed hat this spring and summer, if Palm Beach is any indication. Typical of the hats seen there is a capeline of novelty rough straw, the crown small and flat, the brim very wide. The hat is finished with a hand-painted ribbon showing a Mexican design in gay colors.

Right in the picture for a spring evening, is a lovely evening frock of black net posed over a slip of lustrous black satin. The skirt is full below the knees in front, while the back spreads into a full train. A bow of the net in front, near the kneeline, is centered with a cluster of white satin gardenias, the same flowers also accenting the neckline.

A colorful career is anticipated for the new spring shoes. Typical of the latest mode for the coming season is an openshank sandal in blue kid, with white and beige bands applied in over-laid stripes.

Under cover shoulders still are a feature of some of the smartest formal frocks. A model of gray chiffon has huge cape sleeves formed of citron-colored ostrich feathers, extending to the waist and outlining the decolletage.

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

I always wondered what show and chorus girls talked about—in their undressing rooms . . . At the Casino de Paree, it appears, they've been arguing for over a week—about marriage, husbands, lovers and laundry . . . "Would you wash your husband's underwear and sox?" started the current war back stage—with three-fourths of the lovelies in the affirmative, and only one-fourth of the cast "positively no!" . . . The ladies who certainly wouldn't do anything of the kind—include Aina Constant, Geraldine Dvorak, Mavis Mitchell, Gypsy Rose Lee and Florence Moore . . . Miss Moore, who is the wife of an aviator, wants it known that she doesn't wash her groom's underthings—and never will! . . . Another controversy back stage there is titled: "Would you rather be a Wife or a Sweetheart?" . . . Half the girls would rather not be a wife, they said . . . Until they were 30 . . . At any rate, we discovered why the girls were bitter about washing their man's linens or even the dishes . . . It appears that most of the lassies grew to hate the sight of a washtub or sink because they watched their mothers slave away washing things for years . . . Watching their mothers slave at the tub instead of helping them!

At one of the White Light Night spots where the gigolos are a feature—I encountered this item . . . One of the gigolos, a handsome lad, waited until the curfew hour almost arrived. . . . And then had the last few fox trots with a charming woman, attired in good taste . . . "You are requested," he was interrupted, "to have the next dance with the lady at table 115" . . . He regretted, he said, that he couldn't . . . He was having the last few flings with his wife! . . . A gigolo with a wife raised our eyebrows . . . And we learned later that his wife is a well-to-do lady of the town, who has no objection to her groom's profession . . . "He took the job as gigolo," someone explained, "because his wife kept harping at him—'When are you ever going to get a job?' "

At a Sunday night show I saw the most touching scene at a front row (to the extreme side) table . . . The man was so tender with his wife. He is a gentleman who finds time to take his adored one to the gayer places regularly and she is a young and attractive lady, whose sense of humor is contagious . . . and when anything amusing takes place on the stage—or it is pantomime or sigh stuff he hurriedly explains it to his wife . . . And as he relates this and that to her, he fondles her hands . . . And if the scene is funny—she responds with robust laughter. . . She is blind.

I reported that Jimmy Mattern, the flier who flew around the world, was among the forgotten men . . . And that he was appearing at a Chicago night club—programmed in tiny type . . . Mattern, it appears, did it not because he had to—but because after being called upon for weeks there with other notables, the management urged him to make regular appearances as a favor . . . Well, Ernest Byfield, the College Inn impresario concerned, must know how I feel about Men Who Matter such as Jimmy Mattern—and when I think they are being tossed aside by the public they serve and the country they brought glory to—I start hollering—but loud.

I recently jotted down a story about a bandit who told the police the reason he didn't tell them his right name was that he heard I was within earshot—and that he went to school with me . . . "I didn't want Winchell," he said, "to know who or what I am—I was ashamed" . . . The story "got me" when Detective Jacobs relayed it to me later . . . The same week a school teacher of mine called . . . He hadn't seen me in 24 years and wanted to leave a snapshot with me . . . It was of the class and I was 11 at the time . . . I kept staring at the picture trying to remember some of the lads and only a few of their names came back to me . . . And as I sat at my desk looking at their likenesses—I wondered what they are today—and in whose cabinet they are—Roosevelt's—or Dillinger's.

You've got to know Franklin Taylor to appreciate him. He's a county judge over Brooklyn way, and is known to be one of those jurists who sympathize with convicted criminals only on occasions when red, white and blue snow falls on the Fourth of July—which isn't very often, they tell me . . . At any rate, Judge Taylor sat in judgment last week on a woman named Katherine Hohenberger. The lady was 53, and was employed for some time as bookkeeper in the Industrial Home for the Blind . . . A jury found her guilty of taking $5,000 from the institution's funds . . . Five thousand, of course, is not a lot of money when you're talking about banksters, but these people, remember, spend their lives in darkness . . . They've got to take your word for it when they ask whether they're giving you a one or a five . . . So what happened? So this happened: Mrs. Hohenberger fainted in court. Fainted dead away at the thought of being put behind bars for awhile. So her lawyer, who is paid to do such things, wrung his hands and pleaded with Judge Taylor for leniency and pointed dramatically at the unconscious woman . . . "I am not at all impressed by this fainting spell," said the horrible mean old judge. "She stole money from a charity that could ill afford to lose it, because she lived beyond her means. She has a mother 85 years old, and if her mother dies from the shock of all this, it is the defendant and not the court who is to blame. I'll give her one month in which to make good every cent she has stolen and also to pay the costs of the audit that was made. If she does not, she will go to the Home for Women in Bedford, and no power on earth can prevent it!"

10,000 Dogs Die In War on Rabies

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 6.—(AP.)—Ten thousand dogs have been killed in Oklahoma's anti-rabies campaign, but there are approximately 250,000 left.

Wesley Barry Given Part With Ann Harding

By JIMMY STARR

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 6.—Hello! Fourteen years ago a funny, freckle-faced lad caused the motion picture industry and its many film fans to sit up straight in theater chairs and cheer. The boy was Wesley Barry, a Mickey Neilan "discovery" and for years afterward no one ever flashed across the silver screen with freckles that one didn't think of Wes.

Last Saturday, when everyone had plans for Easter bunny-hunting, Wesley Barry, now very much a man, clicked with his test for a role with Ann Harding in "Virgie Winters"—and so, after many attempts, Wes makes his cinematic comeback.

Eddie Welch tells one about a certain film couple who landed in a divorce court.

"The Judge: "This woman claims you can't keep her in clothes."

The Actor: "I know, Judge—but I bought her a house, and I can't keep her in that!"

Hazel Forbes, pretty blonde heiress to the tooth-powder millions, really a widow who came to Hollywood for the sight-seeing advantages, has at last landed a movie job. And Arthur Silber set the deal.

Like Merry Fahrney, who quit because she did not like rising at 8 a. m., Hazel didn't relish the idea of the early rising, but since Lou Brock has given her a swell role in "Down to Their Last Yacht," Hazel has changed her mind and is more than willing to cut out the night clubs and get down to work—early calls and all. And so, Hazel will make her movie debut in the Brock-RKO special musical.

* * *

Wandering around Hollywood . . . Molly O'Day does a nice comeback with Wes Barry in "Down to Their Last Yacht" for RKO . . . Reginald Le Borg, the writer, is really Harry Grobel (Le Borg spelled backwards) . . . The Dominoes, that gang of Hollywood women, had a special get-together at the Biltmore—a birthday party, with Lucile Gleason, just out of the hospital, cutting the cake . . . Jack Factor (well, a few call him Jake, the Barber) is here, under guard, of course, but it's silly—that talk about him doing a movie of his kidnaping routine . . . You can mark down Walter Donaldson's new ditty, "A Thousand Good Nights," as the next big selling hit.

* * *

Super-snoopings . . . "Snub" Pollard, old-time funny man of Hollywood's pie-tossing days, gets a chance to stage a comeback in the Wheeler and Woolsey giggle-getter, "Cockeyed Cavaliers." Jack Norton, whom Broadway well remembers, is also in the flicker . . . John Cromwell (remember him as the police captain in "The Racket"?) has not forgotten his footlight training. He is now directing Leslie Howard in "Of Human Bondage" and, to speed up production, ordered the sets placed on a revolving stage—so that the acts were moved into camera range . . . Bill Gargan tried to go high-brow on the local hicks by issuing invitations to an Ichthyology party. (On second thought, perhaps you had better look up the word, too.)

Variety

Celia Adler, artist of the Yiddish stage, will give a varied program of dramatic sketches and Jewish folk songs in the Y. M. & W. H. A. Sunday evening.

Plays and Players By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

While "Richard of Bordeaux," coming to the Nixon Monday, with Dennis King in the title role, portrays the career of a monarch whose life was the subject of a Shakespearean play, "Richard II," it contains no archaic words or expressions, the language of the drama being entirely modern. What, no "varlets," "caitiffs," "ods bodkins" or "gramercys?" Even so. Or so it is said. Bringing the old historic figures back to life, in the light of new, or supposedly new, facts concerning them can be both provocative and interesting, as is proven in the case of "Mary of Scotland," in which Mary Queen of Scots is given a modern handling by Maxwell Anderson, which is now being mentioned in terms of respect such as indicate meriting a crown of greatness. "Richard of Bordeaux" will be given at two matinees as well as six evening performances.

The Columnist Interviews Himself

HERE'S ANOTHER of those daffy interview columns. They're rather tough to write, so if you don't like 'em, please let me know. Anything that causes me too much work is cheerfully omitted by this column at the slightest provocation.

All set? Let's ride:

QUESTION: Well, well, well! How are you, Mr. Hellinger? Isn't this weather marvelous?

ANSWER: What's marvelous about it?

Q: What a question! Why, Spring is in the air!

A: Sure. And so are head colds, dust, gasoline fumes, mosquitos and the echoes of the last income tax payment.

Q: That's no way to look at things. Have you no sense of romance left?

A: Nope. Not since I took a good look at the picture of the director that Garbo eloped with.

Q: Oh, come now, Mr. Hellinger. You're not yourself today.

A: That's true. I'm a little loose. Maybe I'm Dillinger.

Q: You said that for a purpose. I suppose you're going to tell me you have a theme song for Dillinger?

A: No. But I've got one for Sheriff Holley and that District Attorney who posed with his arm around the convict.

Q: What's that?

A: "You Ought to Be in Pictures."

Q: That's pretty childish.

A: So were the pictures.

Q: What do you think of Roosevelt's attempt to regulate Wall street?

A: I think it's a waste of time.

Q: Why?

A: By the time the Government gets through, who has money for Wall street?

Q: That's silly. There are still plenty of people in this country with a great deal of money.

A: Sure. But who wants to be a radio comedian?

Q: Quite right. And—oh, I knew I'd forgotten something. How do you regard Sam Insull these days?

A: Just another star performer who wound up in a Turkey.

Q: If Insull is ever tried by the Government of the United States, how do you think he will make out?

A: How much is he supposed to have clipped the public for?

Q: Oh, millions and millions.

A: He'll wind up with two medals and a seat in the Senate.

Q: You don't know your punishments.

A: You don't know your Senators.

Q: I think, Mr. Hellinger, that I will try you out on women's fashions. What is your opinion of those little, turned-up hats that the girls are now wearing?

A: I refuse to answer on the grounds that I may be incriminated and degraded—and that, if I speak my mind, the wife is liable to buy five more of them just to get even.

Q: That's interesting. Women are so fascinating. Isn't it a pity they can't wear five hats at once?

A: Don't talk so loudly, Mr. Roosevelt is liable to hear you and put it into effect.

Q: All right, we'll turn to something else. What, in your opinion, is the best play in New York?

A: Peggy Joyce.

Q: You are deliberately misunderstanding me. What made you mention Peggy Joyce?

A: Because it now gives me the opportunity to say that, if butter and eggs get much higher, Peggy will be wearing them to parties instead of jewelry.

Q: I don't follow you.

A: Why should you?

Q: If you had your life to live over again, what would you be?

A: An optician.

Q: Why?

A: I want to open a chain of eyeglass stores with the slogan: "Sites For Sore Eyes."

Q: That's pretty awful.

A: It's the best I can do near the end of a column.

Q: All right. We'll let it go this time. I'll hand you one more question and let you go for the day.

A: That's doggone nice of you.

Q: I suppose you're on the verge of taking another tour. You usually are. Where will you go on your next trip?

A: Up to northern Alaska. I hear the Esquimaux up there kiss with their noses.

Q: That won't mean much to you.

A: No. But just think of the fun that Jimmy Durante could have! . . .

Movie Extra Diligent

The "perfect" motion picture extra is said to be Magden, a pretty brunette, working in Marion Davies' new film, "Operator 13." Miss Magden is the daughter of strict midwestern parents, who were horrified when she entered the movies. After five or six years of extra work, Ruth doesn't drink or smoke and she seldom goes to parties.

Conscientiousness, she holds to be the most important rule for an extra. She is always on time and she always arrives in makeup, even when the studios don't ask it—just so she will be ready if the assistant director needs anyone to do a bit before the camera.

Ruth lives at the home of a woman who makes her clothes for her. She seldom wears an evening gown for more than three pictures, then she has it dyed or remodeled. She spends as much as she can on her wardrobe because that is important.

If it is the will of fortune, Miss Magden hopes to become a featured actress some day. If not, she will be happy as an extra. With the new wage scale of $15 a day, she believes she can make as much money as the average girl working in any other profession.

Fire Pistol First Time In Pictures

Arthur Byron, who often is the selection for prison wardens in films, never fired a pistol until he had to do it for a picture. He emptied a revolver twice before he could pull the scene off with the proper conviction. Edward G. Robinson, the unforgotten "Little Caesar," is another. He says he had been playing the gangster in "The Racket" for 20 weeks before he realized he was flinching every time he pulled the trigger.

Easter Fetes On Screen

The Easter Day celebration throughout the county is pictured in the current issue of Hearst Metrotone News. The vast crowds are pictured in Fifth avenue, at St. Patrick's Cathedral, and other points in New York. The boardwalk of Atlantic City is jammed. In the famous bowl at Hollywood, the choir forms a living cross at sunrise and hails Eastertide in song. In Washington, Mrs. Roosevelt greets thousands gathered on the White House lawn for the traditional egg-rolling, in which her grandchildren, Sistie and Buzzie, take an active part. The Globe Trotter graphically describes it all.

Royalty rubs shoulders with costermongers at the famous Aintree track in England where 250,000 persons assemble for the running of the Grand National. Thirty jumpers leap from the barriers and there are many spills and thrills.

Martin Insull, 65-year-old brother of Samuel, is shown being brought to Chicago from Canada and taken to the Cook County Jail, from which he was later released on bail.

Mrs. Lindbergh is seen and heard as she receives the Hubbard medal awarded by the National Geographical Society in Washington. It is the first time the medal has ever been presented to a woman.

The biggest plane ever built in the United States is tested at Bridgeport, Conn. It's a giant seaplane that carries 32 passengers. It is to be used in the United States-South American service.

NOTE — Owing to the necessity upon theater managers to arrange their programs in time schedule, it is possible some of the subjects of the above issue of Hearst Metrotone News may not be shown in your theater.

Club Women Sponsor Shows for Young

The motion picture council of Allegheny County Federation of Women's Clubs, in co-operation with the Pittsburgh Junior League, is sponsoring Saturday morning matinees for children at the Enright. Other neighborhood movie houses are expected to support the movement. Parent-teacher associations and the public schools of Wilkinsburg and the East End already are doing so. Tomorrow morning's program will include "All-American" with Richard Arlen; animated cartoons, an "Our Gang" comedy and the sixth episode of "Pirate Treasure."

Joan's Picture Model

Until a few days ago Joan Crawford thought she knew all about the movie star's life of being perpetually on exhibition. She's been photographed, painted, sketched, stared at until it has become routine. A letter from Frances Rich proved there still is something new.

Miss Rich, who started out to be an actress like her mother, Irene, went to Paris last year to study sculpturing. Several days ago Miss Crawford received a letter from her, and was surprised to read it's request.

Miss Rich wants every available copy of a still picture from "Dancing Lady," in which Joan stood upon a stairway, her hands thrust behind her, a picture of suddenly arrested motion.

The poetry of the pose has fascinated the students in art class attended by Miss Rich.

These would-be Janet Scudders and Rodins want to use it as a model for life-size statues.

Well, my Face is my Fortune, really..!
. . . SO NATURALLY, I USE PALMOLIVE!

1 Sometimes it's hard for a girl to know just what to believe . . . But when 20,000 beauty experts agree on Palmolive for keeping skin lovely and young-looking . . . well, that sounds like the real thing to me. Don't you think so too?

2 I like Palmolive's soft olive-green color because, I guess, it reminds me that Palmolive is made from pure vegetable oils . . . a secret blend of olive and palm oils—and nothing else. You really couldn't buy a better soap!

3 I'm not fooling myself either, when I insist that Palmolive's lather is different—sort of creamy and velvety-feeling. You can actually feel it getting down into your pores and really and truly cleansing. You'll love it for baths!

STOCKS WAVER AS TRADING SLOWS UP

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—Most financial markets appeared to have a touch of spring fever today and trading enthusiasm during the greater part of the business period was at an extremely low ebb.

Stocks, bonds and grains were just about steady. Silver and cotton were a trifle easier, but rubber and copper futures improved. Brokerage houses, although not bearish, expressed the thought that equities "looked tired." Leading operators generally were on the side-lines, where it was expected they would remain until Washington decides on the bridgework for the exchange control bill.

Freight car loadings for the week ended March 31 showed a contra-seasonal decline, due partly to receding coal shipments, which were not offset by larger movements of manufactured goods. The total of 608,443 cars was off 19 from the previous week, but up 110,087 over the same 1933 week and 63,482 above the same week in 1932.

Further indications that some of the recent activity in various low-priced issues may have been of professional origin were seen in the announcement that the stock exchange had sent a more comprehensive questionnaire to members requesting information concerning transactions in issues of 13 companies.

Another flareup in the labor situation at Detroit, resulting in the closing down of a plant manufacturing automobile parts, was momentarily depressing to some of the motor stocks. It was hoped, though, that federal intervention would again be successful in this dispute.

Failure of most of the utilities to extend their recovery of the previous session was attributed to the fact that, while the New York State Legislature defeated a municipal ownership bill, it subsequently authorized the Public Service Commission to order emergency power and light rates based on a 5 per cent return on property.

RETAIL TRADE GAINS HOLD

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—Business prospects for the second quarter "generally are conceded to be potentially capable of producing the most satisfactory results for any second quarter in four years," Dun and Bradstreet said today.

The expected slackening in the pace which retail buying set before Easter has not yet appeared, the agency reported. Although sales of some apparel lines have receded this week from the "extraordinary high totals" of the preceding week, buying of furniture, housewares, electric refrigerators and rugs increased by a wide percentage. The review said:

"Sales of men's and women's wearing apparel, however, still are in the lead, while there has been no diminution in the call for drygoods. Sales of hardware, paints, gardening tools and seeds show every indication of outdistancing spring figures for the last three years, and provide conclusive proof of a reawakened interest in the home and garden. No interruption to the present trend appears in prospect for the current month."

RYE FEATURES GRAIN TRADE

CHICAGO, April 6.—Rye distinguished itself today with a jump of 1⅜ cents a bushel.

The jump of rye was apparently owing to assertions that the United States import duty on rye would soon be lifted. A feature in the corn market was announcement of a vessel charter for shipment of 350,000 bushels of corn to Buffalo at the opening of lake navigation, the first lake business reported this season.

Rye closed strong at the day's top figures, other grain nearly at a standstill, wheat ⅛ off to ⅛ up compared with yesterday's finish, May 86⅜-86½, corn unchanged to ¼ higher, oats unchanged to ⅛ advanced, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents gain.

The following quotations on the Chicago Board of Trade are reported by S. E. Masten & Co.:

ASSAY OFFICE TO BUY GOLD

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—The United States assay office here, it was disclosed today, will provide a market for old gold in the form of jewelry or trinkets, paying the new statutory price of $35 an ounce less as mall charge for assaying.

Under the arrangement the assay office requires that the amounts offered be not less than one ounce and not more than five ounces.

Since the rise in the price of gold a large amount of old metal has found its way to the assay office for refining. It is then added to the monetary stocks of the country.

Exchange Probe Notice to Traders That Questionable Activity in Market Is Taboo

The stock exchange gave Wall street to understand today that it is decidedly on its toes to prevent any questionable trading activity that might have the effect of damaging its case for modification of the Fletcher-Rayburn bill.

The exchange sent its members a questionnaire regarding recent transactions in stock of 18 companies, several of them low-priced issues, in which there recently been notable outbursts of activity. This, it was understodo, followed informal inquiries during the past two days, which failed to disclose anything important.

While the exchange is limited in reaching market operators who are not members of the exchange, and who cover up their tracks through placing orders with a number of houses, the exchange always finds itself able to exercise at least healthy moral influence by letting it be known that it is investigating.

Gossip in Wall street that the stock exchange regulation bill may not pass at this session of Congress continued to grow, despite assurance from congressional leaders that they intend to pass it. Many quarters in Wall street seem to feel that the opposition which has been stirred up among executives of firms with listed securities over the country is beginning to tell. Telegrams are flying about the country, and it appears that efforts are being made to leave no stone unturned to stir up ppsitin.

Wall street opinion that concerted opposition will prevent passage of a market control bill at this sesion is by no means uniform, and some quarters say the belief that it will, represents merely wishful thinking. It is pointed out that the Senate Banking and Currency Committee tee has wrung from the exchange, for the first time in its history, acknowledgement of the desirability of some regulation of security dealing. The battle now isover the extent and kind of regulation.

News that Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, is sailing for Europe, and while there will look into the foreign trade situation, was viewed as significant, in view of the large export business done by United States Steel in the boom years. During the course of the depression, the American steel industry lost much of its foreign markets. As a matter of fact, it became decidedly worried over shipments of foreign steel into the United States. The depreciation of the dollar, however, has altered the picture.

Foreign tariffs and import quotas are, of course, serious obstacles to the sale of American steel abroad. Furthermore, comparatively underdeveloped countries which form large potential markets for American steel are unable to finance large purchases. There has been enough improvement over the world, however, to make the outlook more hopeful.

LOWER CABLES HIT COTTON

NEW YORK, April 6.—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 2 to 4 points decline, in response to lower Liverpool cables and under foreign selling. May, 11.96; July, 12.08; October, 12.22; December, 12.33; January, 12.36; March, 12.48.

There appeared to be a little selling on the easier showing of the early stock market, and considerable May liquidation. This eased prices to 11.93 for May and 12.18 for October, making net declines of about 5 to 6 points, but the trade was a buyer of May and the market held fairly steady at the end of the first half hour with prices showing rallies of 2 or 3 points from the lowest on the near months.

Trading continued quiet later in the morning, but there was sufficient buying or covering to hold prices fairly steady and the selling for Liverpool account was less in evidence after the close of that market. At midday May was ruling around 11.99c, or 1 point net higher, while later months were 1 to 3 points net lower, with October selling at 12.23c.

LOCAL MARKET MOVEMENTS NARROW

Trading continued quiet on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today with prices working in a narrow range and the general character of the market showing no change from the past few sessions. The dealings here reflected the indecisive movement in New York where the market washed back and forth in a narrow range as the trading element studied the possibilities of renewed labor disturbance in the automotive industry and awaited further developments on the stock exchange control bill under hearing at Washington. Professional operators continued to provide the bulk of the business going through the exchange.

Small fractional recessions were noted here in the early trading but the volume of business was too small to determine the actual trend of the market. Standard Steel Spring gave up a part of its recent rally. Small lots of the lower priced brewing changed hands at figures very near their previous finals. The heavy industrial section was quiet as were the fuels.

STOCK FLURRIES BRING PROBE

International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The New York Stock Exchange today launched a probe in the market action of 14 stocks.

Wall street attributed this action to the high-pressure publicity the stocks have received in the last two weeks, resulting in active speculation in recent market sessions.

The stocks are Borg-Warner Corporation, common; Cerro de Pasco, Eaton Manufacturing Company, Federal Light and Traction common; Indian Refining Company, Kelvinator Corporation Louisiana Oil Refining Corporation, common and preferred; Pacific Gas and Electric, Seaboard Oil, Servel, Inc., Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company, Texas Pacific Land Trust, certificates and sub-share certificates, and Western Pacific Railroad Corporation 6 per cent preferred stock.

A questionaire was sent to all members of the exchange by Ashbel Green, secretary, asking all purchases, sales, receipts of shares into accounts, deliveries of shares from accounts and transfers between accounts between March 2 and April 5.

Sugar Market.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Raw sugar was easier early today with sales confirmed at declines of 5 points or at 2.90c for spot duty frees.

Futures opened at declines of 1 to points in response to the decline in spot and the disappointing showing of the London market. May contracts old from 1.45c to 1.43c and December from 1.62c to 1.61c, or 2 to 4 points below the previous close, with the near months showing the greatest decline. The market at midday was a little above the lowest and about 2 to points net lower.

Refined sugar was quiet and prices were unchanged at 4.50c for fine granulated with resale offerings at 4.30c.

BALANCE HELD IMPETUS TO BUSINESS

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

Mr. Rukeyser

NEW YORK, April 6.—The experience of the last year in the United States has demonstrated forcibly that business goes forward when economic balance is attained.

In the period between March and July, 1933, when price gaps as between agriculture and industry, and as between capital goods and consumption goods, were narrowed, there was a striking advance in business volume. Later, when added costs under the NRA began to widen price disparities, the recovery movement was reversed for a while.

A further relative rise in agricultural prices would doubtless be helpful in carrying business further up to the normal base, which would involve work in regular employment for those now idle or on emergency relief payrolls.

PRICE RECOVERY AIDS

The partial recovery of farm prices last year was a cause of industrial improvement. When the net reduction in the number of telephones in use ceased, the first improvement came in districts dependent on agriculture. Then, as men returned to work in the cities to take care of the demands of farmers, improvement spread also to industrial centers.

The experience of the automobile industry was somewhat similar. The improvement in automobile sales was more striking in sections dependent upon agriculture than for the country as a whole.

From the standpoint of achieving economic balance, the important consideration is to bring prices which are too low up to a parity, at which a maximum exchange of goods and services can take place. This time it happens that farm prices are relatively too low. In the future, in times of short crops, it may be that industrial prices will be relatively too depressed. The need is not farm relief as such, but rather the attainment of a condition of genuine economic balance, under which the vast social groups can re-employ one another.

SLOAN ANALYSIS

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, in a message to this column, complies with my request for an analysis of the sources of demand for new automobiles. He points out:

"We have assured that small towns, or rural communities might be described as towns with a population under 10,000. Approaching it from that standpoint, if we eliminate the states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, and consider same as predominantly industrial states, we find that these states registered about 30 per cent more new cars in 1933 as against 1932, while the rest of the country, which might be classed as agricultural, showed an increase of nearly 42 per cent.

"The largest percentage increases in unit volume occurred in the Southeast, Southwest and Pacific Northwest—each of these sections being unquestionably agricultural.

"You must recognize that an agricultural community is quite different from an industrial community, in the sense that its income is received in limited periods of the year, which importantly affect the spending power. It seems reasonable to assume, all things considered, that the agricultural sections, while not adding much to the business impetus in the early part of the year, plays a large part in the volume expansion that occurred after July 1."

Steel Trade to Report Better Results

By GEORGE H. SNYDER
Business Editor.

REPORTS OF STEEL companies for the first quarter are expected to show the best results of the recovery period. In nearly all cases they will be more satisfactory than in the final three months of 1933. They will, of course, present a sharp contrast with results for the first quarter of last year.

An increased number of companies will turn the corner and start to show profits instead of losses.

Steel mill activity increased during the entire quarter. In addition, prices were under control through the operation of the steel code. These factors combined to improve the financial results of steel companies.

* * *

Many Factors Affect Units

MANY FACTORS, some favorable and some unfavorable, will affect earnings of steel companies during the present quarter. Steel men, however, are optimistic about results to be shown for the period.

The 10 per cent wage increase, of course, will tend to have an adverse effect on earnings. Steel prices have been boosted between $2 and $8 a ton in order to compensate for this. It must be realized, however, that these price increases will do the industry little good during the present quarter.

Most consumers made contracts for their second quarter requirements before the price increases were announced. The new prices will not help the steel trade until the third quarter.

* * *

Expect High Output Rate

IN SPITE OF the fact that higher prices will not compensate for wage increases until the third quarter, results for the period are expected to be fully as good as in the first quarter.

It is thought in the steel trade that production will be maintained at about its present level during a large part of the period. The automobile trade still is operating at a high rate. In addition the railroads actually are buying rails and cars. Government sponsored construction projects are getting out of the planning stage and are being executed. All these influences are combining to help the steel industry.

It is believed in the trade that the improved rate of production will permit savings in costs which will compensate for the wage increase.

'Soak' Rich Tax Plan Dangerous

By B. C. FORBES

Mr. Forbes

LATEST INCOME tax proposals reveal clearly that lawmakers still are obsessed by the notion that the country can "soak the rich" indefinitely and compel them to maintain our now terrifically-costly government.

Legislators who imagine that a few rich men can be saddled with the bulk of the cost of running the government are childish, obfuscated, blind.

Curiously, the very same lawmakers who are eager to compel the rich to pay through the nose to maintain government, are striving to kill large incomes, striving to prevent the rich from enjoying a return from their capital. Not only are excessive individual surtaxes proposed, but unprecedently crushing inheritance taxes are advocated—as high as 60 per cent, meaning that of the money left by a multi-millionaire to his family, the government would take 60 cents of every dollar.

Too, it is planned to have the government reach out and seize a larger share of profits made by such corporations as succeed in making profits.

Also, Washington has let it be known raucously that it objects fiercely to any man capable of successfully running a gigantic enterprise being generously rewarded; in short, Washington childishly antagonizes paying any big man a big salary to run a big enterprise profitably. Thus Washington wants to kill off one main source of its own income, namely, income tax receipts from large salaries.

How Washington can possibly meet the billions upon billions of expenditures it gaily authorizes if, at the same time, it throws obstacles in the way of corporations earning money and does away with high salaries, isn't clear to the layman—and certainly isn't remotely clear to the lawmakers themselves.

Washington meanwhile wants to take steps which would inevitably cut down drastically the government's fat revenue from dealings in securities and commodities. Most of us find the footing of our bills a real problem. So will Washington. Its notion that it can finance all its extravagant expenditures merely by bleeding the rich is puerile, fantastic, impossibel.

All of us finally will have to pay the piper. The sooner there is frank recognition of this stern fact at Washington, the sooner may legislators begin to talk and act more sensibly, more rationally, more practicably.

FACTS AND FIGURES hot from business executives continue heartening. Some samples:

H. W. Burritt, of Kelvinator, reports shipments for the last six months as 79 per cent ahead of the best previous half year in its history.

President W. O'Neil, of General Tire: "Tires promise to cost 50 per cent more within a year. The general business outlook is excellent."

President Paul Hoffman, of Studebaker Sales Corporation: "Both orders and deliveries are surpassing all calculations and expectations."

H. C. Moock, Plymouth general sales manager: "Indications from every part of the United States are that spring business will be even greater than the first quarter led us to expect."

President R. C. Stanley, International Nickel: "We believe this company is entering a period of prosperity."

President James D. Tew, of Goodrich, announces a retirement pension plan for 21,000 employes, through purchase of the largest pension policy ever written by Aetna Life.

Chester G. Abbot: 'Sales of Terraplane and Hudson are already considerably in excess of half of the 1933 total."

President Harlow H. Curtice, Buick: "We enter April with employment and payrolls at a four-year peak."

General Motors reports a 49 per cent increase in the payroll of its export organization.

President A. G. Bean, White Company, announces a 150 per cent gain in orders over the first quarter of last year.

The latest steel wage increase will add fully $2,700,000 monthly to payrolls.

Since January 1, almost 500 banks have reopened.

LET WASHINGTON, employers and the rest of us keep up the good work.

Wheat Importers Seek Trade Agreements

ROME, April 6.—(AP.)—The return of three great European nations, France, Germany and Italy, to the status of wheat importers instead of self-sufficient producers, was promised today at a session of the world wheat advisory commission.

M. Davinet, the French delegate, in a long address stated his country would abandon its policy of wheat self-sufficiency and at the end of this year would begin importing again.

But in exchange, Davinet proposed, and was seconded by other importing nations, that wheat exporting nations make commercial treaties granting them trade concessions on manufactured and other products.

Their proposal is one of several steps the conference is considering in its effort to raise world wheat prices.

Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, American delegate, put the discussion on the other foot by saying former wheat importers could not hope to sell their industrial products abroad unless they reduced acreage and began to import wheat. Delegates from exporting countries supported Ezekiel's stand.

The commission decided the question of commercial treaties was too involved to be entered into in detail, although the step might be approved in principle.

The commission, with 15 nations present, hoped to reach an agreement with Russia on a wheat export quota for the Soviet.

The conference was brightened by the disclosure made in an official communique after yesterday's opening discussions that the world wheat carry-over on August 1 will be approximately 1,100,000,000 bushels—no greater than last year's figure.

The communique took note of an exceptionally short North American crop.

INDUSTRY GETS RIGHTS SOUGHT MANY YEARS

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics, New York University

NEW YORK, April 6.—The numerous price markups being announced by steel, automobile and other concerns raise important questions.

They are clearly connected with NRA and the "codes" adopted in the various industries. These NRA codes directly affect prices in two ways. First, they give the members of an industry power to get together on prices, and practically exempt them from the anti-trust laws. Second, they raise operating expenses, and that is made the basis for raising prices.

The NRA codes also lead to control over marketing methods, and to fixing the amounts allowed to wholesale and retail dealers. For example, in the oil trade an allowance of 6 cents a gallon is prescribed to cover the jobbers and retailers of gasoline, and they are prohibited from rebating any of this liberal amount to consumers.

Of course, this sort of thing leads to monopolistic price fixing and price maintenance. It is most interesting to read what the head of the Steel Corporation said, namely, that NRA had given the steel producers the privilege which they had sought for years. He meant the things called "stabilization" and "co-operation." These, in practice, mean price fixing.

So the steel companies have hastened to raise wages. But then they promptly marked up their prices. If everybody did that, the higher wages would do the laborers no good, since his cost of living would rise.

But equally interesting are the statements of the heads of General Motors and the Ford Motor Company.

The former says that such "co-operation" in industry should not be allowed to raise prices to consumers except when necessary to cover the cost of the most efficient producer.

He says:

"Otherwise we put a premium on inefficiency—and we raise the price to the consumer, with the result that there is less consumption of the products of industry and, hence, increased unemployment."

And Henry Ford says:

"Neither higher wages nor increased material costs can force us to raise prices . . . when prices go up, business goes down . . . Everybody will be looking for a plan to reduce prices before we can say that business is getting back where it should be."

So we find a monopolistic school arguing for "co-operation" and high prices. And we find an efficiency school arguing for competition and low prices.

In this case, I think Ford is right. Business, in the last analysis is justified by what it does for consumers. Profits are justified only by efficiency, and by products that are cheap, quality considered.

When things are cheap, more can be sold. Then more can be produced. Then more labor can be employed. Then the real incomes of all are increased.

But, above all, Mr. Sloan, of General Motors is right. These "code" combines may restrict competition and raise prices, thus enabling the inefficient producer to get by and make profits. They keep alive the economically unfit.

They also tend to prevent progress and make for rigidity. They try to keep business in certain fixed channels which they call "fair." This prevents competitive experiments to try out new and cheaper methods.

One result will be an irresistable movement among manufacturing consumers and ultimate consumers to defeat such schemes: Thus Ford threatens to "roll his own" steel. Consumer groups ("co-operatives") will form everywhere to buy their gasoline and other supplies without paying the excessive "spreads" which various codes assign jobbers and dealers.

We want the most for our money. Monopoly and high prices are not the way.

Illinois Central System closed the year 1933 with a net income of $158,901 after all charges, contrasted with a deficit of $2,505,942 in 1932. The railroad's business on the whole was less than in the previous year. 30-DAY HOLIDAY FOR RELIEF PROBE URGED

A 30-day "relief holiday" to re-organize the administration of emergency relief and weed out unworthy cases was proposed today by Joseph A. Rectenwald, South Side member of the State Legislature.

The plan would throw more than 200,000 on the verge of starvation for a month.

Rectenwald made his proposal to Douglas P. Falconer, state investigator probing the Allegheny Relief Administration, at a conference to discuss relief complaints.

STUDY ALL CASES

The Legislator advocated that all relief work be suspended for one month, during which the entire relief organization would be renovated and every relief case investigated.

Replying to this proposition, Falconer said:

"I'm afraid such a plan would be too terrible for those on relief. I'm in favor a weeding out process, but nothing so drastic as this."

PROPOSES BILL

Rectenwald, nevertheless, said he would sponsor a bill for a relief holiday if a special session of Legislature is called to consider the relief problem.

The conference heard charges that some women supervisors of relief have husbands with good jobs, and that many investigators are "young punks" insulting to relief families.

Falconer explained his inquiry here had covered all complaints, but that he could say nothing until he made his report to the Legislature, scheduled for April 23 or 24.

DANCER TELLS OF KIDNAPING

International News Service.

CHICAGO, April 6. — Miss Thelma Milliar, pretty night club dancer, almost at the point of hysteria, today told police of her harrowing experiences during four days of captivity in the hands of Chicago gangsters, who kidnaped her last Saturday:

"I had walked a few steps from my apartment when a car in which three men were riding pulled up at the curb.

"One of the men ran up and shoved me toward the car. I screamed. Someone struck me on the head. I was thrown on the floor of the car. A blanket was placed over me.

"We drove all night, I think. Then I was taken into a house and placed on a wooden chair in the middle of a big room. Over and over the men asked me who killed Gus Winkler and weather Al Bregar (the girl's former husband) was still alive."

Miss Milliar said she couldn't answer either question.

Water Too Cold, Suicide Repents

INSULL RESENTS CLEANING CELL

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service.

ISTANBUL, April 6.—Samuel Insull, former ruler of a vast financial realm, spent his first Turkish Sunday in a Turkish jail today while the governments of Turkey and the United States pondered the problem of how to get him back to Chicago to stand trial on indictments growing out of the collapse of his utilities enterprises.

Since today is the day Islam observes as its Sabbath, there was no official activity and the status of Insull's case remained unchanged.

It was visiting day at the detention house in old Stamboul, where Insull has been held since he was taken off the Greek ship Maiotis by Turkish police, but no visitors were permitted to see the former Chicagoan.

Insull in jail, however, is displaying his financial acument, it was learned. Prisoners in the detention house are required to keep their own rooms neat. Not relishing the job of being his own "chambermaid," Insull hired a fellow prisoner to clean his room and make his bed for 20 cents per day.

Pietro De Praj, the former technical director of the Vatican restoration library, said 1,000 holes had been made in the frescoes.

DISTRICT SEEKS CLEAN STREETS

A demand for action toward keeping parks and streets of Mission Hills clean will be made by residents of the area at the regular monthly meeting of the Mt. Lebanon Township Commissioners at Municipal Hall Monday night.

In view of the taxes which accrue from the district, the township is not doing its part in keeping up the community's appearance, residents charge.

They also will ask more strict enforcement of an ordinance compelling owners of vacant lots to keep them free of rubbish and weeds.

THEFT OF TREES SNARES TWO

Two North Side men had the wrong slant on the city beautiful, Magistrate Charles Papale informed them in North Side Police Court today.

The two had been arrested yesterday carrying four small maple trees from Riverview Park. They testified they intended to plant them in front of their homes and thought it was permissible to take them from the park.

Magistrate Papale said:

"The city needs those trees worse than you do."

The two, Michael Benyin, 60, of 4812 Pitler street, and Joseph Meolick, 50, of 1330 Warner street, were fined $10 each.

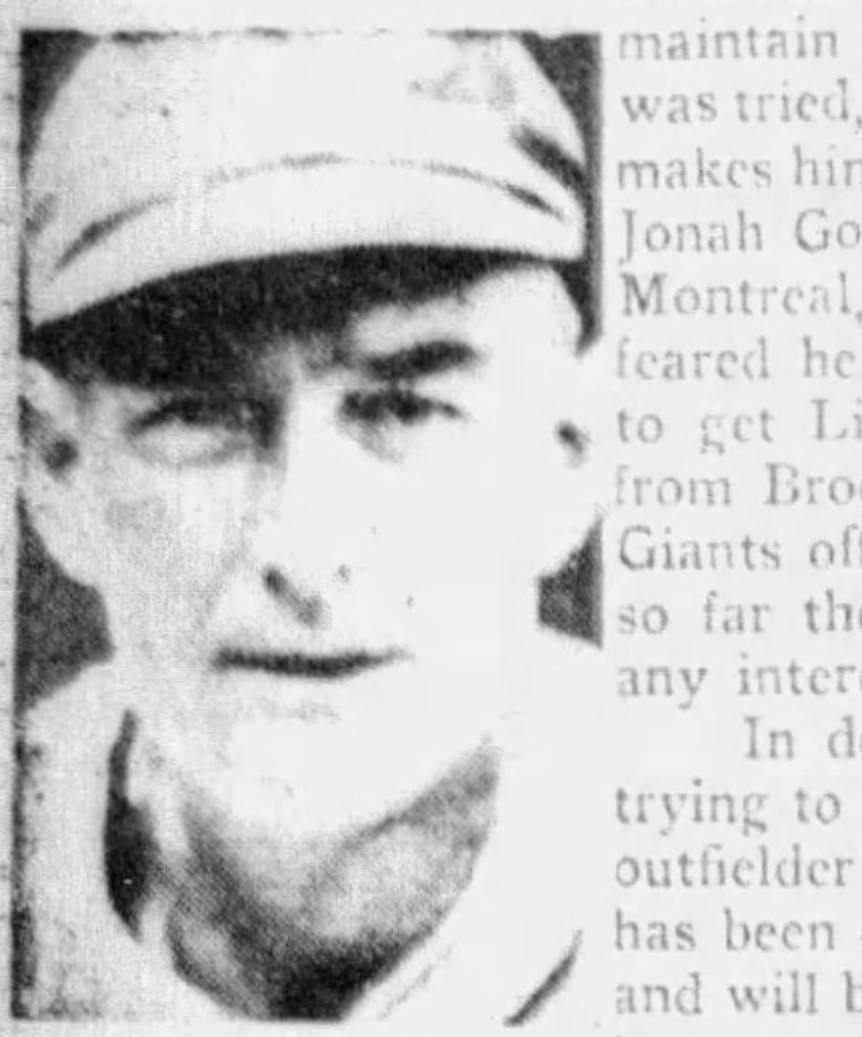
JAMES J. LONG'S SPORTS COMMENT

Hard to Replace Rabbit
Lee Tried at Keystone
Pirates Ganzel's Choice
◆
Indians Fill Slab Breach
Making Farce of Rugby
Climate Handicaps Ross

Probably not even Manager Bill McKechnie himself realized before the emergency actually arose what a hard job it would be to fill the shoes of Rabbit Maranville. The Rabbit set such a high standard of second-base play on the Boston club that finding another player able to maintain it is difficult. Dick Gyselman was tried, but his height of 6 feet 2 inches makes him too awkward for the position. Jonah Goldman, bought in haste from Montreal, is a good fielder, but it is feared he won't hit his weight. Efforts to get Linus Frey or Tony Cuccinello from Brooklyn were unsuccessful. The Giants offered to sell Eddie Moore, but so far the Boston club has not shown any interest.



Bill McKechnie

In desperation, McKechnie is now trying to plug the gap by converting an outfielder into a second sacker. Hal Lee has been called in from the grass patrol and will be given a thorough trial at the keystone. Lee played shortstop for Ludlow (Miss.) High School and later for University of Mississippi, but ever since he became a professional in 1928 he has been an outfield fixture. McKechnie figures that Lee's early infield experience will help him adapt himself to his new post, and that the shift will in addition give the Braves more power at bat than if second base were entrusted to one of the other candidates. Maranville is little, but he left a mighty big hole.

GANZEL PICKS PIRATES TO WIN PENNANT

John Ganzel, former major league player and manager, is one baseball man of long experience who sees the National League pennant coming to Pittsburgh. He picks the Pirates to win the flag, and gives two reasons for the selection. One is that Red Lucas has been added to the pitching staff, and the other is that the infields all through the league, with a livelier ball in use, will have to play farther back, and thus, he thinks, will fail very often to throw out those two Waners on infield hits. Ganzel predicts each of the Waners will jump 30 points.

The veteran picks the Cubs for second place, the Giants for third, and the Cards and Braves to fight it out for fourth. He offers to bet 5 to 1 that the Cards do not win the pennant, admitting that the club has plenty of ability, but holding that Frankie Frisch, while a great player, is not a good manager, and will be in trouble by the Fourth of July.

The older local fans will recall Ganzel as having been tried at first base by the Pirates in 1898, after the release of Harry Davis and before the acquisition of Bill Clark. John played first base for the New York Americans in 1903-04, for Cincinnati in 1907-08, managed the Reds in 1908, and succeeded Lee Magee as pilot of the Brooklyn Federal League club in 1915.

BROWN ENDS INDIANS' HUNT FOR SOUTHPAW

It may have meant no great loss to the Red Sox to let Lloyd Brown go to the Indians last October in exchange for Bill Cissell, as Boston still owns seven left-hand pitchers. The trade meant a great deal to Cleveland, however. The latter club has been struggling along without a serviceable southpaw ever since Joe Shaute's best days ended in 1930, but Brown has been shaping up in camp this spring in a way to convince Manager Walter Johnson that the hunt for a winning fork-hander is over.

Lloyd Brown

Brown doesn't go so well in hot weather, but as a spring and fall pitcher he has been effective, particularly against such strong clubs as the A's, Yankees and Tigers. Johnson, who managed him in Washington, is confident that Lloyd will supply at the start and finish of the season what Cleveland has lacked for four years. Brown, now 29, has had a spotty career. In his first four seasons he pitched for nine different clubs and made an unusual in-and-out record. Cleveland becomes the southpaw's sixth major league stop, as he has worn the livery of the Phils, Dodgers, Senators, Browns and Red Sox.

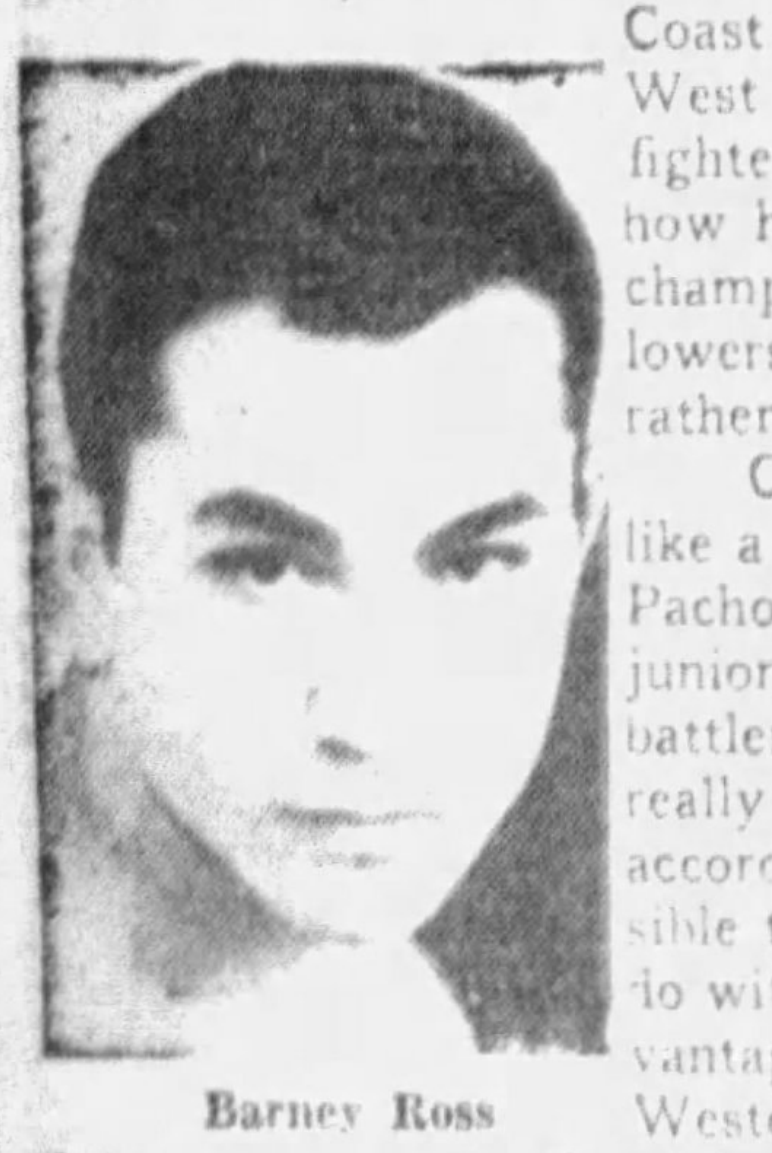
RUGBY'S OLD FRIENDS CAN'T RECOGNIZE IT

The game being played under the name of rugby by some of the teams in California since the revival of the ancient pastime there can't be recognized as that sport by its old followers in the vicinity. Smart individuals who think they can improve anything by a personal touch have tinkered with rules that have stood for generations. The Trojans started it by sending in substitutes. The Bruins of Westwood at first didn't use any, but finally hit on a limit of three substitutes. In the northern part of the state the teams are using no fewer than eight, but as a sort of sop to their conscience they don't permit players once removed to return to the game. In some other sectors they have gone so far as to suggest forward passing and interference, which prompts veterans to ask why they don't either play genuine rugby or stick to American football, which after all is just rugby changed by 50 years of tinkering.

Real rugby doesn't permit the use of any substitutes. It's fundamentally a game between teams of 15 men each—if a man is incapacitated his place is not filled. One disgusted rugby veteran on the Coast says that while perhaps he's just an old fuddy-duddy, it gives him a pain to see a bunch of young squirts who can hardly keep score trying to "improve" a game that was a fair country pastime all over the world before they were born and that will be long after they're forgotten.

CLIMATE TO BE FIGURED IN ROSS' SLUMP

The fact that Barney Ross did not win more decisively over Kid Moro, was held to a draw by Frankie Klick, and was lucky to get a disputed decision over Bobby Pacho in his California bouts, left Eastern boxing fans puzzled, while leaving Coast bugs disappointed. In the Far West they're calling Ross an over-rated fighter and say they can't understand how he ever became world lightweight champion. To fair-minded ring followers, the criticism of Barney appears rather unjust.

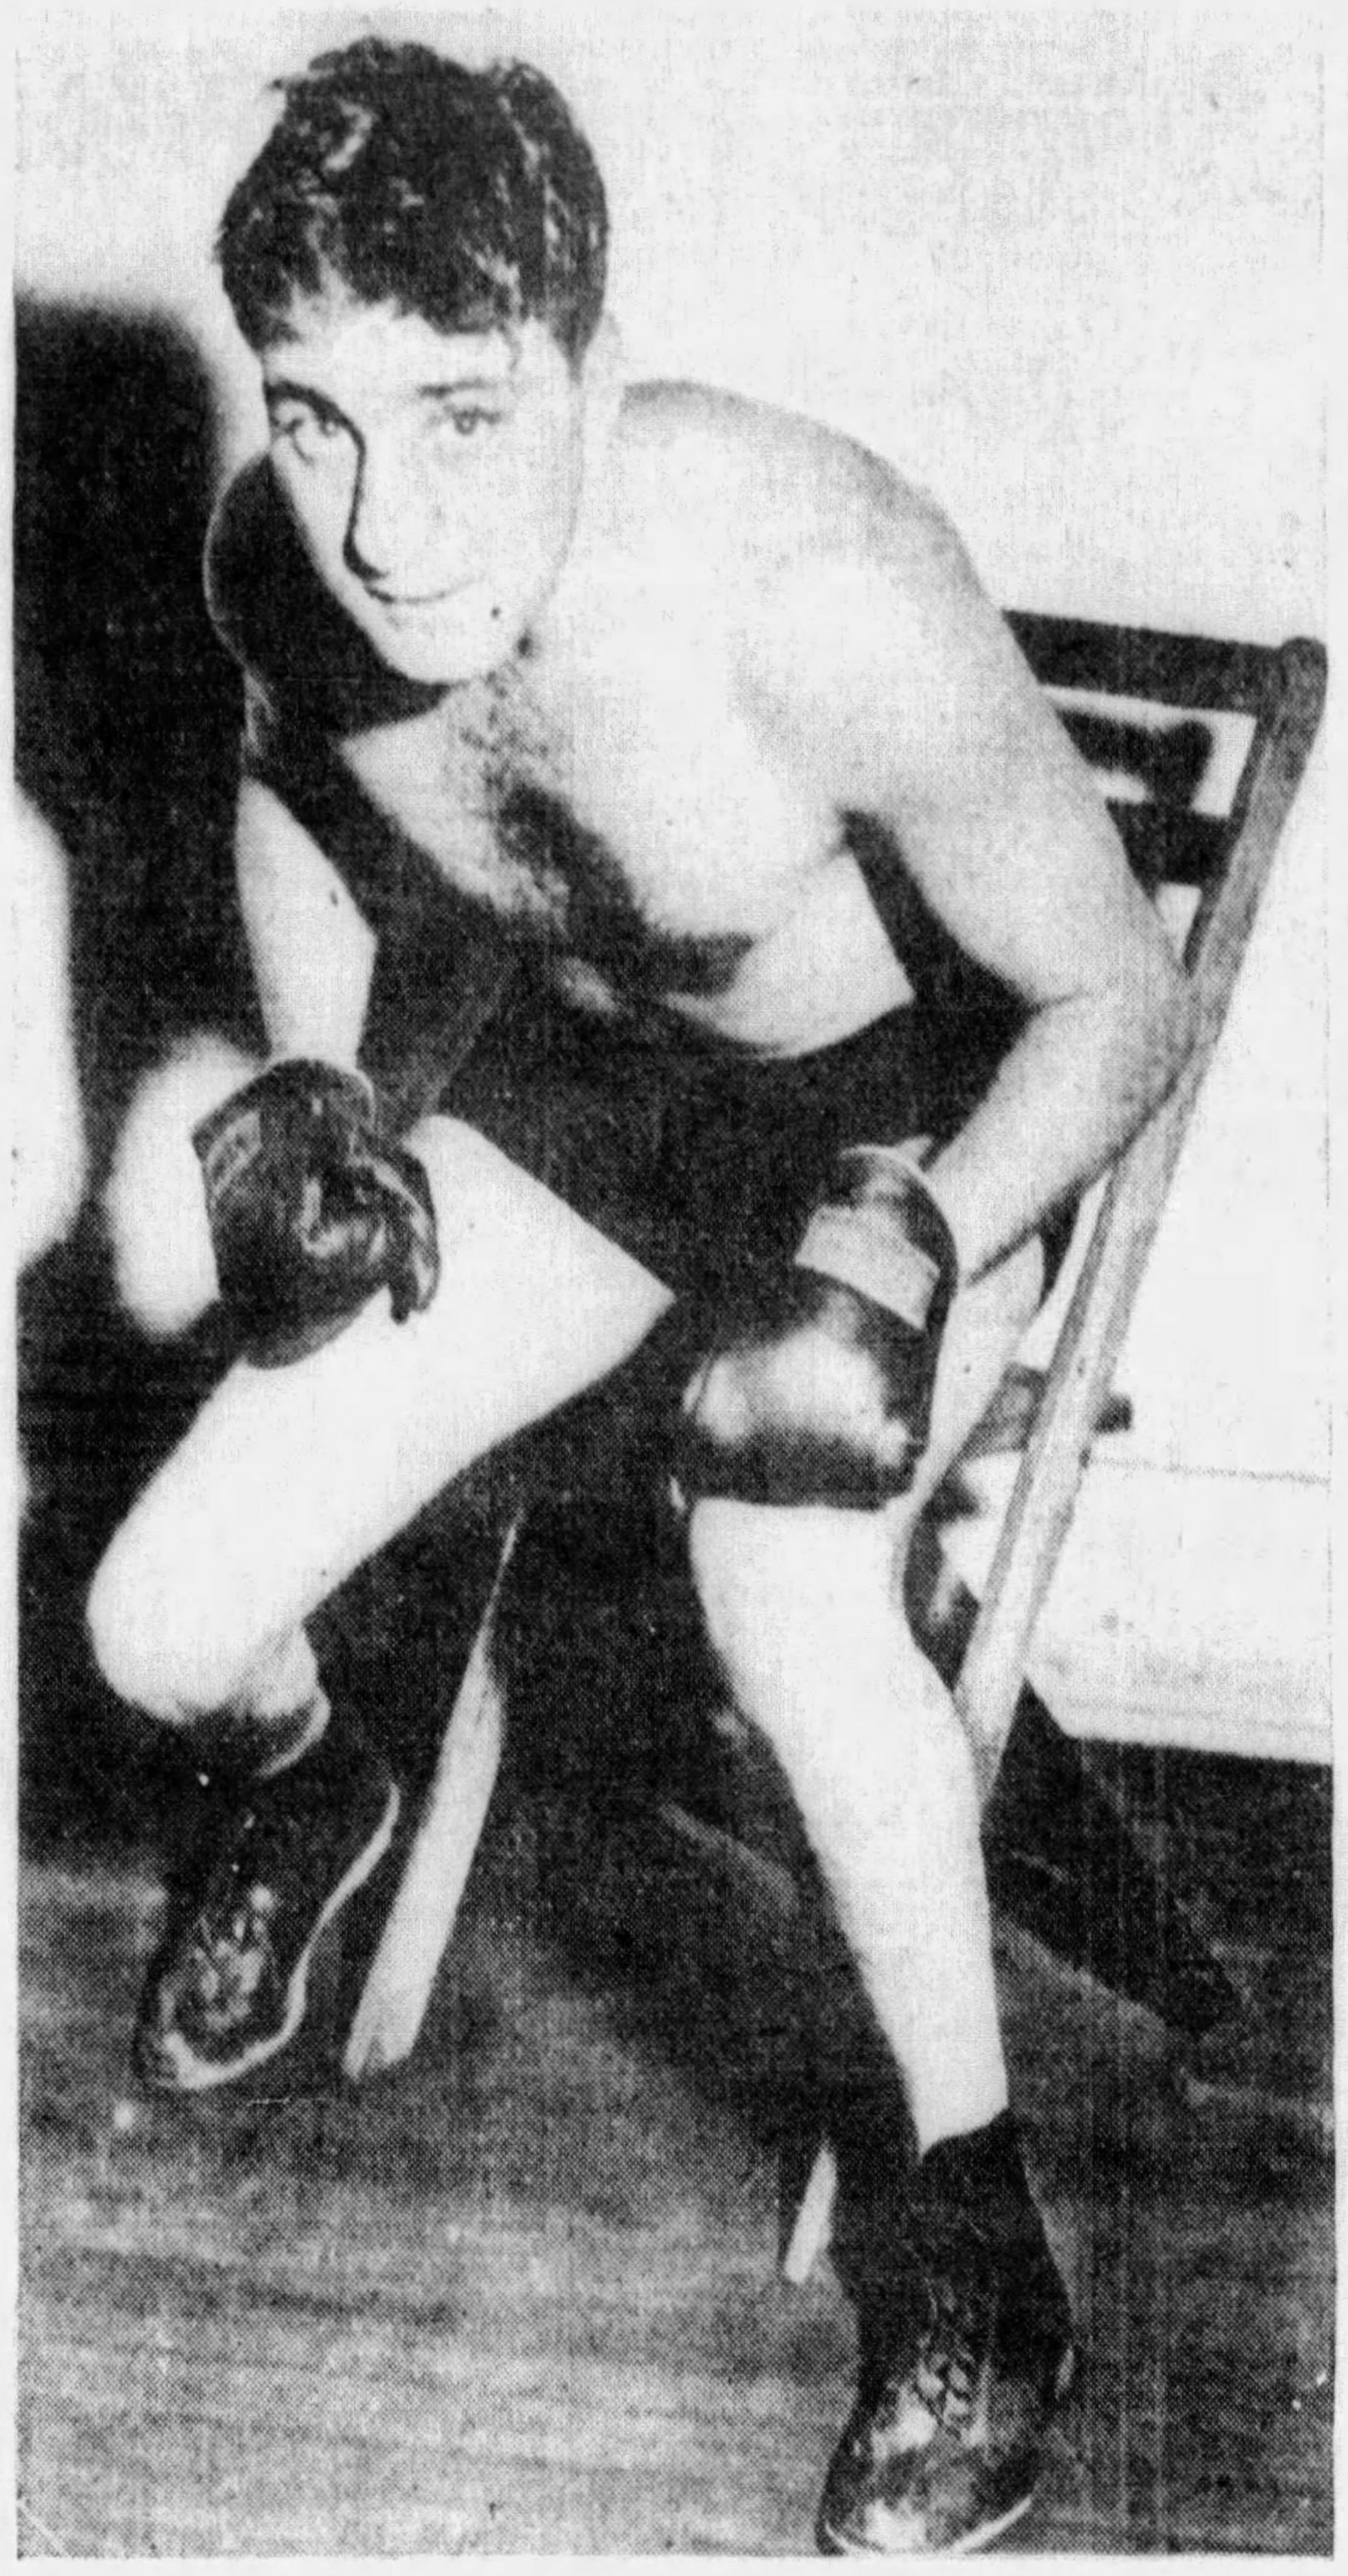


Barney Ross

Granting that Ross did not perform like a world beater, particularly against Pacho at Los Angeles in defense of the junior welterweight title the Chicago battler is supposed to hold, but which really still belongs to Jack (Kid) Berg, according to the rules, isn't it just possible that the climate had something to do with his failure to show to better advantage? When an Eastern or Mid-Western football team is beaten out there, excuses are offered for the defeat on the ground that the climate had a weakening effect on the visitors. Why shouldn't the same rule apply to a fighter? A boxer is called on for a great deal more action than a football player, and is more apt to reflect the influence of an enervating climate by tiring and losing his speed.

Rivals in Battle Tonight and Champion They Hope to Meet for Title

TED YAROSZ, LOCAL MIDDLEWEIGHT STAR



CHAMPION VINCE DUNDEE . . . TO BOX WINNER

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Pictures.
BEN JEBY, FORMER CHAMPION, YAROSZ'S FOE

Already twice winner over Vince Dundee, the world middleweight boxing champion, before the latter won the title, Yarosz hopes to advance his plans for a championship match with Dundee at Forbes Field by beating Ben Jeby, of New York, a former champion, in their 12-round bout in Duquesne Garden tonight. Jeby can seriously upset Teddy's ambitions by winning over him.

QUARTER FINAL COURT FRAYS ON TODAY

An abbreviated program looms today in the annual Allegheny Mountain Association, A. A. U., senior singles handball title tourney, in progress since Monday on the courts of the Keystone Athletic Club. Two quarter-final tussles comprise the bill, the victors in these frays rounding out the semi-final bracket, hostilities in which are slated for the morrow.

Dave Olbum, powerful Y. M. H. A. aspirant, engages Parker Smith, youthful Keystone crack, at 4 p. m. in one of the engagements, while in the other Carl Debberthine, hope of the Downtown Y. M. C. A., tries conclusions with the winner of the match between Frank Koubek and M. Y. Poling. Champion Theos Manos, K. A. C. ace, and Mike Hrycko, Y. M. C. A. luminary, entered the penultimate frame yesterday by downing Steve Myers, Y. M. C. A. slasher, and Ulrich Schoenberger, also of the Y, respectively.

Manos struck top form in accounting for Myers, 21-5, 21-12, the premier's dazzling low kills, strong defense and splendid tactical display boding ill for all remaining rivals. Hrycko, though he dropped the first game to Schoenberger, was never in danger, the loser tiring fast after a fair start.

The doubles competition gets under way at the Keystone Club on Monday. A strong field, headed by Manos and Curtis Clark, the defending champions, will scrimmage. Chairman Dick Koubek is receiving names of teams in care of the K. A. C. Yesterday's summary:

Third round—J. Parker Smith defeated A. A. Blaias, 11-21, 21-14, 21-16; Dave Olbum defeated E. C. Clark, 21-15, 21-18.

Fourth round—Theos E. Manos defeated Steve Myers, 21-5, 21-12; Mike Hrycko defeated Ulrich Schoenberger, 14-21, 21-3, 21-6.

World Chess Star Plays Here Tonight

Warburton Gets Movie Job as Peanut Man

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—(AP.)—Rejected from a football player's role because the director said he didn't look like one, Irvine Warburton, the University of Southern California's pint size All-America quarterback, is in the movies as a peanut vendor.

Warburton was visiting his friend, Director W. S. Van Dyke, at a studio. The scene represented Madison Square Garden in New York. In one particular spot, Van Dyke wanted a peanut man, and there wasn't any. Five minutes later, the football star played the role.

HIGHLAND CLUB, EDGEWOOD SET OPENERS

By TOM BIRKS

At least two district golf clubs will hold their initial sweepstake competition of the season tomorrow. At the Edgewood Country Club, Toots Erath, the professional, expects to send off a large crowd from the first tee, and Vincent Eldred, mentor at the Highland Country Club, is laying plans along the same lines.

Edgewood usually is one of the first clubs in the district to start its competition season for members. Arthur C. Duncan, chairman of the greens committee, after inspection of the layout, has announced that play can get under way tomorrow. The installing of a water system puts Edgewood in a class with the leading courses in the district, and it is possible that one of the West Penn championships will be staged there this year.

Toots Erath is going to start his junior class earlier this season. At least 35 children of the members take advantage of the instructions.

Eldred is looking for a large turnout tomorrow. At the end of last season, Sam Parks, Sr., chairman of the greens committee, and John Quaill, greenskeeper, figured upon making some radical changes, but these will be held over for another year.

Carlos Moore, the newly appointed managing director of the Churchill Valley Golf Club, comes from Chicago after being associated with some of the leading clubs in the Illinois city. Before Moore went to Chicago to study the technical phases of the golf club business he was district manager of a number of leading motion picture organizations. He will have complete control of affairs at Churchill Valley. Jake DeFatta, the greenskeeper at the club, has laid out temporary greens for use until the weather dries out the regular greens.

TEE TO GREEN

Ted Luther, popular Valley Heights professional, reported to the club today. Ted appears to have lost a few pounds over the winter, but is ready to swing into action.

Members of the Pittsburgh Field Club have been playing on the regular greens all winter. Professional Dave McKay played a round the first day back from Florida. Club officials have not as yet named an official opening day.

F. L. Stout, Sr., chairman of the greens committee at the Shannopin Country Club, does not intend to open the entire 18 greens at the Ben Avon Heights Club tomorrow. It is his intention to play on about three of the regular greens for the first two or three days.

J. D. O'Neill and George Ormiston are working hard perfecting plans for the national public links championship. Nothing is being left to chance, and soon many committees will be announced to help carry the burden.

Three other appointees to help Walter Phillips run Schenley Park links this season will be announced today. Eddie Kunold, for nearly 20 years in charge of the locker rooms, is expected to be retained.

STARS BATTLE IN DUQUESNE GARDEN

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor.

Ted Yarosz, pride of Monaca, takes another step in his drive toward the world middleweight championship in a 12-round bout in Duquesne Garden tonight when he engages Ben Jeby, of New York, former titleholder, and he will enter the ring a decided favorite to win.

All of which disturbs Jeby not in the least. It is his proud boast that he goes at his best in bouts in which he competes as the underdog in the betting. He says he has won so many battles in which he has been figured to lose that he lost count of them long ago.

Jeby has seen Yarosz fight twice, in his second bout with Vince Dundee, the present champion, and against Young Terry, both in Newark, N. J., and he is one of those who are positive in their declarations that Terry, with his crowding style, really defeated Yarosz, although the latter claims he was the victim of a bad decision that night. Jeby believes he knows how to fight Yarosz effectively, and says he will be in there on top of Teddy as long as the bout lasts throwing punches.

Jeby became champion by winning an elimination tournament conducted by the New York State Athletic Commission after Mickey Walker vacated the title by reason of no longer being able to make the weight. He lost the bauble on a knockout by Lou Brouillard, a southpaw, and Brouillard, in turn, was beaten by Dundee after Vince had been beaten twice by Yarosz. The New Yorker has appeared here once before, winning by a technical knockout over Buck McTiernan at Motor Square Garden a few winters ago.

Word was received this morning from Max Waxman, manager of Dundee, that he and Dundee will be unable to appear as spectators at the ringside tonight as they had planned. Dundee has gone into training for two title bouts in the East, the first with Al Diamond at Paterson, N. J., May 3, and it has been deemed advisable not to disturb his routine. Waxman had made reservations for tonight to give Dundee a chance to see Yarosz, whom he probably will meet again at Forbes Field this summer, with the championship at stake, in a bout against an opponent who figures to extend him.

A public weighing of the boxers in tonight's show was scheduled for the lobby of Duquesne Garden at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Matchmaker Lew Raymond has lined up a rather promising preliminary card of one six-round bout and four five-rounders, as follows:

Al Rossi, of Newark, N. J., vs. Anson Green, of Homestead, middleweights, six rounds.

Mike Barto, of New Kensington, vs. Marty Gornick, of Whitaker, welterweights, five rounds.

Lloyd Clements, of Jeannette, vs. Carl Montebano, of Braddock, light-heavyweights, five rounds.

Max Elling, of the Hill, vs. General Burrows, of Aliquippa, welterweights, five rounds.

Joey Adams, of Johnstown, vs. Shorty Washko, of Duquesne, bantamweights, five rounds.

Promoter Jim McGirr, of McKeesport, is completing his preliminary card for his Tiger Joe Randall-Joey Bazzone show, which he will stage next Monday night.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 6.—That the Pirates have unearthed a diamond in the rough in Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto is the conclusion of most of the regulars of the club, including Manager Gibson and his strategic aides. The all-around play of the 19-year-old Italian youth in the long barnstorming tour of the Buccos and Chicago White Sox has convinced the Pittsburghers that the embyro secondsacker has what it takes.

Quite a few of the Bucco veterans rather expect to see Thomas Thevenow at the keystone sack when the race waxes warm this summer, but all hands figure that in the course of a year or two, Cookie should be able to deliver the goods. Lavagetto suffered a short slump after the dusting off episode written by Altoona Pat Malone in Los Angeles. Some of the Pirates hint that Leo Hartnett collaborated in that little piece of work, in other words, the Bucs infer that it was Hartnett who called for the pitches that floored Cookie when he was "going too good" to suit the Cubs.

GRIMM NOT 'IN'

To the credit of Manager Charley Grimm, it should be written that Lefty had no part in the skit. The Cubs' battery pair just made it up as they went along, so to speak. Cookie did not lose his nerve, but naturally he was bit gun shy for a day or two. At present he is slamming the ball like one of the Waner boys.

He may work into the lineup often enough to get the experience he needs. But as good as he appears, he is not yet a big-league performer, in the opinion of some of the Pirates, who rightly argue that he has been playing professional ball only one year.

It was Cookie's clean single in the sixth with Gus Suhr on third and the score tied that gave the Pirates a 4-to-3 victory over the White Sox yesterday in the first clash of the two-game set here. Suhr had tripled before the kid rifled a liner to the outfield. The Pirates' success made it four out of six in the current series.

FRENCH GOES ROUTE

Larry French won new honors in pitching the full distance for the Buccos. French really deserved a shutout triumph. The Sox scored all three of their runs in the third after Traynor's throw to the plate resulted in a run-down play. Pie chased Bordagaray too far toward the plate and in the mixup Veltman and Vaughan were charged with errors.

French was reached for only eight hits and seemed to be ready to do a Fourth of July trick. He was opposed by Milt Gaston and John Pomorski, who also were effective on the slab. The Pirates threw a four-hit attack at Gaston in the third to score three tallies.

Red Lucas and George Earnshaw will fight it out on the slab this afternoon. Late tonight the two clubs will head for El Paso, Tex., where two games will be played tomorrow and Sunday.

Chillysauce

The League of Nations and World Court should send a vote of confidence to the first four hitters in the White Sox lineup. Evar Swanson, fleet leading batter, is a Swede; Stanley Bordargaray is a husky Frenchman, Zeke Bonura is an Italian of heavyweight proportions and Aloysius Szymanski, one of the greatest batters of baseball, who plays under the Al Simmons cognomen, is Polish.

Bonura is well lithographed by the Chicago writers with the Fonseca entourage. The New Orleans strong boy has an interesting background. Zeke and Marchy Schwartz, of Notre Dame fame, were roommates as they went through prep school at St. Ignatius at Bay St. Louis, La. Bonura was a four sports captain in prep school. He entered Loyola University, of New Orleans, but gave up collegiate studies, and also a business career because of his love for baseball. His parents are wealthy.

The improvised open air press box at the Tucson park is on the field and within a few feet of the Pirate bench. The setup proved so chummy some of the players made use of the correspondents' typewriters to get rid of their wisecracks. When your correspondent went to sit down he found Woodie Jensen pounding out notes. Here are some of them:

"Arky Vaughan, the Fullerton marvel, is smiting the American bulb with his oldtime vigor, and your correspondent will venture to remark our Arky will cause many a twirler to retire to the cooler atmosphere of the dugout this summer.

"Bill Swift, Scranton's donation to the sport fans of America, worked out attired in a beautiful set of sun glasses. He gave the impression of a trick motorcycle demon, and, as Red Lucas remarked, 'If he can pitch like he can come up with disguises, the race is already over.'

"Doc Jorgenson, our jovial eliminator of aches and pains, has an entirely new method of treating athletes. Doc has a new soft soap remedy for which he has been offered a big royalty. Jorgy's heart is in the right place; there isn't a thing he wouldn't do for the boys, provided it doesn't cost anything."

The blazing sun is responsible for a dark glass fad among the Pirates. Manager Gibson had to fit himself with a pair two weeks ago. His eyes have given him so much trouble he has not been in uniform in that period. A dozen of the players wear the smoked lens in the practice drills.

EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: THE DIAL AND THE CLOCK—The reason for this time equation is that while we are supposed to employ "solar" time, "solar" in this respect refers not to the real sun, but to an artificial sol, whose motions coincide with the real sun only four times a year. The real sun is unreliable as a timekeeper because its (apparent) motion is not uniform and because the earth's orbit is eccentric. In November and the middle of February the difference between dial and clock time is at its maximum and amounts to about 16 minutes.

DUQUESNE NET TEAM TO PLAY 14 MATCHES

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Fourteen matches, home-and-home contests with seven district rivals, comprise the Duquesne University varsity tennis program that faces Coach Grant Siverd's proteges for the impending campaign. The card, definitely set save for the final confirmation of possibly two or three dates, was released by Bluff sport authorities today. It also was announced that Regis Liggin will serve as student manager of the Red and Blue array.

Competition will get under way for the Bluffites on Monday, April 23, when Waynesburg will visit the Duke bailiwick. Thereafter action will be fast, frequent and furious until Saturday, May 26, whereon the windup will be staged with Geneva furnishing the oppositoin at Beaver Falls. Besides Waynesburg and Geneva, the Siverd crew will battle Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Wash-Jeff, West Virginia and Grove City, all traditional foes. The schedule:

April 23—Waynesburg at Duquesne.
April 25—Carnegie Tech at Duquesne.
April 28—Grove City at Duquesne.
May 1—Pitt at Duquesne.
May 3—Carnegie Tech at Carnegie Tech
May 5—Wash-Jeff at Washington.
May 8—Geneva at Duquesne.
May 10—West Virginia at Morgantown.
May 12—Wash-Jeff at Duquesne.
May 16—Grove City at Grove City.
May 18—Waynesburg at Waynesburg.
May 21—Pitt at Pitt.
May 25—West Virginia at Duquesne.
May 26—Geneve at Beaver Falls.

Favored by perfect weather, the Duke varsity and freshman squads galloped through their paces for the first time yesterday afternoon on the Bluff asphalt courts. Frank Serany, No. 1 man a year ago, was in togs and hit a few, but it is still doubtful whether or not his recent illness will incapacitate him for the season. Capt. Bill Purcell, Roy Getty and Ed Rowan were other veterans on deck. The remainder of the contingent is quite green, but several newcomers show distinct promise.

BLACK HAWKS NEAR STANLEY CUP TITLE

DETROIT, April 6.—(AP.)—The Chicago Black Hawks are only one game away from the Stanley Cup today after walloping the Detroit Red Wings, 4 to 1, in the second game of hockey's titular series.

Before 14,000 howling fans in Detroit's Olympia the Black Hawks swept to victory last night in a game that was even for the first two periods and then became a romp for the visitors.

The battle scene now shifts to Chicago, where the third game will be played Sunday night. The fourth event also will be played in Chicago and the fifth in Detroit, the series going to the winner of three games.

The Wings, playing better hockey than they did when they lost 2 to 1 in a 21-minute overtime game on Tuesday, fought a gallant but futile battle. Midway in the second period when Herb Lewis dashed into the goal mouth to push Cooney Weiland's rebound past Goalie Chuck Gardiner, it appeared they had hit their stride, but in the closing period the Black Hawks broke the tie and ran their score to four points with deadly precision.

THREE AMATEUR RING CHAMPS WIN

BRILL BEATEN BY ANGOTT; ELEY COPS

By JESS CARVER

The luck of the draw and the rocky fists of Sammy Angott has erased the name of one champion from the lists in the annual Allegheny Mountain Association senior boxing championship tournament, which got under way last night in the Keystone A. C. ring.

Billy Miller

Angott, himself a champion, having won the 118-pound title in last year's event, punched out a decision over Snooky Brill, of Erie, who in 1933 captured the 112-pound crown, last night. This year, however, the boys are battling as featherweights. Angott had Brill in a bad way in the final round, and came close to registering a knockout.

Two other '33 champions advanced with decisive victories. William Eley, who has been showing the way to all district amateurs from 112 pounds to 160 for the past two years, demonstrated his knockout punch as he stowed away George Adrango, of the Pittsburgh Lyceum, in the first round of their 135-pound class scrap. The Pleasant Valley A. C. Negro star had Adrango at sea with his bobbing and weaving and crowding and suddenly hung a left hook to the chin and down went Georgie. He wobbled to his footsies at nine, but a second later went down again when another left cracked him on the button. The referee then stopped the action.

SWEENEY VICTOR

Leo Sweeney, the featherweight king, fighting in the lightweight class, won a hard-fought victory over rugged Tip Davis, of West Newton. The boys appeared equal in punching power, but Sweeney was too smart and had too educated a left hand for Tip.

Billy Miller, Pittsburgh Boys' Club star, served notice on other aspirants for the 126-pound class title, including Angott, that he must be given serious consideration for title honors by lacing Frank Karnash, no setup of a feather, in a torrid three rounds. Miller, who has been improving steadily, did a workman-like job of beating the Monon Valley A. C. lad.

CAMP SCORES K. O.

It took Harry Camp, of the North Boroughs A. C., only two minutes and nine seconds to stop Fred Hunt, of Beaver Falls, to record the quickest knockout of the evening.

The Pittsburgh Boys' Club, the Pittsburgh Lyceum, the Pleasant Valley A. C., of New Salem, and the North Boroughs A. C. each advanced two men to the quarter finals, while the Krah A. A., Frawley A. C., Emerald A. C., Erie, Burke A. C., Tucker A. C., Braddock Library Club and Monon Valley A. C. each advanced one man.

In tonight's punching, the 147, 160, 175 and heavyweight class lads swing into action. The summary:

112-Pound Class

Eddie Tusher, Krah A. C., drew a bye.

Minnie DeMore, North Boroughs A. C., drew a bye.

George Morgan, Pittsburgh Lyceum, defeated Ralph Costa, Italian Club, Meadville.

Matt Ozeniak, Emerald A. C., defeated Johnny Burke, St. John's Lyceum.

118-Pound Class

Carmen DeTata, Frawley A. C., drew a bye.

Tommy Ryan, Pittsburgh Lyceum, drew a bye.

Gene Gibbons, Burke A. C., defeated Felix Cashietta, Pittsburgh Lyceum.

Frankie Dunst, Erie, defeated George Jadas, Pittsburgh Lyceum.

126-Pound Class

Sammy Angott, Tucker A. C., defeated Snooky Brill, Erie.

Billie Miller, Pittsburgh Boys' Club, defeated Frank Karnash, Monon Valley A. C.

Paul Bradley, Braddock Library A. C., defeated Frank Vavram, Monon Valley A. C.

135-Pound Class

Harry Camp, North Boroughs A. C., defeated Robert Velose, Springdale A. C.

William Eley, Pleasant Valley A. C., won by a technical knockout over George Adrango, Pittsburgh Lyceum.

Leo Sweeney, Pittsburgh Boys' Club, defeated Tip Davis, West Newton A. C.

Harry Camp, North Boroughs A. C., knocked out Fred Hunt, Beaver Falls.

Pfirman, Family Escape Injury In Smashup

TUCSON, Ariz., April 5.—Charles (Cy) Pfirman, umpire-in-chief of the Pirates-White Sox barnstorming series, and his family had a narrow escape from serious injury as he drove from Phoenix to this city. Pfirman was driving along in the dark at a fast rate of speed about 60 miles from Tucson when a steer suddenly jumped into the path of his automobile. Pfirman tried to apply his brakes, but the steer was so close he could not avoid a bad collision. The big automobile hit the animal and then swerved into the ditch.

Fortunately for the four occupants of the car it did not turn over. The bumper of the auto and fenders were badly bent. When Pfirman eventually got the car on the road and tried to get under way his steering apparatus was so badly bent he ran into the ditch again. His right wrist was painfully bruised and the other passengers were shaken up, but were able to continue on the journey.

Michigan Boxers Lead in Tourney

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—(AP.)—Leather-slingers representing a dozen states, dominated numerically, at least, by Michigan's seven rugged survivors from Detroit and suburban Highland Park, today remained in the scramble for the highly prized National amateur boxing titles. Semi-final and final bouts are carded tonight.

San Francisco's sturdy, colorful surviving group—Apostoli, Fusti, Bozzano, Meehan and Mace—ran Michigan a close second with five men qualified for the semi-finals, followed by Illinois and Ohio, with four each; New York state with three and Missouri and Rhode Island with two each. Other states still in the running with a single survivor are Virginia, Oklahoma, Georgia, Kansas and Massachusetts.

Christner Stops Gemas in Third

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 6.—(AP.)—Meyer (K. O.) Christner, veteran Akron heavyweight, knocked out George Gemas, of Philadelphia, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here last night.

Christner floored Gemas twice in the second round for counts of nine and had his opponent down twice in the third before putting him away for good.

Four-round preliminaries were won by Dick Woodward, 144, of Fairmont, over Cyclone Ritz, 150, of Morgantown; Young Vasco, 177, of Fairmont, over Battling Hot Shot, 168, of Clarksburg; Kid Coleman, 162, of Fairmont, over Jimmy Watson, 160, of Youngstown, and Young Mansell, 132, of Fairmont, over Buzzy Hannigan, 130, of Fairmont.

LOCAL, WEST VA. PINMEN HEAD FOR A. B. C.

By PHILIP GRABOWSKI

Five Pittsburgh teams and two from West Virginia will board a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie train at 8:45 o'clock tonight bound for Peoria, Ill., where they will participate in the annual American Bowling Congress tenpin tournament tomorrow night. The pinmen have engaged two special cars in which to make the journey. The local aggregation consists of the Iron City crew, two teams from the North Side Elks Lodge 339, Auditorium No. 1 and the Hartwigs, while the Stifels, one of the best teams in Wheeling, and the Golden Krusts are the West Virginians.

The Iron City, Golden Krusts and Stifels won a big portion of the prizes in the recent Tri-State tournament here. All of the pinsters will roll singles and doubles on the concluding day of the tourney, Sunday.

LOCALS IN MONEY

PEORIA, Ill., Aril 6.—Possibly Pittsburgh district pinsters figured enough of a jolt had been given the American Bowling Congress tourney yesterday afternoon for neither the Huntington, W. Va., nor the Warren, O., outfits, rolling last night, were even close to cashing in. The Guyans, of Huntington, hit 2,611, the Thomas five and Warren, 2,415 and 2,508 resectively.

Pittsburgh, Erie, Bradford and Brackenridge keglers gave the money a good jingle during the late afternoon, Erie in particular gaining much prominence through the 1,281 smashed out by Fred Snyder and Ross Greider as it placed them sixth in the doubles event. Greider came back with a 630 singles and Snyder with 620.

JAP NET ACE TAKES LIFE

International News Service.

TOKIO, April 6.—An affair of the heart and the subsequent necessity of having to choose between love and duty to his country today were blamed for the tragic suicide of Jiro Satoh, 26-year-old ace of Japense tennis players and one of the first 10 ranking stars of the world.

Soon after word was received here disclosing Satoh had ended his own life by leaping overboard from a Japanese steamer near Singapore, while en route to Europe to play in the Davis Cup matches, it was revealed the young athlete had wanted to remain in Japan and marry Miss Sanae Okada, pretty young tennis star of the Japanese courts.

The Japan Tennis Association, however, had persuaded Satoh to go to Europe with the Davis Cup team "to keep high the honor of the Japanese empire." Satoh, ninth ranking player of the world, was the mainstay of the Japanese team and was badly needed for its international competition.

Depressed at having to leave behind the girl of his heart and in poor mental health as a result of overtraining for the strenuous campaign ahead resulted in Satoh's suicide, friends said.

TRIO OF SWIM MARKS FALL

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—(AP.)—Three new world marks and one A. A. U. standard were written into the records here in the first day's competition of the annual national Amateur Athletic Union's indoor championship.

The New York Athletic Club and the University of Michigan, winner and runner-up respectively last year, were deadlocked at the end of the first day's program, each with 11 points. The Newark A. C. with five points was next in line.

A 17-year-old Paterson (N. J.) High School lad, Al Vande Weghe, sporting the colors of the Newark A. C., lowered the world standard in the 150-yard back stroke when he won the event in the remarkable time of 1:36.9.

Another world mark went by the board when Taylor Drysdale, of the University of Michigan, won his heat in the 300-yard medley swim in 3:35.4, clipping a full second off the mark made by Buster Crabbe in 1932.

The third world mark to fall was not made in actual competition. However, it was sanctioned by A. A. U. officials and will stand. Paced by two Ohio State University tankmen, Jack Medica of the University of Washington, negotiated the 400-yard free style in 4:16. The old mark of 4:20 flat was held by Ralph Flannigan.

The Culver team plays the Pittsburgh Gunners in the Hunt Armory tomorrow night.

Famous Amateur Polo Star Dead

NEW YORK, April 6.—(AP.)—Raymond Belmont, 45, who died yesterday at his home near Leesburg, Va., had been for many years one of the leading amateur polo players in the United States.

He played with Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., R. E. Strawbridge, Jr., and Devereux Milburn.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 6.—(AP.)—George T. Dunlap, Jr., national champion, was 1 up on Dick Chapman, Greenwich (Conn.) star, after nine holes of their 36-hole title round of the North and South amateur golf tournament today.

Both were displaying a poorer brand of golf than exhibited in the earlier rounds, which saw both slash par to pieces on more than one occasion. Dunlap took a 38 for the nine and Chapman one more.

Chapman was having trouble with his woods, while Dunlap failed to continue the uncanny putting which marked the tournament so far.

Baseball Briefs

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(INS.)—Bill Terry and his Champion Giants were attempting to contrive some means of removing the dynamite from the bat of Joe Vosmik as the New Yorkers and their traveling companion-rivals, the Cleveland Indians, arrived here today. Vosmik's bat was the big reason why the Indians made it four games to two over the Giants at Montgomery, Ala., yesterday. The score was 4 to 2.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(INS.)—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, the celebrated left-hander, was notified by Joe McCarthy today that he had been assigned the task of the pitching for the Yankees on American League opening day, April 17. Gomez got a good workout yesterday when he hurled eight innings against the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association. The Yankees defeated the minor leaguers, 7 to 3.

ORLANDO.—(INS.)—Rumors of an impending trade between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves were revived here today following the visit of the McKechnyites to the Brooklyn training camp. Casey Stengel, of the Dodgers, is reported to be seeking Bill Brandt, but the Braves apparently are reluctant to let the star southpaw go. The Dodgers break camp tomorrow.

Chickie's Daughter

By ELENORE MEHERIN

CHAPTER XXXVII.

Pippin sat on a stool peering through a microscope at a smear on a slide. A little world in itself. An exciting pattern of dots and whirls.

She turned suddenly to her father: "Why don't I go in for medicine?"

"Do you want to?"

"I've been happier this last four months—with a real, deep, inside happiness than ever in my life before. The thrill of accomplishment, I suppose. I knocked that anatomy cold, dad."

Synopsis

Pippin, pretty daughter of Chickie, falls in love with Kevin McPike. Pippin and Kevin's sister, Kathie, are fast friends. Pippin is thrilled by the first real kiss she ever had—from Kevin. When Kevin goes to Europe to pursue his studies, Pippin meets Bill Lodge, a young ensign. At a friend's home, Chickie meets Barry Dunne, the man who caused her so much sorrow. Pippin goes to a party with Bill, but after returning seems unhappy. She tells her father what she heard about her mother, and that she thought him responsible. David explains to her what really happened and Pippin is again happy. Chickie tells Pippin the real story of her life. Pippin goes on hikes with Gregg McClintock, senior at college. She then returns to college and has Vivian Drake as a room mate. Vivian's love affair with Sherry wanes. Vivian disappears and sends suicide note.

Now Go On

He looked at her face, which was a little pinched, and at the dark circles under her eyes. Her studying through long, late hours took its toll.

"Do you want to face 10 or 12 more years of relentless grind, sacrificing everything in the meantime, practically put out of the picture the hope of a home, love, children? Have you gift enough to warrant the one-sided thwarted life you'd be compelled to lead? Unless a woman is a topnotch genius, should she accept that barren emotional outlook?"

"There are some good women doctors in town here."

Home, Wife Second

"Some very good ones. Do you suppose they haven't paid? Even a man has to sacrifice greatly if he wants to do real work. A home—even wife and children are and MUST be second."

"But life is cruel to a woman, Dad. We get the worst of it. We even have to die if we love unwisely and too well!"

"You also get the best of it—a much richer emotional experience; an intimate contact with the big life pulse. A woman is more woven into the rhythm of evolution."

"I know what you're saying, big boy. Kidding us along with that old 'intuition' bunk. We can have the feelings, but you'll stand off on the edge in the realm of intellect and speculate as the women and the worms evolute before your eyes.

"But you're right as far as I'm concerned. I don't want love and marriage yet; but I want them before I'm 40. I also want these years of work. I'm going to study ruthlessly so I'll have things to think about when I'm being woven in with the big life-pulse!" She gave her father an impish grin. "Gregg thinks I'm the type who should have a new baby every year."

"Are you falling in love with Gregg?"

"We like each other. We have so many delicious interests in common. We've started a new play. Gregg's got a job on the lake. Wonderful moonlight nights should inspire young genius, don't you think?"

"Rather—but not always to writing a play."

Pippin grinned: "Does a person always know when they're falling in love?"

"You had a definition for it once. Does Gregg seem a god to you?"

Ponders Father's Words

She burst out laughing. "The rubbish of sweet sixteen!"

"That's not sweet sixteen, Pippin. That's woman in love."

"No, that's Helena in love. You're god to her. No man will ever be such to me."

"Until you meet the right one."

Pippin stood before her mirror fighting with a piece of hair which wouldn't stay in place. She was thinking of her father's words; wondering, if indeed, love could be this glorious, complete, enthralling experience; you could be swept off your feet and a man seemed god to you.

It was true. She knew it was true. She wanted it never to happen. It made you defenseless; it rushed you cruelly, tragically like a flood of waters down a black, sharp precipice.

She went over to her desk. The books were stacked high. Underneath, in that little secret drawer, was the diary of her girlhood with all its extravagant dreams locked away. She would never take them out again.

Near the book was a half-opened letter. From Bill. He had transferred to aviation and was now in Pensacola finishing his course. He would have a two months' leave of absence. Coming to San Francisco with a little plane of his own. Would she take the maiden trip with him? She considered the lovely, exciting prospect. Bill was a man now—24. Two years since she had seen him. What would he be like? She remembered things Bill had said and flushed with the sweet, half-forgotten intoxication.

She dallied along with her dressing, nibbling at a dish of fudge and trying vainly to cover a little red spot on her chin, when her young brother, Bruce, burst unceremoniously into the room. He was 13 now, freckled, his ears sticking out, but thoroughly alive and gleeful.

Sends Gregg Note

"Gregg says he'll give you just two minutes to get yourself down stairs. If you're not there he's walking out. Gee, wouldn't it be a kick if he did! Treat 'em rough!"

"Why didn't you tell me he arrived?"

"What do you think I am, my sister's keeper? Besides, you know he's always on time. How many pieces of this fudge can I have?"

"You mean, how many more, don't you?"

Bruce chewed hard, swallowed a huge mouthful: "Yeah, how many more?"

Pippin laughed. She was scratching a note to Gregg—Can't get this darn hair to stay in place. Be down in a minute and a half, darling—.

"Here, hand this to my suitor, and you can have the whole dish."

"Gee, thanks. You're not pretty any more, Pippin, but gosh, you're much nicer than you used to be!"

She looked at him with shock.

"Well, gee, don't you know you'd lost your looks? What do you expect? You're getting old. You're almost twenty!"

He grabbed up the note, the candy, and dashed from the room.

Pippin went over to the mirror and studied her face carefully. Under her eyes were faint lines and deep shadows because she had studied late on examinations for the last two weeks. Her eyes were not dewy; not perhaps as radiantly young as they had been, but she rather liked that undertone of sadness. It gave her a haunting look like Helena's. Suddenly she thought: "I wonder if it's so important to be beautiful?" She had a second staggering insight: "I wonder if it's so important to be anything?"

She wiggled into a soft blue chiffon, thinking with a pang: "Blue becomes the aged."

Gregg Discusses Beauty

They went to the Mark. Between the dances they sipped very slowly at their drinks. Said Pippin: "Bruce tells me I'm not beautiful any more."

"You never were."

Pippin's lips parted in an astonished question when Gregg hastened: "But don't get alarmed. There's probably not a beautiful woman in the whole of San Francisco. I've never seen one. I'm speaking of sheer overpowering beauty, chiseled perfection of line and form. I've never yet seen the woman whom I would say had it in a complete sense."

"My mother is beautiful."

"Your mother is lovely. She probably was incredibly pretty as a girl. She has charm and appeal and loveliness. These are warmer qualities than mere beauty. As for you, you're a pretty chit with rather gorgeous hair and swell eyes. But don't worry. What need has a research mole in a laboratory for beauty?"

"The first thing you know, Mr. Gregory McClintock, you'll have me out of that laboratory and in your arms. Are you ready?"

Gregg gave a quick, pleased chuckle, hunching his shoulder and thrusting out his chin so that his jaw was more prominent than ever. "Come on, pie-face, let's dance."

When the lights went dim, he pulled her close: "You're falling for me, angel! I've not begun to use my high-powered technique . . . but you're falling. Right out of heaven into my arms. It's grand, isn't it?"

When she could manage to look into Gregg's intensely blue eyes, they seemed flushed with emotion. Her heart felt like that.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

If you happen to be one of the wise crew who have turned against spiked heels and can't abide the wide, boxy ones, find a shoe with the new boulevard heel, which is of moderate height and extremely chic. It is a close relative to the Cuban. It is possible to purchase fashionable footwear that provides comfort, gives a foothold, permits perfect balance of the body. When women are properly shod there will be more interest in walking, the perfect exercise to keep legs slim, stomach flat, chest high and splendid.

In nearly all large beauty shops, a special booth is reserved for ladies who are out seeking new faces. You can try on your complexion, see how you like it. There are containers of powder, ranging in color from wild rose to ochre; you pays your money and you takes your choice. Rouge colors range from apricot and peach to raspberry and red apple. To find the exact, flattering combinations of powder, rouge and lipstick is no easy matter, but the operator in charge is qualified to advise. If a woman can't look pretty these days it is just too bad.

BRITISH SUCCESS IN FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR (1759)—DEATH OF HEROIC GENS. WOLFE AND PRIDEAUX

In summer 1759, the French in the Great Lakes regions retreated before the outnumbering forces of advancing British Generalissimo Amherst, who occupied the evacuated Fort Ticonderoga and Crown Point. In July, Fort Niagara had been taken by British Gen. Prideaux's forces, a victory paid for dearly by the commander's death, caused by the bursting of a mortar (above right).

Simultaneously Gen. Wolfe attacked the French at Quebec, valiantly defended by French Gen. Montcalm, who repeatedly repulsed him. Gen. Wolfe finally subdued the citadel after climbing with his men, by a hidden path to Abraham Heights , one mile from it. Both commanders fell mortally wounded (September 13, 1759). A year later, another French stronghold, Montreal, was conquered (September 8, 1760), and with it New France. (U. S. History)

SOLUTIONS—HOMOGENEOUS MOLECULAR MIXTURES OF SUBSTANCES

Solvent is the matter into which one or more other substances—solutes—are dispersed so that molecules of the solutes enter the spaces between the molecules of the solvent, giving together the solution. Solvents and solutes may be liquids, solids or gases. Proportion between solvent and solute (concentration) can be changed within certain limits unlike that of a compound which has fixed proportions of constituents.

Increasing temperature increases generally solubility (chart above). Boiling point of liquid is raised, freezing point lowered by solutes.

Saturated solution remains unchanged in contact with undissolved solute; it is in equilibrium (as many molecules dissolve as precipitate). Higher concentration is supersaturated, lower unsaturated solution.

1 molar solution (1 M) contains the molecular weight in grams (1 mol) of the solute in 1 liter solution. 1 normal solution (1 N) contains the gram equivalent weight of solute (react with 8 grams of oxygen) per liter solution. (Chemistry)

CHARACTERISTICS OF DICOTYLEDONEAE

The greatest number of the familiar flowering plants (Angiospermae) belongs to the class of the dicotyledoneae, including about 120,000 species (elms, buttercups, pitcher plants, roses, beans, flax, cacti, daisies, etc). They have netted-veined leaves, stem with vascular bundles arranged so that wood forms annual rings, flower parts in 4's and 5's; embryo has two cotyledons. (Gen. Science)

MAIMED WORKMAN BECOMES SCULPTOR

An accident took two of a young man's fingers and with it the ability to work at his trade. He was then taught modeling, which he could do without the missing fingers. He is busy and happy again. Rehabilitation by vocational training of the maimed is an important task of society which reduces the number of unfortunates otherwise left to despair and want. (Problems of Democracy)

FIRST PUNIC WAR—REGULUS' RETURN TO CARTHAGE

Expanding Republican Rome divided its subjects into: 1, Cives Romani, (full-fledged citizens); 2, Nomen Latinum (without political franchise); 3, Socii, (allies with varying privileges).

Carthage (near today's Tunis), a mighty trading city and once an ally of Rome, became a jealous rival to expanding Rome. Mainly for possession of Sicily the First Punic War ensued (264-241 B. C.).

A Roman army crossed the Mediterranean Sea, landed at Carthage only to be disastrously defeated, the commander, Regulus, taken prisoner. Sent with ambassadors to entreat Rome for peace, he counseled against it, and returned, as promised, to Carthage facing a torturous death.

Failing in Africa, Rome succeeded after bloody battles on land and sea to take the island Sicily, except the southern corner ruled by Hiero of Syracuse, a firm ally.

The following 23 years Romans spent to complete their expansion in the north to the Alps, over the islands Sardinia and Corsica, and to prepare for the Second Punic War. (World History)

INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION OF FRONT WHEELS

Important development in increased riding comfort and extended life of automobile is the independent, elastic suspension of the front wheels. Eliminating the front axle, each wheel turns on a knuckle, connected to the frame by levers and a coil spring, allowing each wheel to rise and fall independently (knee action). Thus the car, remaining fairly level, is spared from jolts, bucking. Levers connect knuckles to steering gear so turning steering wheel causes response by knuckles and their wheels. (Automobile)

You Cannot Flout The Law

Seems that the law must speed up to handle the present crop of misdemeanors and competitive felonies.

Our courts are bogged to the hubs in judiciary detours.

That's because the lawyer for the defense can toss so many simian wrenches into the legal machinery.

Take the case of a man accused of torturing other people's money.

He is plastered with a porous indictment by the extraordinary jury. So far the picture is as pretty as an angel at a harp.

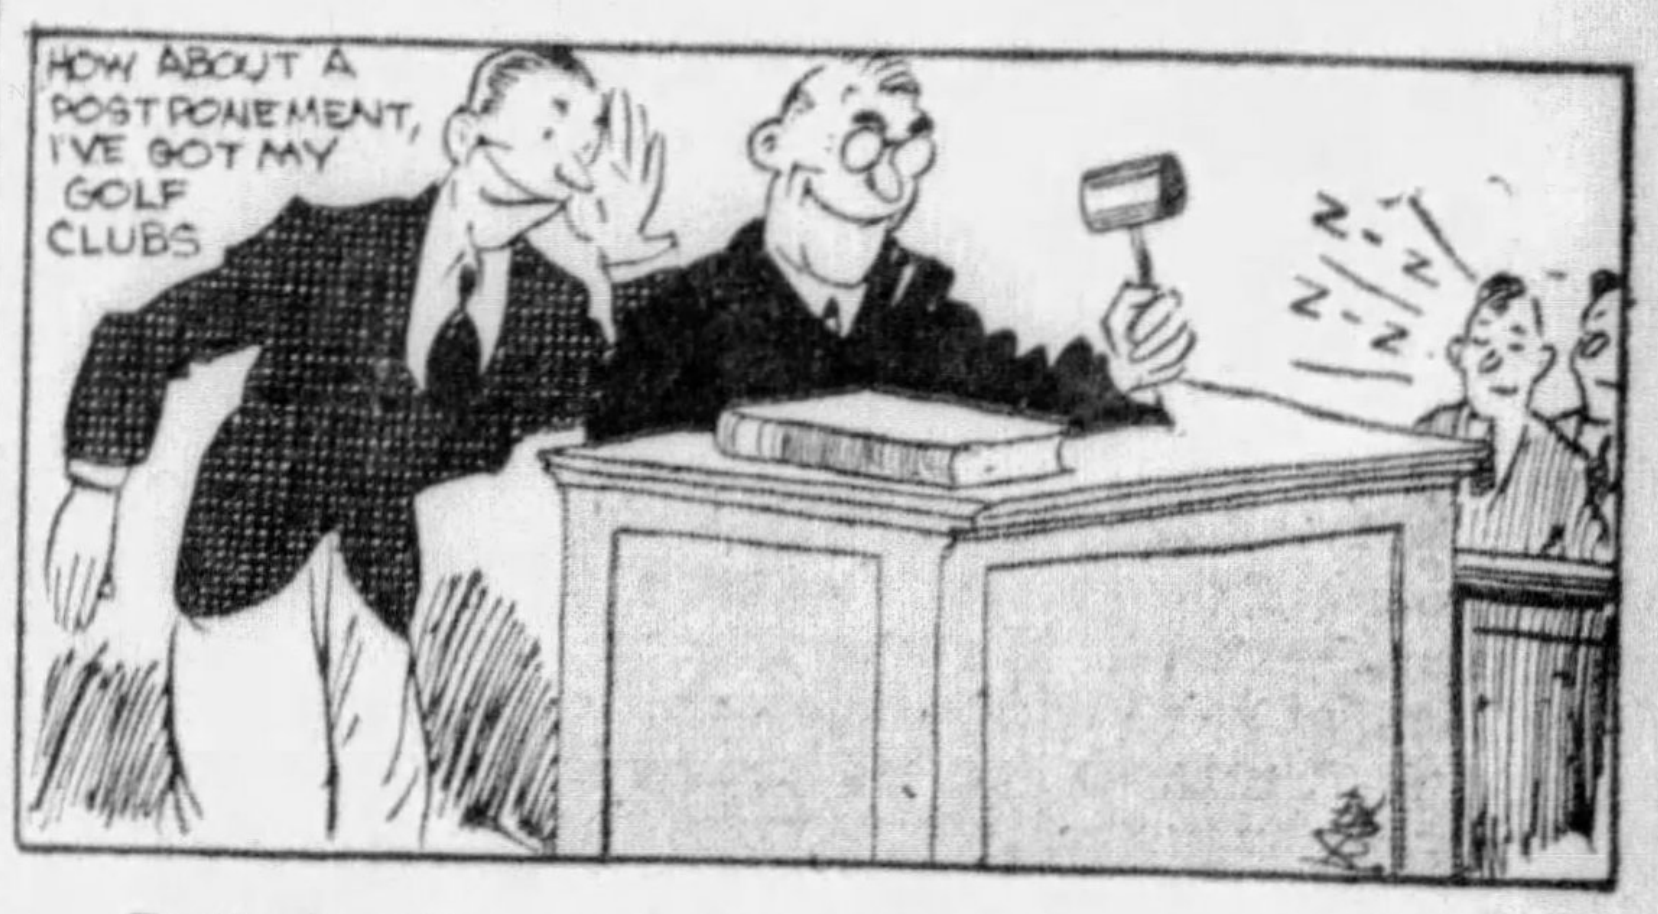
But, his lawyer asks for and gets six postponements. Five for cause. And one because his client sleeps late.

The district attorney feels that his dignity has been not only outraged but outdistanced.

He says, "That mugg can't top me."

So the D. A. asks for six postponements, too. And gets them over the objections of the defendant.

Now, they are even. Then the judge postpones the thing, too. He likes to play golf, also.



HOW ABOUT A POSTPONEMENT, I'VE GOT MY GOLF CLUBS
Z-Z-Z

By the time they are ready to proceed the jury has found other means of support.

So the police go out with writs and collect the jury by muscular persuasion.

That's the strange thing about our law. Only the witnesses are arrested. And only the jury is locked up.

How about the opening speech of the attorney for the defense? Ain't it a pip? This is the way it goes to a frog's hair:

"My client has been detained, oppressed and harassed by the police. This action is unheard of."

The D. A. jumps up and objects.

The judge asks, "What do you object to?"

The D. A. hollers, "Anything he said. I was asleep."

That's good for another postponement, a writ of habeas carcass and freedom on bail that a turtle could jump from a standing start. The defense rests.

Slum Clearance Starts

It Will Be Helpful to Find Out What Becomes of The Dispossessed Families.

A movement towards slum clearance in Pittsburgh is scheduled to start tomorrow, when contractors will begin to raze four dwellings in the Hill District and three in the Twelfth Ward under the direction of the Public Health Department, which has pronounced them unsafe and insanitary.

All legal obstacles in the way of the demolition of 50 houses that the department has condemned have been removed, and it is hoped to demolish 100 slum dwellings.

No provision has been made for the erection of new houses to replace those demolished. Moreover, it is said to be out of the question to erect new houses that can rent for the low sums for which slum dwellings can be obtained. If ousted from the slums, the contention is, people of very low incomes have no alternative but to move into other slums.

Hence it will be helpful in solving this problem to find out what becomes of the people dispossessed from the houses that are about to be razed. We hope that the Pittsburgh Housing Association, or some other appropriate social service agency, will take the trouble to get this information.

Hoarding by Banks

There Is No Longer Excuse for the Excessively Liquid Condition.

Pittsburgh banks are shown by the current statements of their condition to be excessively liquid. They are hoarding money instead of lending it.

This was a wise policy a year or two ago, but is now without justification.

With deposits guaranteed, with the danger of "runs" eliminated, it is no longer necessary to keep on hand an inordinately large amount of cash and government bonds.

Money should be loaned more liberally—on sound security, of course—for business expansion and other legitimate objects.

The banks should "loosen up." To do so will expedite the business recovery and aid the banks themselves, and their stockholders and depositors.

The Duse Memorial

Pittsburgh Is to Pay Homage to a Great Actress Who Died Here.

The originator of the plan for the exercises to be held in the fine arts plaza at the Carnegie Institute of Technology on April 21 in memory of Eleanora Duse deserves credit for an excellent idea.

The famous Italian actress died at the Hotel Schenley 10 years ago, and it is appropriate that the decennial should be observed with memorial services.

There are to be two orations, one in English, the other in Italian, and they are to be broadcast to Italy by a short wave station.

City Council has passed a memorial resolution, which is to be forwarded by diplomatic channels to the Duse family in Italy. This, too, is a graceful gesture.

The whole procedure is commendable. We are paying tribute to a brilliant artist, showing our appreciation of great art, and acknowledging our indebtedness to Italy for the beauty and genius that one of her eminent daughters has given the world.

Inexcusable Vandalism

Candidates Who Violate the Law With Their Advertisements Deserve No Votes.

A law of Pennsylvania enacted in 1903 prohibits the placing of any advertisements, except authorized legal notices, on public property. And it is, of course, illegal also to trespass on private property and erect advertising signs without the owners' consent.

Yet notwithstanding the illegality, advertising placards of at least one of the candidates who are soliciting votes in the May primary election have been tacked up on trees alongside highways.

This is inexcusable vandalism. Ignorance of the law cannot be pleaded by anyone who thinks he has sufficient education and intelligence to serve the people in public office. The Civic Club of Allegheny County and the newspapers have been informing the public during every campaign for years that it is forbidden to put up political placards on public property or on private property without the owners' consent.

Most of the candidates in recent years have shown a disposition to obey the law. They should not be placed at a disadvantage by those who break it.

Candidates who erect illegal signs deserve no votes.

A Great Swedish-American

The Plan to Erect a Monument to John Morton Should Interest All Pennsylvanians.

Americans of Swedish ancestry have started a movement to erect a monument to a great American of their own race who was born in Pennsylvania—John Morton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The movement has progressed so far that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Greta Garbo are being mentioned as likely to be asked to serve on the monument commission.

We hope that the plan will be carried through. It would be gratifying to see honor done a representative of the original European settlers in Pennsylvania. The Swedes were here long before William Penn and the English, and it is regrettable that this fact is so frequently overlooked or under-emphasized in the teaching of Pennsylvania history. Morton, born in Ridley, Pa., in 1732, was of the original Swedish stock. His family changed its Swedish name to "Morton."

Morton deserves to be honored not only as a great representative of our early Swedish settlers but because there is some reason to believe that if it had not been for him the Declaration of Independence might not have been adopted. Other members of the Continental Congress hesitated to sign until he boldly placed his own name on the parchment.

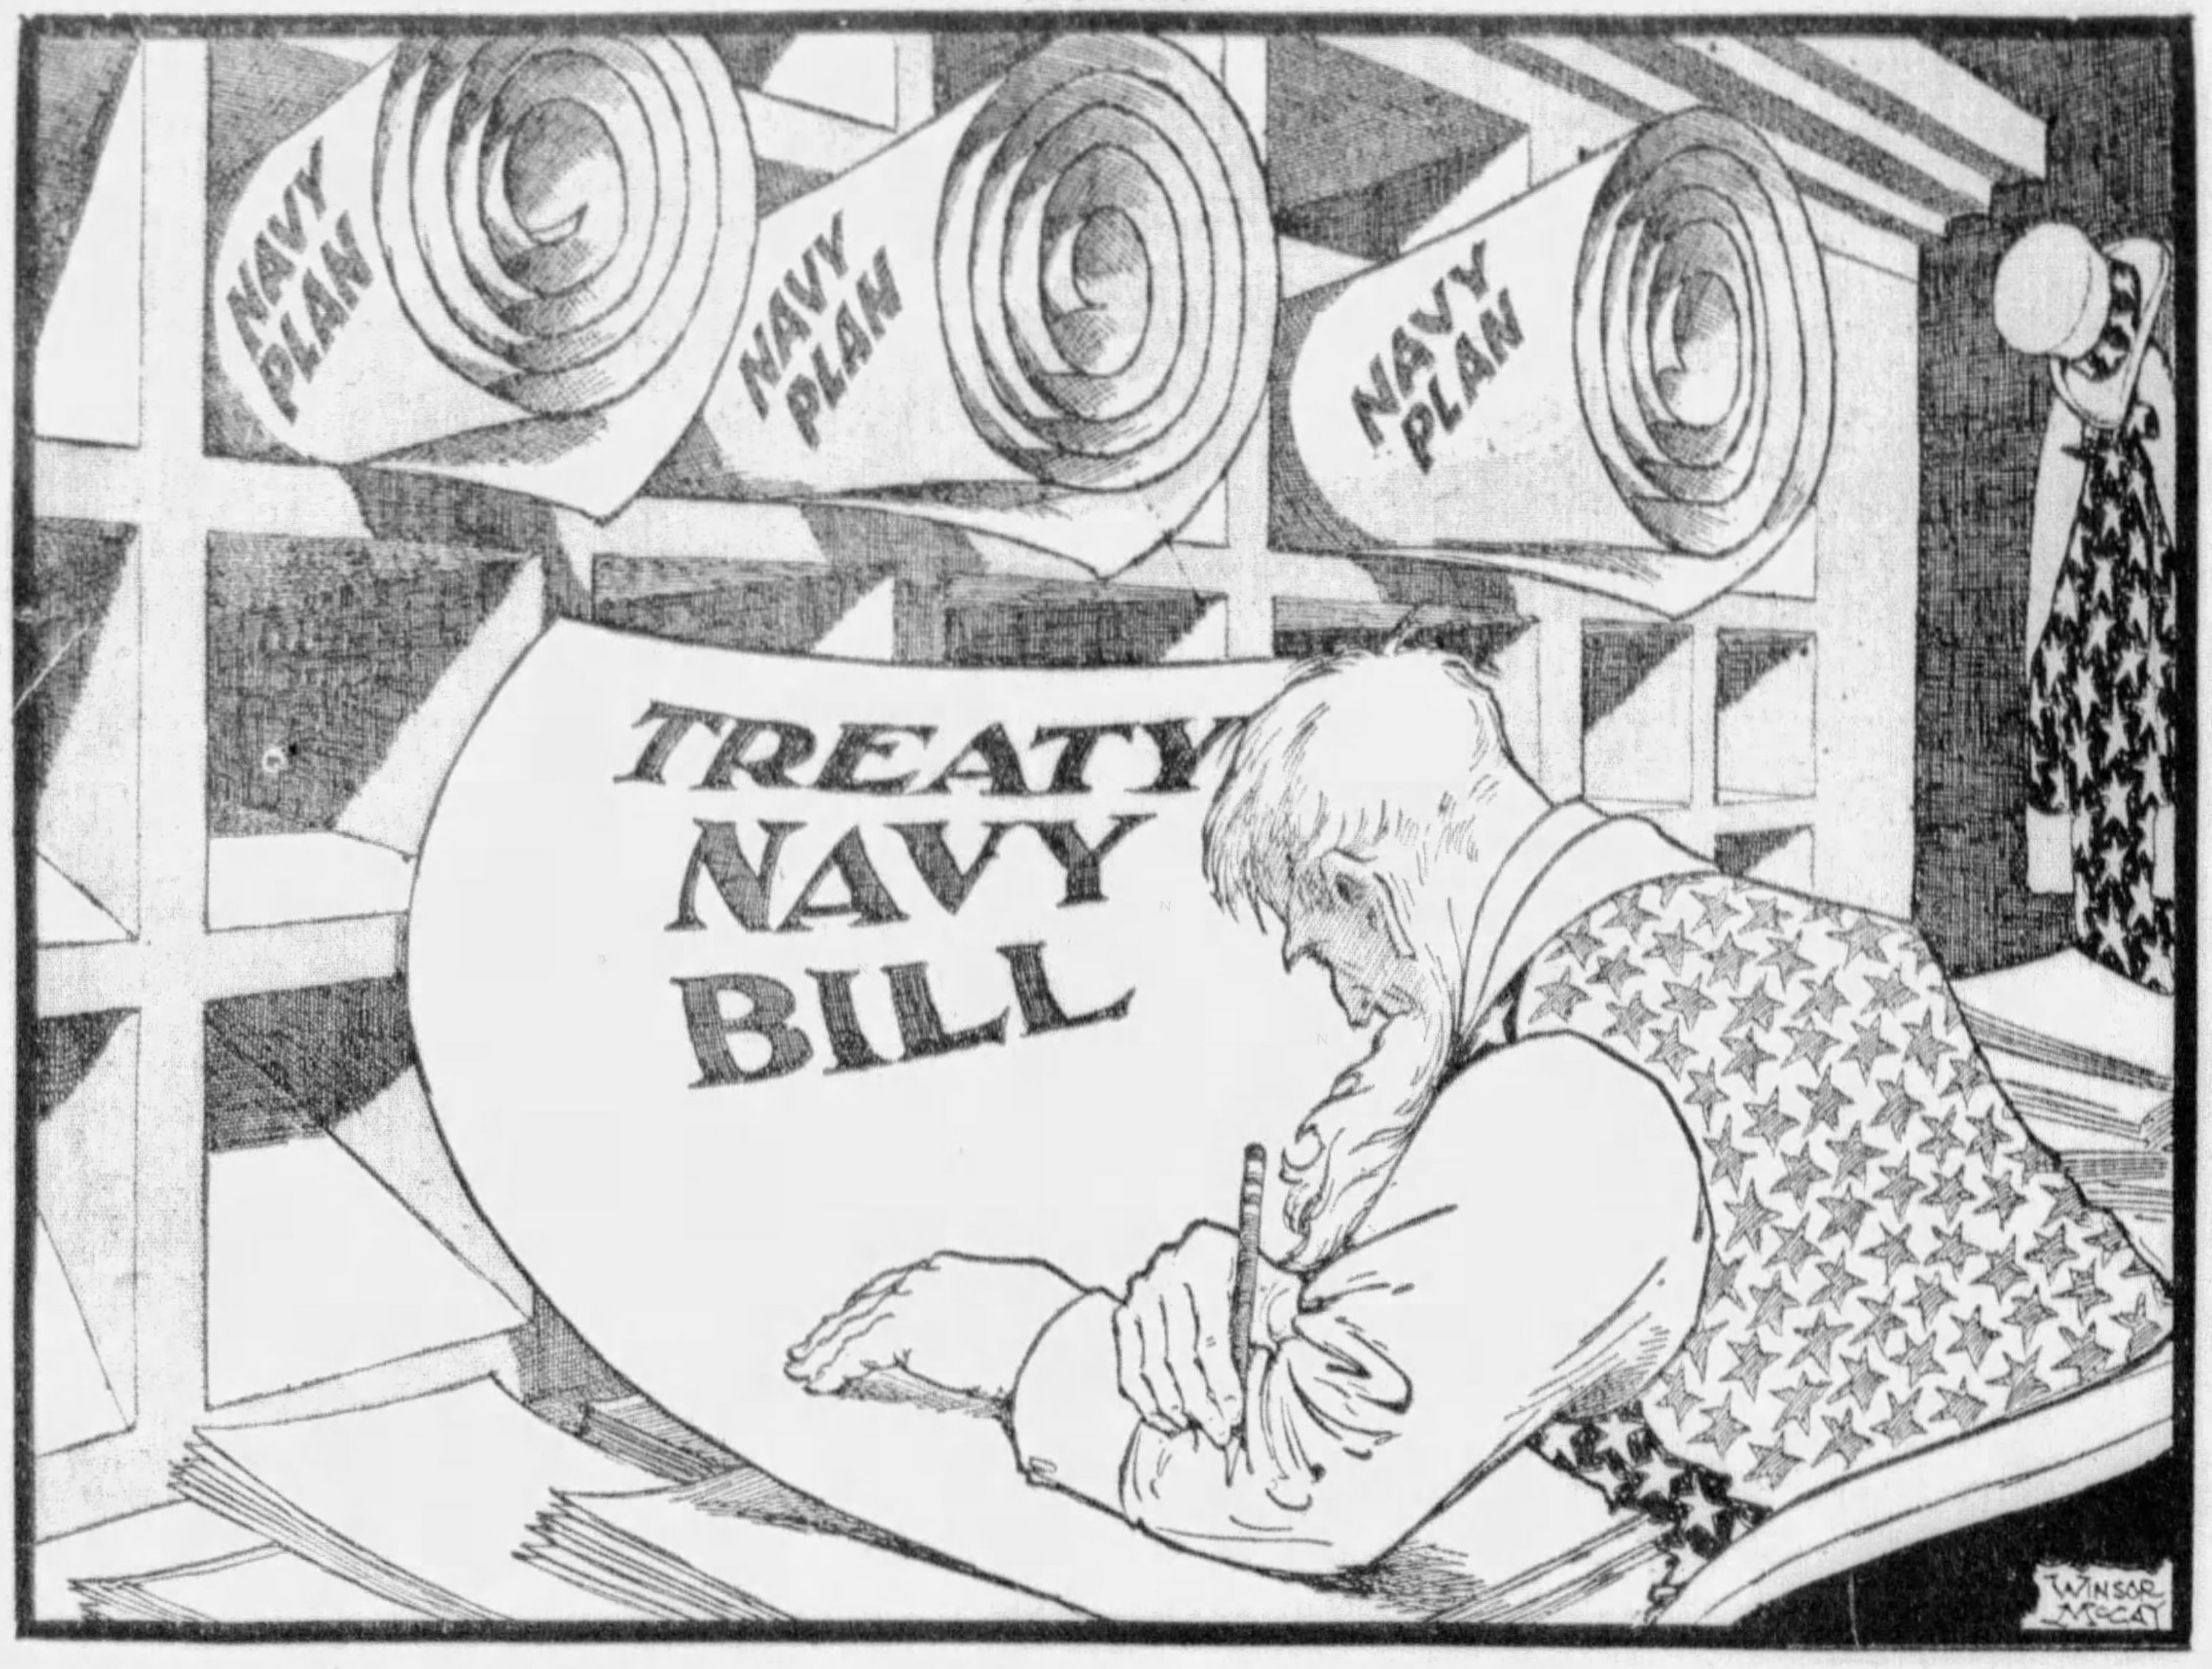
Don't Pigeon-Hole It, Uncle!

(Copyright, 1934.)



When President Roosevelt approved the Vinson-Trammell Treaty Navy Bill Representative Vinson, one of the co-authors of the measure, said:

"This Act is not a mere piece of paper. IT MEANS REAL FIGHTING SHIPS. We will provide the money this session to start work on part of the vessels authorized."

Note the language. The Vinson-Trammell Act authorizes construction of 102 ships, the total necessary to bring the American Navy up to treaty strength.

But the authorization will be WORTHLESS unless APPROPRIATIONS are made for actual construction.

As soon as the authorization was signed at the White House the Navy asked the Budget Bureau to sanction an allotment of $37,000,000 for the first year's work.

But, it is said, the request will be denied, pending the outcome of ANOTHER DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.

That is exactly the wrong way for the government to proceed.

Disarmament conferences and official neglect in the past have IMPAIRED the Navy TO THE POINT OF NATIONAL DANGER.

Congress, in passing the Vinson-Trammell Bill, plainly meant to RESTORE the Navy FOR THE SAKE OF NATIONAL SECURITY.

AND THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WANT THE NAVY BUILT UP TO TREATY STRENGTH.

With huge sums of public money being lavished on all kinds of projects, and much of it being wasted, the government can do nothing better toward making employment and stimulating private industry than to spend the necessary money on the Navy.

Too many wise and necessary naval plans have been pigeon-holed by previous Administrations.

This plan MUST NOT BE PIGEON-HOLED in defiance of the will of Congress and of the patriotic citizenship of the nation.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 6.—Thoughts while strolling: Debbies and their boy friends at nonetime. Sliding down life's banister. I'd rather hear Gladys Swarthout sing than Lily Pons. Corey Ford is turning out grand fiction these days. The new English stage star toast. Gladys Cooper.

One word description of Zasu Pitts—dazed. A grand gesture of David Warfield. Writing a note of high praise to Clark Gable for his acting. I haven't felt like working since that cold snap. Maybe it froze up all the juices. That intrigues me—glass book ends with live goldfish.

Eddie Peabody is remindful of Raymond Hitchcock. Especially that forelock. Whatever became of Morton Downey? The disembodied pensiveness of Doris Kenyon. And how quickly she melts into radiation! No champion has ever kept his poise like Gene Tunney.

One of my favorite people—Jay Jerome Williams. Those priests walking across St. Patrick's lawn at sundown deserve the pencil of Leonardo. The ugly rumors of war. Spring Byington and Christie McDonald look alike. Good to see honest dramshops again. Speaks made all feel sneaky.

Nobody can look so pompous as Montague Love. Nor is there any other actor more democratic. Autograph hunters are thining. Suggestion: Why not let George Jean Nathan and William Lyon Phelps swap critical viewpoints for a season? They say obesity isn't caused by glands anymore. Now it's the palate, heigh ho!

* * *

Jack Pearl, the coldest day of the winter, was waiting in his limousine in front of Charles' for his wife. He was rosily cosy in a fur greatcoat and the spread of a monogramed lap-robe. A derelict, blue from the cold and overcoatless, shuffled around the corner, peered in and opened the door. Pearl instinctively reached for a coin. But the bum rasped:

"I hope you're warm, you such and such!" And slammed the door.

* * *

In a toss of New York's celebrities the other night I was, as a recording journalist, cornered with Jack Pearl and Joe Weber. Weber is likely the oldest living exploiter of the Dutch dialect and Pearl most successful of the moderns. Each has great admiration for the other. But what impressed me was their size. On the stage Weber is beefy and, with his enormous false front, roly-poly, off stage he would not weigh 100 pounds. Pearl is only an inch or so taller, and not much heavier.

* * *

Always surprising how the magic of the stage creates illusion of size and weight. Douglas Fairbanks, a fly-weight, is a conspicuous example. In romantic roles he appears an Adonis. Al Jolson is several degrees slighter off stage than on. The only actor I know who looks his giant stature on and off is DeWolf Hopper. And his voice is equally booming in the same fashion.

* * *

Dashiel Hammett, silver fox of the mystery yarn, was called to Hollywood studios shortly after his sudden fame. After loitering a few weeks, he was called in and shown the most recent film of quite a hammy star. And told to turn out a script for him. Several days later he sent in the opening scene of the synopsis. It showed an undertaking parlor, and in the dim light was a coffin. A slow moving close-up, the figure in the coffin revealed the hammy star. Then workers came in and began hammering down the lid. There was more to come, but Hammett left the plot right there. And came on back to New York.

* * *

E. Phillips Oppenheim, another grand mystery plotter, has just finished his all-glass studio separate from his home at Cagnes, an hour's ride along the Corniche road from Monte Carlo. It overlooks the blue of the Mediterranean he loves. When Oppenheim is stuck in a story he plays a round of golf or goes to the Casino to place a few bets. And comes back refreshed.

* * *

The best of the japes about the mussy bank scandals came from a subhead in Variety when a certain banker was being grilled in Washington. It read: "The Uncovered Wiggin!"

From a theatrical program description of first nighters: McIntyre often arrives looking rather regal."

MARRY-GO-ROUND

By Helen Rowland

Wits Are Born Not Made

In view of some of the advice which is handed out to college students, it's lucky that they don't take their elders very seriously and are not inclined to be impressionable.

* * *

A short time ago, the students of an Eastern University were advised by a lecturer to be "FUNNY" at all costs, if they wished to be loved. "We do not fall in love with a person because he or she is beautiful or brilliant, but because he or she is FUNNY," he is quoted as saying.

HERE'S TH GAG - YOU SAY TO ME JOE HOW - ETC
1935

According to that, Ed Wynn and Eddie Cantor must receive twice as many proposals of marriage and passionate fan-letters as Clarke Gable. And Slim Summerville must have caused twice as many bleeding hearts as John Barrymore or Leslie Howard. And Garbo could never inspire so many thrills as Polly Moran!

* * *

Oh, no! The gift of wit DOES get you a lot; but it seldom gets you much in the love-market!

* * *

Of course, everybody warms to a cheerful disposition and seeks the person who is jolly good company. But WIT is something else. WITS, like poets, are born—and cannot be made. And nothing is so painful to a normal man or woman as the deadly efforts of an amateur "humorist." No girl can admire a man who makes a clown of himself by struggling to be perpetually funny when the Lord didn't make him that way.

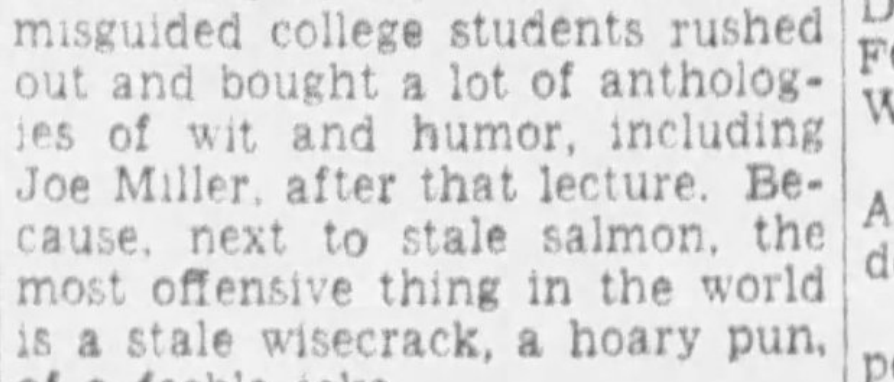
Wit, like blue eyes, or brown eyes, or a singing voice, is a GIFT! And, if you weren't born with the gift, you just waste time and make yourself absurd trying to acquire it.

* * *

If a woman is born with the gift of wit, her only chance of happiness is to get it out of her system by writing, or acting, or drawing cartoons. Among men, it is simply a knife with which she cuts her own throat. No man can BEAR a woman who is "funny" at his expense; and if she's funny at some other one else's expense, he sizes her up as "catty." A woman's wit may win her money, fame and a swell job; but if she wants to be loved, she'd better keep it dark.

* * *

It would be too bad if all those misguided college students rushed out and bought a lot of anthologies of wit and humor, including Joe Miller, after that lecture. Because, next to stale salmon, the most offensive thing in the world is a stale wisecrack, a hoary pun, of a feeble joke.



-AND DON'T GET FUNNY AT MY EXPENSE

It is a pity that one our colleges should be threatening to establish a course in "Humour," just as we thought that the CLOWNING decade was over—and that the amateur "wits" had been extinguished forever! If the colleges DO turn out a whole generation of jolly little jokers, then women will be simply wailing for a few strong, SILENT MEN!

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

Should Mothers Be Treated Regular?

How should young folks treat old folks?

What's a good son . . . a good daughter?

"Has a working girl of 21 a right to have and express her own opinions? Or should she agree with everything her mother thinks and says, even though that mother has had no experience with our modern American world?" And is she "an impudent, ungrateful young smart-aleck" if she doesn't?

Amy's asking. It's Amy's dad who is handing down the uncomplimentary verdict. And the red hot pros and cons of that argument are being echoed in thousands of homes where rebellious youngsters are clashing with insulted oldsters who "can't understand what's come over this outrageous, disrespectful younger generation."

But IS it necessarily an "outrageous" generation because it won't accept, without question, all parental notions, prejudices and dictums, no matter how cockeyed they may be?

Whereupon, at least 193,458 Peeved Papas and Mad Mammas will indignantly demand to know what I mean by "cockeyed?" How dare I apply such a word to a dear, loving mother . . . a devoted, hard-working father?

But why not? Is a mother's love or a father's devotion any guarantee of their intelligence? Is a mother equipped to solve the problems of a working girl's life if she, herself, has never worked a day outside the home, has made no effort to keep up with current topics . . . is, in point of worldly experience, as ignorant as her own 6-month-old baby?

Why shouldn't such a mother's notions be cockeyed? How can they help but be?

"But her daughter should love, respect and be grateful for all she's done for her!"

She certainly should. But must she prove that love and respect by meekly submitting to unreasonable orders . . . by pretending to admire opinions which are obviously absurd?

CANNOT SHE BE LOVING, RESPECTFUL AND GRATEFUL AND YET TREAT MOTHER AS A HUMAN BEING . . . DISCUSSING, ARGUING, EVEN DIFFERING WITH HER AS SHE WOULD WITH ANY OTHER PERSON?

ISN'T SUCH FRANKNESS—PROVIDED IT BE GOOD NATURED—A GREATER PROOF OF LOVE, A MORE SINCERE SIGN OF RESPECT THAN FALSE FLATTERY, RESENTFUL COMPLIANCE?

AND SHOULDN'T A REAL MOTHER DESIRE IT?

Again, it's Amy talking: "I believe in the Fourth Commandment," she says, "but I don't believe in blind obedience. I believe that a child, especially a grown one, has a right to his own opinions, his own likes and dislikes, and that fair parents ought to recognize that right."

But to Amy's dad, these words are blasphemy.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself, talking that way to your mother!" he thunders. "Whatever she says ought to be holy to you—like a prayer. You ought to try to agree with her always; and even if you can't, you shouldn't say so!"

But Amy cries, "I'm not a hypocrite. I love Mamma, but I won't pretend to agree with anyone when I don't, and why should she expect me to?"

"YOU WOULD IF YOU WERE A GOOD DAUGHTER," dad answers. "NO GOOD DAUGHTER WOULD HURT HER MOTHER'S FEELINGS, NO MATTER OVER WHAT. YOU THINK JUST BECAUSE YOU'RE TWENTY-ONE AND EARNING A FEW DOLLARS, YOU'RE TOO SMART FOR YOUR POOR OLD MOTHER WHO SLAVED FOR YOU."

Whereupon mother sniffles. And Amy blazes. And dad thunders on and on.

So what? Are or aren't mothers people . . . and should or shouldn't they be "treated regular"? And is the daughter who treats her mother that way a real friend—or an unnatural monster?

Taxpayers of U. S. Fleeced By County Governments

By James T. Williams, Jr.

County government is the dark continent of American politics.—Prof. Monro.

ALL over this country today the people are being fleeced by their politicians to pay for the upkeep of an out-of-date system of county government.

That the people are getting weary of this burden seems to be clear from a recent survey. This survey shows that the demand for the modernizing of our system of county government, by abolishing the county unit in metropolitan areas and by consolidating counties in other areas, is growing in state after state.

Its growth is due to a number of factors. The depression has made the people tax-conscious. Many counties have lost population to the cities and towns. Inability to pay taxes has increased the tax burden in rural sections.

And the more the people are compelled by circumstances beyond their control to study the problem, the more clearly they see the need for bringing the whole system of county government up to date.

* * *

Why So Many Are No Longer Needed

THE reasons why so many counties are no longer necessary have been clearly given by Professor Thomas H. Reed, of the University of Michigan. This authority in an article widely circulated by a magazine devoted to problems of state government says:

"Modern means of transportation have made obsolete the traditional areas of local government, city, county, township, school district—all once were areas practically adapted to the needs of government.

"The size of the school district was determined by the ability of small children to wade through mud and snowbanks. The town or township represented a convenient area for adult neighborhood relationships.

"The county — the unit through which the state provides for elections, highways, justice and for the assessment and collection—was so laid out that a farmer could drive in a buggy or buckboard from farm to courthouse and return between morning and evening chores.

"The city was a compact built-up area in which the services required by an urban population could be readily supplied."

Had the people tackled this vital problem of county and local government in the years following the Great War, they could have forced their legislatures to take the lead before the depression came in modernizing these units of government within the several states.

Had the women voters celebrated their enfranchisement by concentrating their efforts upon the modernizing of county government, they could have been the decisive factor in the solution of this problem years ago.

But alien propagandists and their domestic dupes have diverted the attention of millions of Americans in the years since the Great War to Old World politics.

As a result the neighborhood problems of county and local government have been neglected in state after state, while organizations were being formed for the purpose of tempting the American people to meddle in the political quarrels of other nations.

Domestic Problems Now Claim Attention

WITH the coming of the depression, however, there has come also a new concentration on the political problems of our country.

The necessity of finding money to pay increasing taxes is opening the eyes of the people in state after state to the opportunity and the challenge which Mr. Roosevelt vividly outlined soon after his election to the presidency, in these words:

"We have a system of county government whose general form and structure is no more fit for its purpose than an oxcart would be for the task of supplying modern transportation between New York and Chicago."

Mr. Roosevelt was speaking at the time of county government in the State of New York, but he added this admonition, regarding the same problem in other states:

"Other states are hampered and harassed in the conduct of their affairs of government by the same or similar archaic expensive and wasteful forms of local government."

And the more the people are hampered and harassed by this obsolete system the more emphatic will grow their demand that the yoke of oxcart government be lifted from their necks.

Human Side of the News

The Story of Harry Gordon Selfridge, American-Born Proprietor of a Big London Store

By Edwin C. Hill

A BURGLAR in London goes to the mansion of the great merchant, Harry Gordon Selfridge, climbs to the roof, falls and nearly breaks his neck. After which, jail and a long term in prison. More luck for the Wisconsin boy who left Marshall Field's in Chicago, and had the nerve, this small energetic man, to open a department store in London.

As we are told by Fortune, that ornate and imposing periodical, Selfridge had the gall to attempt to teach a nation of shopkeepers how to keep shop, pretty much like trying to teach your grandmother to milk ducks. But over he went and spent a hundred thousand dollars in two weeks advertising, gayly kicking over some of the most sacrosanct traditions of the London shopkeepers.

Revolutionized English Customs

BEFORE Selfridge, London merchants hired floorwalkers whose job it was to ease people who didn't buy out of their stores. The idea of providing libraries and restaurants and lounges just for people who came in to look around was an unheard of thing — like making a face at the king. Selfridge invited people to come to his store, look about as much as they pleased and stay as long as they liked, whether they bought a shilling's worth or not.

The London shopkeepers paid their help the staggering sum of twenty to forty pounds a year, a hundred to two hundred dollars. Selfridge paid them decent living wages, and there were twelve hundred on his payroll. He was thoroughly an outsider, an intruding Yankee. He was snubbed and frowned upon. But pretty soon the surprising news began to be whispered about that he had been taken up by people close to the king and the queen, Edward and Alexandra in those days.

The truth was, the men in England who were too highly placed to care a hoot whether an interesting man was a shopkeeper or a snake charmer, had met the Yankee and liked his honesty, intelligence and zest for life. They had become his friends. The little fish swam after the big ones and Harry Gordon Selfridge was on his way. And, today, his roster of close friends is one of the most varied on earth, princes and prizefighters, duchesses and divas, cabinet ministers and golf champions.

He rolled up a great fortune by keeping a first-class store, spent money as if there were never an end to it and married his three daughters to a prince, a count and a viscount. He bought cars before cars were common; flew in planes when planes were merely military machines; first-nighted, entertained, traveled, bought and advertised like Barnum and Bailey and all the Ringling brothers. His son, Gordon, now in his early thirties, an expert airplane pilot and a man of charm and culture, is following in his father's steps and is the active head of Selfridge, Limited.

Scotland Yard's New Mystery

SCOTLAND YARD, whose dingy and historic home rises by the Embankment, not much more than a rifle shot from Selfridge's, has a new mystery on its hands—one that the late Edgar Wallace would have delighted in; one that would have tickled the genius of Mr. Sherlock Holmes. A box of gold bullion was shipped from the famous mines of South Africa to London. There were nine hundred and thirty-five ounces of the magic stuff, and it was worth $32,300.

It was shipped along with exactly similar sealed boxes, all containing more than ten million dollars worth of bright, yellow gold, by the Union Castle liner, "Balmoral Castle." It was locked in the ship's strong room and guarded every minute of the voyage. It was checked and rechecked under the keen eyes of the police at the docks. It was carried to the Bank of England in an armored van, locked by special contrivances.

Yet, when the seals were broken, the box held about nine cents worth of cement and nails, which weighed exactly what the gold would have weighed—if the gold had been there. And if that isn't a mystery for some modern Sherlock Holmes, this writer doesn't know a mystery when he looks it in the cryptic eye.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

Among the most unpopular and irritating persons are those who seem determined to have attention directed their way.

It matters not what sort of a gathering they attend, they manage in some way to have themselves noticed.

Even in discussions, at their places of employment, they inject themselves into every conversation even though the matter under discussion has nothing to do with the department in which they work.

In public discussions they have something to say, whether they know anything about the subject or not.

They are the sort who heckle public speakers in an effort to display what they believe to be their brightness.

Usually men of this stamp are far from being bright and intelligent.

They have a smattering of information which they delight to present.

Well-informed men keep in the background as much as possible and present their views only when there is an urgent demand for them.

The so-called "ready talker" may have what is called the "gift of gab," but of logic he has a very meager supply.
